Special Agent JOSEPH E. SPIVEY, of this office, and his wife spent the weekend of February 19 and 20, 1949 with a Mrs. FAYE THOMASON, 2755 Macomb Street, N.W., Washington, D. C., who is employed as a receptionist with the law firm of Covington, Burling, Rublee, Acheson & Short, 701 Union Trust Building, Washington, D. C.

During the course of this visit Mrs. THOMASON mentioned the "Hiss spy trial" on two occasions, indicating the curiosity of the public in the trial and also indicating that it is something that is discussed very cautiously in Washington. She also mentioned that DONALD HISS is a member of the law firm of Covington, Burling, Rublee, Acheson & Short.

Agent SPIVEY has been well acquainted with Mrs. THOMASON for a number of years, but due to the fact that she is an employee of Secretary of State DEAN ACHESON, as well as DONALD HISS, he did not question her as to her knowledge of the case or to the degree of her acquaintance with DONALD HISS. Mrs. THOMASON is expected to visit in the SPIVEY home within the next three weeks but she will not be questioned regarding DONALD HISS unless the Bureau desires that this be done.

Dear Sir:

Re Washington Field teletype February 17, 1949, requesting photostatic copies of all material in personnel file of ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN, formerly employed at Railroad Retirement Board, and information regarding appointment, employment, references, addresses, identity of fellow employees and identity of supervisors.

On February 21, 1949, EUGENE MARTIN, assistant Personnel Officer, Railroad Retirement Board, Chicago, made available photostatic copies of all documents in the personnel file of ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN, who was employed by the Board as Chief Economist from March 13, 1936 to August 16, 1939, and as Director of Research from the latter date until March 29, 1942, when he was transferred to the Army Air Forces, War Department. Approval for the release of these photostats was obtained by Special Agent WESLEY A. ANDERSON from HARRY SASSAMAN, Acting Secretary to the Railroad Retirement Board, who cleared the matter with two of the three members of the Board. Photostats of SILVERMAN's entire file, consisting of eighty-one pages, are enclosed herewith, with a copy of this letter for Washington Field. It should be noted that pages fifty-seven and fifty-eight appear on the same photostat as do pages seventy-four and seventy-five and that two copies of each of these are enclosed inasmuch as some information appeared under a flap on the original page which was turned back to prepare the second photostat.

In addition Mr. MARTIN advised that it appeared that SILVERMAN worked directly under the supervision of the three members of the RRB who at the time of his employment were MURRAY W. LATIMER, Chairman, L. M. EDDY and MERLE R. REED.

MURRAY W. LATIMER, 2911 Albemarle Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Railroad, Room 1607, Broad Street Station Building, 1617
Pennsylvania Boulevard, Philadelphia 4, Pennsylvania.

Mr. SASSAMAN checked the files in the Executive Office of the Board Members of the RRB and was unable to locate any information concerning how Mr. SILVERMAN originally made his application with the Board or whether his employment was promoted by any particular person. He was able to locate the Minutes of the Board Meeting of February 4, 1936 at which SILVERMAN's appointment was approved.

Mr. MARTIN advised that the following persons were employed with SILVERMAN at the RRB.

HERMAN H. BARTIMER, Actuary, 1405 Gerard Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., appointed April 4, 1936, transferred to War Department May 3, 1942.

MAX A. BERSHAD, Actuary, 933 Randolph Street, N. W., Washington, D.C., appointed September 25, 1937, transferred to War Production Board, June 7, 1942.

JOSEPH MUSHNER, Belmont Plaza Hotel, Chicago, Illinois. MUSHNER was appointed in classification CAF-4 March 23, 1936 and presently is employed by the RRB with a rating of P-7.

MARGARET GREENFIELD, Chief of Reports and Information Service, 1010 25th Street, N.W., Washington, D. C., appointed April 11, 1936, transferred to OPA May 24, 1942.

It should be noted that information concerning JOSEPH M. GILLMAN and MARGARET GREENFIELD was previously reported in this case in connection with the employment of CHAMBERS by the WPA at which time he was assigned to the RRB; GILLMAN and GREENFIELD functioned in supervisory capacities as RRB employees assigned to the WPA project.

With respect to other persons listed above, who have left the RRB, it is believed that most of them transferred to other departments at the time the RRB moved its headquarters to Chicago.

V. PAUL CARNEY, Chief Personnel Officer, RRB, from 1937 until 1948, and an employee in the Legal Department of the RRB since the latter year, advised that although SILVERMAN became an employee of the Board in 1936 he believed that SILVERMAN was hired at the instigation of MURRAY W. LATIMER, Chairman. Mr. CARNEY stated this was an opinion and not based on any facts. CARNEY also stated that he believed SILVERMAN, to the best of his recollection, was particularly anxious to obtain the services of CLEMENT WINSTON as an employee of the Board at the time the latter was hired but CARNEY could not recall the exact circumstances. He could not recall which other persons were brought into the RRB at the instigation of SILVERMAN. However, he suggested the following persons as being most likely to be able to furnish pertinent information concerning SILVERMAN:

ESTHER F. SWYDER
JOSEPH J. SENTURIA
CLEMENT WINSTON
EDWIN M. FITCH
JOSEPH M. GILLMAN

DIRECTOR, FBI

RE: JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS

JOSEPH B. GLENN.

Mr. CARNEY also suggested that ALDO RAFFA, who was Assistant to the Board Chairman, until about 1942, might be able to furnish pertinent information. RAFFA's personnel file reflected he resided 802 Garfield, Bethesda, Maryland and was employed by the RRB from August 15, 1938, until February 15, 1942, at which time he transferred to the Office for Emergency Management.

It should be noted that GLENN was discharged with prejudice. On February 18, 1948 he addressed a letter to the RRB requesting that his case be reconsidered to the extent that the record be changed concerning the reason for his discharge because he believed additional facts were now available to the Board. The Board, in a letter to him, declined to reconsider his case.

Mr. CARNEY commented that GLENN was discharged by SILVERMAN.

Mr. CARNEY requested that any information furnished by him be retained in extreme confidence and that his identity not be disclosed to any one outside the Bureau.

With respect to EDWIN M. FITCH, HARRY SASSAMAN, Acting Secretary, RRB, advised that during 1937 or 1938, while he was in Washington and an employee of the Board, he was invited by FITCH, who worked in a different department, to the latter's home for the purpose of listening to short wave radio broadcasts from foreign countries. SASSAMAN along with a group of persons went to FITCH's home one evening at which time FITCH unsuccessfully attempted to tune in a broadcast from Spain. SASSAMAN pointed out that this was during the period of the Spanish Civil War. During the evening FITCH brought up this war and attempted to have persons present organize parties and other events for the purpose of raising funds for the Loyalists. SASSAMAN felt that FITCH had tricked him and other persons present and informed FITCH that he was not interested.

Copies of this letter are being furnished to Miami and Philadelphia for their use in the event that interviews with MERLE R. REED and L. M. EDDY are desired.

Unless advised to the contrary the Chicago Office contemplates no further interviews with persons listed in this letter.

PERJURY; ESPIONAGE - R. INTERNAL SECURITY - R.

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent John C. Welch, Little Rock, Arkansas, dated February 18, 1949, in the above-captioned matter. Particular reference is made to paragraph one, page two, wherein it is stated that the name Breen is an alias of Alger Hiss. Inasmuch as this is a misstatement and Breen is an alias of Whittaker Chambers, the offices receiving copies of this letter should substitute the name Whittaker Chambers for Alger Hiss in this paragraph. The Bureau's copies of the report are being corrected at the Seat of Government.

Specimens:

K651 A ten-page signed statement dated December 4, 1948 at Baltimore, Maryland, bearing the known signature of ALGER HISS.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

From a study of the ALGER HISS signature appearing on specimen K651, a definite conclusion could not be reached as to whether the person writing that signature wrote the HISS signature on K40 or the HISS signatures appearing on specimens K340 through K342 due to the fact there are variations in the signature K651 from other signatures of HISS which are possibly due to the elapsed time between the writing of K40, K340 through K342 and the signature of HISS appearing on specimen K651. K40 was written in 1933 and K340 through K342 were written in 1936. K651 was written in the latter part of 1948.

Specimen K651 will be returned to the New York Office as soon as photographic copies have been made for the completion of the Laboratory's files.

Re: ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN

Rebulet February 3, 1949 and Chicago letter to Director, February 23, 1949, copies to Miami, Philadelphia, New York and Washington Field Offices.

ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN, formerly employed by the Railroad Retirement Board, Washington, D. C., from March 16, 1936 to March 26, 1942, at which time he transferred to the Army Air Forces, War Department, as a civilian employee. Information developed by this office reveals that from approximately July, 1941 to March, 1942, SILVERMAN was on non-reimbursable loan to the Division of Monetary Research, U. S. Treasury Department. The Railroad Retirement Board Personnel File of SILVERMAN failed to substantiate this information.

For the information of the Chicago and Miami Offices, it has been requested that a departmentalwide investigation be conducted with regard to ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN and individuals associated with SILVERMAN, during his government employment, be interviewed along lines heretofore following in this investigation.

It has also been brought to the attention of this office that, according to CHAMBERS, during the latter part of December, 1936, or the first part of January, 1937, three Persian rugs were shipped to SILVERMAN in Washington, D. C. from New York City. Thereafter, SILVERMAN delivered one rug to the late HARRY DEXTER WHITE, and subsequently delivered a second rug to ALGER HISS at a prearranged meeting on the outskirts of Washington, D. C. in the vicinity of Maryland University. CHAMBERS advised that SILVERMAN put the rug in his car and drove to the prearranged meeting place, and that he, CHAMBERS, accompanied by ALGER HISS in the latter's automobile, met SILVERMAN where the transfer of the rug from SILVERMAN's car to HISS' car was made.

SILVERMAN has been interviewed on various occasions, and has declined to furnish any information in connection with this case, on advice of counsel.

In the conduct of the following requested interviews, it is suggested that effort should also be made to substantiate the fact that SILVERMAN received three rugs during the first part of January, 1937, and subsequently, transported two of them in his automobile, as alleged by CHAMBERS.

Qc162 Exposed Super XX film pack of the Guest Register from the Mosford Tourist Home, Plymouth, Connecticut.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

The signatures for the year 1937 appearing on the photographs printed from the film pack submitted have been compared with the known writing specimens of ALGER HISS, PRISCILLA HISS and WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. The questioned signatures are not sufficiently comparable with the known handwriting of the above-mentioned three individuals for any definite conclusion to be reached. The entry "Capt. and Mrs. H. T. Smith Washington, D. C." dated "7-16-37" is in the same general style of writing as that used by PRISCILLA HISS. The entry after the date "Sept. 15" which is practically illegible but possibly in the signatures "Mr. and Mrs. GRAHAM NYC" and "Dr. Wm. DOONE NYC" is in the same general style of writing as that employed by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. Other than general styles of writing nothing of particular significance was found.

The submitted film pack is retained in the files of the Laboratory.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

Known handwriting specimens of DAISY FANSLER identical with signature on K-35. Additional typing specimens obtained. JOHN DICKINSON reports that when HISS was interviewed by WILLIAM BULLITT, a trustee of Carnegie Foundation, concerning his affiliations with CHAMBERS, HISS's answers were "not good". Photographs of CHAMBERS and HISS and their wives exhibited to JOSEPH BOUCOT, TOM and MARY MARSHALL, MAUDE SWANSON, Mrs. NORMA BROWN, and long-time residents of New Hope, Pennsylvania, without effecting identification of ALGER or PRISCILLA HISS. Specimens:

K702 A "Power of Attorney by Individual for the Collection of Checks Drawn on the Treasurer of the United States" form, dated July 28, 1938, at Washington, D. C., signed ALGER HISS.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

The handwriting appearing on specimen K702 is not sufficiently comparable by itself for a definite conclusion to be reached as to whether Q1 through Q4 and K702 were or were not written by one individual. It was concluded that the writing on K702 was written by the same person who wrote K340, K341, K342 and K547. By using as a unit any one or more of specimens K340, K341, K342, K547 with K702 then it is possible to conclude that Q1 through Q4 were written by HISS. In the event testimony is desired in regard to this identification it would be highly desirable to have more than one or all of specimens K340, K341, K342, K547 to use with K702 for more effective demonstration.

It was concluded that the ALGER HISS signatures appearing on K702 were written by the person who wrote the ALGER HISS signature on specimen K40.

Rebulet March 4, 1949, calling attention to the allegation of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS that he accompanied Mr. and Mrs. ALGER HISS on a trip in the vicinity of Peterborough, New Hampshire in August, 1937. CHAMBERS recalls that enroute they stopped at Thomaston, Connecticut.

In order to assist in the establishment of HISS' presence in Connecticut and New Hampshire during this period, the Washington Field Office was requested to contact the offices of the larger Gasoline Companies to determine if ALGER HISS or his wife, PRISCILLA, had a gasoline charge account in 1937 or any time thereafter. If such an account were located for 1937, an examination was to be made to determine if HISS purchased gasoline in or near one of the above mentioned towns in Connecticut or New Hampshire during August, 1937.

Investigation at Washington, D. C. reflects that the charge account records are located as follows:

(SAUL WALDEAUM) AND HENRY (REINE)

M. M. _____ arrived in the government. Well, he's in the government. However, he feels - uh, just about this time (of year?) a little later than '37, but I haven't been there for 12 years. I thought that that would be the angle. Now, here's what happened. Last week, an FBI investigator by the name of McCAULEY (ph) in Brooklyn, New York, was around my old neighborhood at 812 50th Street where we haven't lived - the family hasn't lived for a little over two years since my mother died and we sold the house _____ so I haven't lived there for twenty years. See, the address of any government _____ because I kept my legal address there and would vote there by absentee ballot _____. So, he was around there and he asked all the neighbors and they didn't know where we were for my sister had lived there _____ mother died so they knew her and they gave her - gave him her address. He called up there - _____ how the hell I got hold of it and my niece SYLVIA _____ and she didn't know where I lived, but they had a chat _____ coming up awfully worried. I'll tell you why they're awfully worried among other reasons _____. So SYLVIA gave - said well, I don't know. You call my mother and she'll know. Gave him the place of business, so he called my sister _____ she didn't know where I lived. (She didn't want to give it to him?). Call my brother those a lawyer. He'll know. See, so he calls my brother, this is on a Friday he calls my brother and I get a letter dated Saturday _____. This guy called and my brother called him into the office _____ didn't want to give him any information over the phone. All he requested was my address. That's what he requested of all these people so the guy - I called my brother (over the ?) weekend but the hell _____ my brother _____ little worried because he lives right around the corner where this JUDITH COELON lives (lived) _____ right around the corner. The whole neighborhood in a tizzy, thought sure he's worrying. He thinks he's a very smart guy and he is in a certain way, but - well, he'll find out what it's about. After all, it's somewhat like you see a lot of people react. _____ the Federal government called and you just don't even know so this guy and the story goes around. I thought - I trusted _____ my brother - to say anything. Doesn't know where the hell I am or _____ my brother felt he had to give him something so my brother said he'd give him probably the old address _____ well of course they have other guys working _____, but it seems therefore that it would stem from that end of it so the fellow comes in _____. My brother calls me later in the day. He's relieved. He wasn't put _____. Mr. McCauley starts out by stating - You know, there are a lot of crackpots - he looks my brother over, I guess - he says there are a lot of crackpots that always send us letters lists who are people whom they don't like _____. Your brother HENRY's name and his wife JESSICA's name was on this list and it's in connection with espionage and so we have to check on every name - and then he - I guess he then began feeling a little bit relieved because it seems that when the guy hears that JESS and I are separated _____ gave him that much information. He then moves in pretty fast. He says well, it isn't HENRY we're looking for, it really is JESS. He's got a helluva lot of stuff on her. You know she worked for the railroad on the timing force _____. This guy had the background and everything. So HENRY said he didn't say much and he didn't know where JESS was, but _____ separated _____ divorced _____ touch with each other. Well, he doesn't know _____ and that sort of thing. So the guy kept hammering at HENRY of having to relieve HENRY's anxiety that I'm not _____ but that JESSICA is, see so when he called me back he had to take - he started to leave when he called me Monday afternoon. So I expected the guy would be showing up pretty soon _____ Lansdowne address. Once they get _____ Philadelphia even if they didn't know, all they have to do is look in the telephone book and I'm listed under _____. But my impression is that this is started that way _____ and it is in connection with the Grand Jury investigation _____. I did know a hell of a lot of people _____. I never had anything to do with them even (JESS ?). I mean, on a _____, because I got out of the government - even when I was in the government I was only active in the trade unions. You know, I was _____ and had a good job. She was very close to the chairman of the Board, LATIMER (ph) whose _____. He was one of the writers of the original Social Security Board very close (to her ?) and he comes from Texas and he campaigned _____. A good liberal. Good _____ liberal _____ beyond you know and he was very sympathetic to everything we would talk about. So that's it. So this guy called me up today. Well, I told you how _____ so that gives me the impression that that's what it's about. I'm almost positive. I can see a lot of these _____ sooner. The only thing that concerns me is not that I _____ trade union and U.I. They might try to do something about that.

(S. W. Talks on the Telephone)

H. R. So that's the story. Now _____ those circumstances, I don't see why I shouldn't invite this guy to my office and let him know I'm a trade union official (and have very little to say to him ?) I'm not going to give him any names and I don't think I should. I mean, I'll have to say I know my wife _____. He'll ask me _____ do I know so & so, so & so, so & so on so & so. I don't know whether to say no or just hint that I don't think it's _____, that I don't think it has any bearing. All I know is that I'm not involved and I don't care to answer _____. Now look, one of the girls called I saw in the paper was ELEANOR NELSON. She was the secretary-treasurer _____. I'll have to say I know her, I guess. I mean, I don't want to get into that line of (discussion ?) _____ if I can avoid that line of questioning where I have to say that I know these people _____.

S.W. My off-hand inclination _____ if it has any even remote connection with these _____ trials, I would have absolutely nothing to do with it.

H.R. Well, how would I find that out without _____.

S.W. Well, you don't know.

H.R. - without _____ out _____.

S.W. For not as a spy - let's forget the spy - but has anything to do with the so-called underground movement in Washington.

H.R. _____.

S.W. First of all, you ought to know when you get in with a guy like that _____ have a habit of going on, going on. They say something you don't want to say _____ has a right to examine you. Has a right to ask you (anything?) _____ charged with a crime concerning your (wife?) _____.

H.R. _____ figured he'll find out. Figured he'll _____.

S.W. They usually find out what they want too. Other than by (questioning you?) _____ forgotten completely about your Washington background - out of my mind and that's a very different thing. I don't see why you should tell him anything unless _____ H.R. Well, I won't.

S.W. You're already going to get in trouble with him. He is already not going to like it when he says where's your wife and you say I won't tell you. You're practically telling him to go to hell so why don't you tell him to go to hell in the beginning. He's going to ask you if you know these fifteen people. Why should you say yes and why should you say no. The Communists could be tried and somebody who is associated with Communists (could?) be tried. _____ see, I forgot about your Washington background completely and I was remembering the fact that you are, after all, a responsible organizer for a responsible union. Maybe he wants to see you about something that you don't want him (to find out?). Something like that, see? But I think you've (gotta or got'em).

H.R. _____.

S.W. _____ 5:30 _____ that's the way I feel about it Henry.

H.R. All right, so long.

S.W. Do you want me to sign these papers, by the way _____.

W.R. Not yet _____ haven't got them yet.

S.W. Oh.

W.R. _____.

S.W. _____ settlement, so I called them that same day. I'll probably have them Monday. You see as I told you most of the lawyers take this position I just took with you on any kind of a thing. I have differed with them slightly as I told you. I'm pretty clear now. What you should do unless you're very _____.

W.R. Oh no.

S.W. _____ and you may do one other thing, you may say to him does it have anything to do with my work as _____ union official _____ . If so, all right. If not, I have nothing else _____.

W.R. _____.

S.W. _____, don't think he would tell you that?

W.R. Yeah.

S.W. Well, then all right. Then if he doesn't answer yes _____ sorry have nothing further to do with (you ?) _____.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

It was concluded that the original of each of the photographs from the microfilm listed below in the left column and the original of each of the State Department photostats listed opposite were made by one typing run. That is the originals of Qc74 and Kc549 were both typed at one time.

Qc74	Kc549
Qc75	Kc550
Qc77	Kc552
Qc78	Kc553
Qc79	Kc554
Qc80	Kc555
Qc81	Kc556
Qc82	Kc557
Qc83	Kc558
Qc84	Kc559
Qc85	Kc560
Qc86	Kc561
Qc87	Kc562
Qc88	Kc563
Qc89	Kc564
Qc90	Kc565
Qc91	Kc566

It was concluded that the original documents depicted on the photographs made from the microfilms listed below on the left are different documents than the originals of the State Department photostats listed opposite. However, the wording in each photograph is verbatim with its corresponding State Department photostat. For example, the typed wording on specimen Qc76 is verbatim with the typed wording on Kc551 although their originals are two different documents.

Qc76	Kc551
Qc92	Kc567
Qc93	Kc568
Qc94	Kc569

With reference to specimens Qc96 through Qc109, Qc120 through Qc131, Kc570 through Kc583, Kc594 through Kc605, the following observations and conclusions were reached. There are certain marks appearing on most of the microfilm photographs that appear in the same relative positions on corresponding State Department photostats. This in itself indicates the possibility that such microfilm photographs are from the same originals as the corresponding State Department photostats. However, there are also marks appearing on these photographs which are not present on the corresponding photostats and vice versa. This may be due to the different processes involved in making the documents that are in evidence. These differences plus the absence of the original documents for examination prevent a definite conclusion in this respect. However, it can be stated that either the above is true or that the originals of the microfilm photographs and the originals of their corresponding State Department photostats listed below opposite each other came from a common typing run. That is, Qc96 and Kc570 originate from a common original document or that the originals of Qc96 and Kc570 came from a common typing run.

Qc96	Kc570
Qc97	Kc571
Qc98	Kc572
Qc99	Kc573
Qc100	Kc574
Qc101	Kc575
Qc102	Kc576
Qc103	Kc577
Qc104	Kc578
Qc105	Kc579
Qc106	Kc580
Qc107	Kc581
Qc108	Kc582
Qc109	Kc583
Qc120	Kc594
Qc121	Kc595
Qc122	Kc596
Qc123	Kc597
Qc124	Kc598
Qc125	Kc599
Qc126	Kc600
Qc127	Kc601
Qc128	Kc602
Qc129	Kc603
Qc130	Kc604
Qc131	Kc605

With reference to specimens Qc110 through Qc119, Kc584 through Kc593 the following observations and conclusions were reached.

There are certain characteristics appearing in the typewriting on the State Department photostats and the microfilm photographs that indicate the possibility they originate from common stencils. There are also marks appearing on the photographs which are not present on the corresponding photostats and vice versa. This may be due to the different processes involved in making the documents that are at hand. These differences plus the absence of the original documents for examination prevent a definite conclusion in this respect. It can be stated however, that either the above is true or the originals of the microfilm photographs and the originals of their corresponding State Department photostats listed below opposite each other came from a common typing run. That is, the originals of Qc110 and Kc584 were made by one stencil or by the same typing run.

Qc110	Kc584
Qc111	Kc585
Qc112	Kc586
Qc113	Kc587

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

The parts of sentences and diagrams appearing on the microfilm strips A and B which are listed below on the left, appear on the Navy Department documents listed below on the right. For example, parts of the diagram appearing on microfilm strip A10 also appear on K722.

Due to the poor quality of the microfilm strips A and B, a definite conclusion could not be reached as to whether the photographs depicting these films came from the same source as specimens K704 through K728. Many of the microfilm photographs are illegible. Portions of writing and of diagrams depicted on films A and B as listed above in each instance compared favorably with the same portion of the corresponding Bureau of Standards documents as listed above by K number. However, too large a portion of the documents depicted on A and B is illegible to make a definite conclusion possible.

In view of the fact the latent fingerprint process would affect the appearance of the documents, and due to the unlikelihood of developing prints on evidence over eleven years old, K704 through K728 are not being processed for latent fingerprints at this time.

Specimens K704 through K728 are returned herewith to the Washington Field Office, photographic copies having been made for the files of the Laboratory.

K732 Selective Service Supplementary Questionnaire, ECSS-2, dated May 15, 1942, containing known handwriting of ALGER HISS.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

It was concluded that the questioned writing appearing on specimens Q1 through Q4 was written by ALGER HISS, whose handwriting appears on specimen K732. It was concluded that specimens K340 through K342 were written by the same person who wrote the writing on K732. If handwriting testimony is contemplated in regard to these identifications, the authenticity of the handwriting appearing on K732 should be established and the Laboratory advised in order that photographic enlargements can be made for court use.

Specimens K731 and K732 were compared with the ALGER HISS signature appearing on specimen K40 but a definite conclusion could not be reached inasmuch as the writing on K731 and K732 was not sufficiently comparable. The HISS signatures on K731 and K732 contain a style of writing that is more characteristic of his writing in recent years, and varies too much from his personal signature in 1933 for a definite conclusion.

Although the writing on K731 can be identified with the writing on K340 through K342 it cannot by itself be identified with Q1 through Q4.

Specimens K731 and K732 were returned to the Washington Field Office by special messenger on March 15, 1949. Photographic copies are retained in the files of the Laboratory.

Specimens:

- Q165 Book labeled "GUESTS" containing handwritten names and addresses, the first of which is dated July 1 _____, in the name of ELIZABETH TROTMAN.
- Q166 Register of the Peterborough Players containing handwritten signatures and addresses.

Results of Examination:

All the names and addresses appearing in the books which are listed above were compared with the known handwriting specimens of PRISCILLA HISS, ALGER HISS and WHITTAKER CHAMBERS without effecting an identification.

With reference to the signatures on the pages of the Peterborough Players pertaining to the play entitled "She Stoops to Conquer" there are three entries "____ Coleman, Washington, D. C., Lewis Daniel, MacDowell Colony, Edward Staloff, MacDowell Colony", that show a general style of handwriting similar to the general style of writing employed by ALGER HISS. However, most of the handwriting characteristics appearing in these three signatures are not in common with similar handwriting characteristics appearing in the known handwriting of HISS.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

DAVID LESSER, former CP member, stated photos of ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS resembled persons who attended WORKERS SCHOOL of CP, 1932-33. However, no positive verification obtained from LESSER or other sources. EARL BROWDER has no knowledge of HISS' CP membership or underground activity. BROWDER evidenced uncooperative attitude and decried campaign against CP and Soviet Union. No gasoline credit account for ALGER HISS located at NY oil companies. Additional efforts made to identify BORIS BYKOV through BENJAMIN GITLOW, Mrs. WALTER KRIVITSKY and [redacted] Former associates of ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN never suspected his CP affiliations or alleged underground activities. SILVERMAN released from NY employment because of disclosures before HCUA. Background and activities in CP apparatus of JOHN T. HERRMANN set forth.

Examination requested: Document

Specimens:

K734 Questionnaire and Statement of Applicant form of the Appellate Division, Supreme Court, dated December 3, 1932, bearing the known handwriting and signatures of ALGER HISS.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

It was concluded that ALGER HISS, whose known handwriting specimens are listed above as K734, wrote the questioned writing appearing on specimens Q1 through Q4 and the ALGER HISS signature appearing on specimen K40.

If handwriting testimony is contemplated in regard to the above identifications it will be necessary to prove K734 as being authentic known handwriting of ALGER HISS.

The Bureau should be immediately advised whether K734 is to be used by the document examiner in testimony that Q1 through Q4 and the ALGER HISS signature on K40 were written by the writer of K734, namely ALGER HISS.

Specimen K734 was returned to the New York Office March 29, 1949, by Special Agent Norman P. Bagwell of the New York Office. Photographs of K734 are retained in the Laboratory.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

No evidence of Communist or espionage activities by ALGER HISS developed through associates, former neighbors, or members of former "liberal group" at Accokeek, Md. Investigation in vicinity of various Baltimore residences of CHAMBERS failed to develop any evidence of HISS-CHAMBERS associations. No evidence developed of HISS ownership of American Oriental rug CHAMBERS claimed HISS gave CHAMBERS family in late 1935. Evidence developed and set out regarding Maryland registration of 1934 Ford Sedan by Mrs. CHAMBERS, Aug. 2, 1937, and subsequent trade-in on new 1937 Ford Sedan with Schmidt Motor Co., Randallstown, Md., on Nov. 23, 1937, involving also a cash payment of $436.75. Files of various oil companies at Baltimore, Md., contain no record of any gasoline charge account for ALGER HISS. Neighborhood investigation in vicinity of Baltimore residences of CHAMBERS fails to develop any derogatory information regarding CHAMBERS' reputation, associates, and activities. Selective Service information re CHAMBERS set out. The CHAMBERS re-interviewed regarding reported burial of confidential documents on SPIER farm near Glen Gardener, New Jersey, in 1932-33, Mrs. CHAMBERS having admitted burying Communist literature only, which was recovered by her in Fall of 1933. Further investigation of FELIX AUGUST IESLERIAN negative. Interviews with additional associates of FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO set out, resulting in suggestions for reinterview with RENO. Nothing of significance found among RENO's personal effects. Investigation establishes residence of WILLIAM and ANNA SPIEGEL at 112 East Madison St., Baltimore, Md., from at least November, 1936, to June, 1938. No persons located who observed CHAMBERS

This office has been instructed to locate persons who were associated departmentalwise with ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN and to interview these persons concerning SILVERMAN's activities, associates, etc.

SILVERMAN was mentioned by ELIZABETH KATHLEEN BENEY in recent FOIA Hearings as one of the persons who were supplying confidential information to unauthorized sources when he was employed by the War Department from 1943, to 1945. SILVERMAN was also mentioned by QUINCY concerning this same matter when he recently went before the FOIA.

SILVERMAN was employed as Chief Production Specialist, Analysis and Plans Branch or as Economist, Control Office, both Army Air Forces Materiel Command, Washington, D. C. from March 27, 1943, to August 18, 1945. An examination of SILVERMAN's efficiency report for the period April 1, 1943, to March 31, 1944, reflects that SILVERMAN was rated by FRANKLIN H. KISSNER, Major, Air Corps, Deputy Control Officer, War Department. KISSNER rated SILVERMAN's services during this period as excellent. Another efficiency report of SILVERMAN covering the period September, 1944, to March 31, 1945, reflects that SILVERMAN was rated by Lieutenant Colonel SAM S. MULLIN and that this efficiency report was reviewed by Lieutenant Colonel F. H. KISSNER, the Deputy Control Officer. On the latter report KISSNER approved the rating of excellent that was given to SILVERMAN.

Investigation reflects that FRANKLIN H. KISSNER, serial number AO-900337, is not on active duty and that his Air Forces Service Record (201 file) is on file at the Ninth Air Force Headquarters, 701 North New Street, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

The Philadelphia Office is requested to review FRANKLIN H. KISSNER's Air Forces Service Record to determine his home address and to arrange for KISSNER's interview.

The interviewing office is requested to interview FRANKLIN H. KISSNER regarding the activities of SILVERMAN during the period mentioned. Ascertain the names of SILVERMAN's associates, especially social and luncheon companions. Determine if KISSNER ever suspected or knew of SILVERMAN's supplying confidential information to unauthorized persons. Ascertain if Reference is made to Bureau letter to Washington Field Office dated February 3, 1939, which directs that an investigation be made on ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN, who has been prominently mentioned by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS in connection with the entitled matter. Particular attention is directed to the fact that according to CHAMBERS during the latter part of December, 1946, or the first part of January, 1947, three Persian rugs were shipped to SILVERMAN from New York City. Thereafter, SILVERMAN delivered one rug to the late HARRY DEXTER WHITE, and, subsequently, delivered a second rug to ALGER HISS at a prearranged meeting on the outskirts of Washington in the vicinity of Maryland University. CHAMBERS advised that SILVERMAN put the rug in his car and drove to the prearranged meeting place and that he, CHAMBERS, accompanied by ALGER HISS in the latter's automobile, met SILVERMAN where the transfer of the rug from SILVERMAN's car to HISS' car was made.

SILVERMAN lived in Apartment #311, 2325 15th Street, Washington, D. C., from 1939 to 1947. VIVIAN S. BROWN, now Mrs. W. L. DAVIES, 1441 Howard Avenue, Pottsville, Pennsylvania, lived in Apartment #312 in 1943. Philadelphia is requested to interview her regarding particulars of the rug, which was in SILVERMAN's apartment at the time, with an effort to substantiate the above information, and interview regarding associates and pertinent activities.

Re Laboratory report #D-94795 BU, dated March 11, 1949, directed to the Washington Field Office with carbon copies for New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore. The information contained in the penultimate paragraph of the Laboratory report has proved to be erroneous and the Field Divisions receiving copies of the Laboratory report should delete the paragraph. The paragraph is also reflected in the report of Special Agent Jack S. Turton of the Washington Field Office, dated March 22, 1949, on page 10. The paragraph should be deleted.

The Laboratory has examined and compared the State Department photostat which has been assigned the number Kc569A with a photograph representing one of the frames of the microfilm and assigned number Qc95 and it was concluded that the specimens originated from different documents. However, the wording on the photograph Qc95 is verbatim with the wording on the State Department photostat Kc569A.

An addition should be made to the summary report on pages 52e and 52f. On 52e the number Kc569A should be inserted under the number Kc569 in the column marked FBI Laboratory specimen number. On page 52f the number Qc95 should be inserted directly under the number Qc94 and the number Kc569A should be inserted directly under the number Kc569.

For the information of offices receiving copies of this letter the two specimens are described as follows: Qc95, page 4 beginning "Germany during the interim ..." and ending "to accord them sympathetic consideration". The State Department document Kc569A contains the same typed wording as appears on Qc95.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

The typewriting listed above as specimen K736 was compared with the typewriting appearing on specimens Q5 and Q6 through Q69. The conclusion was reached that specimen Q5 was not typed by the same machine which typed K736. Inasmuch as there are nine years intervening when K736 and specimens Q6 through Q69 were typed a definite conclusion could not be reached in regard to a comparison of K736 with Q6 through Q69, as a machine could develop numerous defects in nine years of use. Specimens Q6 through Q69 show many typewriting defects which do not appear in the typewriting K736. However, there are several defects appearing in Q6 through Q69 that also appear in K736. Due to the fact that such defects are of minor nature while there are other defects in the questioned specimens that do not appear in K736 the known specimen cannot be definitely eliminated or identified with Q6 through Q69.

K736 will be photographed and returned to the Philadelphia Office within the next several days.

Re New York wire April 14, 1949 concerning the examination made by EDWIN H. FEARON, document examiner for ALGER HISS, on the 47 Baltimore documents designated in the Laboratory as Q1 through Q69.

It is noted in your wire of the fourteenth that FEARON listed the 47 documents using the numbers placed on them in Baltimore with the notation alongside each document "No Watermark". For the information of the New York Office there are portions of government watermarks appearing on Baltimore exhibits number 9 (Q3) and number 10 (Q5).

The wire also states that "alongside each numbered 1 through 16 he placed an 'S' with the exception of number 9, alongside which he placed a 'D' and number 10 an 'em' ". Baltimore exhibits numbered 1 through 4, which carry this Bureau's numbers Q1 through Q4, are handwritten whereas the rest of the documents are typewritten therefore FEARON may have been referring to the paper. The symbol "S" might stand for the word "similar". However, Baltimore exhibits number 1 through number 4 are of different sizes than the remainder of the documents. As mentioned above Baltimore exhibits number 3 (Q3) and number 10 (Q5) are bond papers with parts of government watermarks showing, while Baltimore exhibits number 5 (Q69), number 6 (Q7), number 7 (Q8), number 8 (Q9 through Q21) and number 11 through number 16 are thin whites. Baltimore number 11 corresponds to this Bureau's numbers Q23 through Q26, number 12 with Q27, Q28, Q29, number 13 with Q31, number 14 with Q30, number 15 with Q6 and number 16 with Q32. Baltimore exhibit number 9 (Q22) is also a bond paper but has no watermark.

The "D - em" used by FEARON in referring to Baltimore exhibits number 9 (Q22), and number 10 (Q5) probably means "different paper" and "elite machine" respectively.

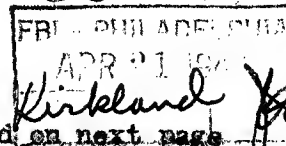

It is possible that the "dash" FEARON uses with reference to Baltimore exhibits 17 through 47 denotes these documents typed by one machine.

With reference to that part of your wire which reads "a small black circle about an inch in diameter was observed on the ground glass", it is believed that the "black circle" is actually a transparent space in circular form on the ground glass of the camera and in document photography is many times used for viewing the document when fine detail or a particular portion of the document is to be focussed.

The Bureau knows of no way the age of a document can be determined by photographing the surface of a questioned document and comparing the photograph with another photograph of paper specimen where the age of one of the papers is definitely known. Photographing is sometimes resorted to when mechanical impressions appear on both the questioned and known specimens, showing that they came from the same source at approximately the same time. No such mechanical impressions were on Baltimore exhibits number 5 (Q69), number 9 (Q22), number 47 (Q66) when they were examined in the Laboratory.

It cannot be determined what is meant by the words, "migrations on paper" in your wire. If this means that either chloride or sulphate migrations of ink were actually observed in an ink spot, then the proof would tend toward showing the ink spot was old rather than that it was of recent origin. It is noted that the writing in ink "No. 9 T. E. McDonald Notar" appears on Baltimore exhibit number 9, Bureau number Q22. Any other ink marking appearing on the specimen could have been placed there either accidentally or by design since T. E. McDonald placed his signature on the specimen. The photographs of Baltimore exhibits number 5 (Q69), number 9 (Q22), number 47 (Q66) do not show any ink marks large enough to produce a safe and definite conclusion as a result of ink migration tests. The Laboratory is of the opinion that the age of the documents cannot be determined.

Re: Report of Special Agent JAMES FREW, at Washington, dated April 6, 1949. On page nine of this report it is noted that T-5 [] could furnish no information concerning ROBERT E. RAY. It is also noted that RENO named RAY WARNER as one of the persons who supervised his Communist Party activities in Washington, and that WARNER'S Party name was ROBERT E. RAY.

It is the recollection of Special Agent H. H. FINZEL, now assigned to this office, and who handled [] at Washington, during 1947--1948, that this informant mentioned an individual named WARNER as a person active in the early formation of the group which subsequently became the UNITED FEDERAL WORKERS OF AMERICA, and who attended meetings on Eleventh Street when WILLIAM ALLEN was organizing the Communists in Government service, 1935--1938. b7D

It is possible that the WARNER mentioned by [] might well be identical with RAY WARNER (ROBERT E. RAY). Reference report does not indicate whether [] was questioned as to [] knowledge of RAY WARNER but only concerning ROBERT E. RAY. If this has not already been done, therefore, it is requested that [] be recontacted concerning [] knowledge as to the present whereabouts of RAY WARNER.

Reference report also indicated that SOPHIA MINKIN may have come to Philadelphia around 1938, and may have married the editor of The Pilot (NMU). If the Washington Field Office can further identify this editor, the Philadelphia Office will be in a position to locate for interview the former SOPHIA MINKIN as to the present whereabouts of ROBERT E. RAY (WARNER).

Reference is made to New York teletype dated April 13, 1949, advising that Special Assistant Attorney General THOMAS J. DONAGAN contemplates subpoenaing HENRY RHINE and his wife, JESSICA BUCK RHINE before the New York Special Grand Jury. Mr. DONAGAN had requested a background summary on each of them. This office was requested to supply the New York Division with all data indicating activities of these two individuals.

There is transmitted herewith to the New York Division a copy of a report by Special Agent ROBERT L. HEALD, dated at Washington, D. C., January 2, 1949, entitled HENRY RHINE, Internal Security - C. There is also enclosed for New York a copy of the report of Special Agent T. WATTHORNE PHILLIPS, dated at Washington, D. C., August 5, 1949, entitled HENRY RHINE, wa., Custodial Detention - C.

Since 1943 the Philadelphia Division has been office of origin concerning HENRY RHINE.

With regards to JESSICA BUCK RHINE, aka., Mrs. HENRY RHINE, the files of this office reflect that she was the subject of an Internal Security - Hatch Act investigation in 1941 and 1942. Inasmuch as an extra copy of the investigative report is not available for transmission to the New York Division, the following is a summary of her background:

JESSICA BUCK RHINE was born in Chicago, Illinois, and was graduated from the George Mason High School, Alexandria, Virginia, in 1931. Her legal residence was Brooklyn, New York. She was formerly employed as a Clerk by the Works Projects Administration, Washington, D. C., from November 23, 1933, until March 10, 1934; by the WPA as a Stenographer from March, 1934 until November, 1935; by the Railroad Retirement Board, Washington, D. C., from March 25, 1936, to October 1, 1936; by the National Reserve Project, WPA, from November, 1936 until April, 1937; by the Railroad Retirement Board as a Stenographer from October 3, 1937, until 1942, when she resigned. Her name was listed by the HIES Committee as a member of the Washington Committee for Democratic Action. Her name also appears on the active indices of the American Peace Mobilization. Several informants referred to Mrs. RHINE as being communist in viewpoint, one informant noting that her attitude since Russia was invaded in the last World War completely changed with her attitude prior to June 22, 1941. MIRIAM MILLER, a one time employee of the Department of Labor, who was dismissed from her position because of Communist activities, at one time lived with Mrs. WEINE and her family.

One informant declared that he had been asked to join the Communist Party by a sister of Mrs. WEINE, and further advised that HENRY WEINE was a Communist. Neighbors reported that the WEINE's apartment was often used as a meeting place for as many as forty people. The meetings were very mixed, many negroes being present.

One informant advised that Mrs. WEINE, prior to her marriage, had shared an apartment with MIRIAM NELSON. One informant advised that HENRY WEINE's real name was WEINSTEIN, and was alleged to be related to a Druggist in Buffalo, New York, who was or is a member of OGPU, or a Russian representative in America.

In 1943, Mrs. WEINE was employed as Assistant Research Director, United Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers of America of Denver, Colorado. While in Washington, Mrs. WEINE was constantly in contact with known members of the Communist Party.

A highly reliable confidential informant advised that HENRY WEINE may have used the party name of R. HARRISON, and was issued a 1943 Communist Party registration book, #37422. Since 1944, the subject has been residing in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

The Philadelphia Division is requested to furnish either copies of investigative reports or pertinent information therefrom to the New York Division, indicating the activities of HENRY WEINE and JESSICA BUCK WEINE, so that same can be transmitted to Special Attorney General THOMAS J. DONOHUE.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

It was concluded that the original of each of the photographs from the microfilm listed below in the left column and each of the State Department original documents listed opposite were made by one typing run. That is, the original of Kc74 and K549 were both typed at one time.

Kc74	K549
Kc75	K550
Kc77	K552
Kc78	K553
Kc79	K554
Kc80	K555
Kc81	K556
Kc82	K557
Kc83	K558
Kc84	K559
Kc85	K560
Kc86	K561
Kc87	K562
Kc88	K563
Kc89	K564
Kc90	K565
Kc91	K566

It was concluded that the original documents depicted on the photographs made from the microfilms listed below on the left are different documents than the original documents of the State Department listed opposite. However, the wording in each photograph is verbatim with its corresponding State Department document. For example, the typed wording on specimen K576 is verbatim with the typed wording on K551 although K551 is not the original of K576.

K576	K551
K592	K567
K593	K568
K594	K569
K595	K569A

With reference to specimens K596 through K6109, K6120 through K6131, K570 through K583, K594 through K605, the following observations and conclusions were reached. There are certain marks appearing on most of the microfilm photographs that appear in the same relative positions on the corresponding State Department documents. This in itself indicates the possibility that such microfilm photographs are from the corresponding State Department documents. However, there are also marks appearing on these photographs which are not present on the corresponding documents and vice versa. This may be due to fine particles of dust or fibers that have fallen off the original documents from the time the microfilm photographs were made. These differences prevent a definite conclusion in this respect. However, it can be stated that either the above is true or that the originals of the microfilm photographs and their corresponding State Department documents listed below opposite each other came from common typing runs. That is, K596 originates photographically from the original document K570 or the original of K596 and K570 came from a common typing run.

K596	K570
K597	K571
K598	K572
K599	K573
K6100	K574
K6101	K575

K6109	K583

K6121	K595
K6122	K596
K6123	K597
K6124	K598

Qc125	K599
Qc126	K600
Qc127	K601
Qc128	K602
Qc129	K603
Qc130	K604
Qc131	K605

With reference to specimens Qc110 through Qc119, K584 through K593 the following conclusions were reached.

It was concluded that each of the originals of the microfilm photographs and each of the State Department documents listed below opposite each other originate from common stencils. That is, the original of Qc110 and K584 were made by one stencil.

Qc110	K584
Qc111	K585
Qc112	K586
Qc113	K587
Qc114	K588
Qc115	K589
Qc116	K590
Qc117	K591
Qc118	K592
Qc119	K593

There were also submitted 32 pages of State Department documents. Most of the pages were stapled to the evidence listed at the beginning of this report and were possibly submitted as part of the entire file. Inasmuch as the originals of State Department documents Kc549 through Kc567, Kc569A through Kc605 were submitted, no examination was made of the 32 pages also submitted and they were returned to the Washington Field Office along with the above listed State Department documents on May 6, 1949, photographic copies having been retained in the files of the Laboratory.

Attention is called to the fact that this report covers the examination and comparison of original State Department documents with the photographs representing the microfilm, Grand Jury exhibits #47 and #48, F.B.I. Laboratory numbers Qc74 through Qc131. Laboratory report D-94795 BU dated March 11, 1949 directed to the Washington Field Office, carbon copies of which were sent to all offices receiving copies of this report, set forth the results of a comparison of the microfilm Qc74 through Qc131 with photostatic copies of the State Department documents.

It should be noted that the instant report differs from report B-94795 AI only in regard to specimens Qc110 through Qc119 and K584 through K593. It is now concluded that the originals of the microfilm photographs Qc110 through Qc119, and their corresponding State Department documents K584 through K593 were made by common stencils.

There are enclosed herewith five copies of the report of SA Thomas G. Spencer, dated May 11, 1949, at New York City, and captioned as above.

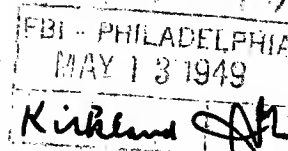

Beginning on page 3 of this report, and continuing to, and including page 139, there is set forth the statement made by JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS to Agents of the New York Office. Upon the specific instructions of THOMAS F. SWANNE, Assistant United States Attorney, Southern District of New York, CHAMBERS, though entirely willing, was not asked to sign this statement. In view of this situation the usual introductory paragraph has been deleted from the report, but the statement has been set forth as received and in the first person.

For your further information another report pertaining to CHAMBERS' statement will be submitted in the near future. It is planned to show, in that report, the connection between certain unknown subjects, and activities, mentioned by CHAMBERS, and those mentioned by other informants, particularly ROBERT GORDON SWITZ. A review of the information received from SWITZ, and that submitted by CHAMBERS, has indicated beyond any doubt that they were members of the same Soviet espionage group.

Specimens:

K737 Slip of brown paper bearing typewriting from a Woodstock typewriter beginning "DEAR GOD PLEASE MAKE ME ...".

D-99737

K738 A slip of ruled paper bearing typewriting from a Woodstock typewriter beginning "I. W. Loekey Truck Hire ...".

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

The typewriting on the evidence listed above as K737 and K738 was compared with the questioned typewriting on specimens Q6 through Q69 but a definite conclusion could not be reached due to the fact the questioned typewriting specimens were not sufficiently comparable. All of the letters making up the prayer, K737, are in capital letters and do not contain the necessary defective letters which have been used in making previous identifications. The typewriting appearing on K738 contained only a few words and the letters making up the words are too limited in number in a comparison with the questioned typewriting to enable reaching a definite conclusion. However, a few typewriting characteristics were noted in the known typewriting that are in common with like characteristics appearing on Q6 through Q69. Additional known typewriting specimens are necessary for further examination and comparison with Q6 through Q69.

The original documents Q6 through Q69 are being temporarily retained in the Laboratory. Specimens K737 and K738 are retained in the Laboratory.

Requesting examination of paper making up Q6 through Q69.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

An examination has been made of the paper making up Q6 through Q69 and the results are set forth below. Physical measurements show that Q6 through Q21, Q27 through Q29, Q31, Q50 through Q69 have the same approximate size and are thin white sheets of paper which contain no watermarks. Specimens Q23 through Q26, Q30, Q32 through Q57 have the same approximate measurements and are thin white sheets of paper and contain no watermarks but are of a different size than the above mentioned specimens. Specimen Q22 is a sheet of bond paper having no watermark and the size is different than either of the above two groups. There are many irregularities along the edges of all the sixty-four documents but they are of such a nature that a definite conclusion could not be reached as to whether these documents originated from the same or different paper batches except Q22 which is a bond paper and could not have come from either of the two paper batches. In view of the condition of specimens Q6 through Q69 it was not possible to predict whether any one of these specimens could be identified with blank paper used as a basis for comparison by the MISS examiner.

- 1 - Philadelphia
- 1 - Baltimore
- 1 - Washington Field

The paper fiber analysis requested in your wire of May 18, 1949 was not made on specimens Q6 through Q69 because it would require cutting out pieces of paper from each document which would materially change the appearance of the original documents. A fiber analysis would require approximately five days to complete and the maximum results obtainable would be to state that possibly the thin white sheets could have come from one batch of paper or that the papers are from different batches of paper. The thin white paper making up specimens Q6 through Q21 and Q23 through Q69 has wide commercial distribution. In view of the amount of work involved in such an examination together with the limited results that might be obtained it is requested that the Laboratory be advised if a fiber examination is necessary.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

Information developed May 12, 1949 to the effect that CLAUDIE CATLETT has told HISS attorneys that when calling on HISSSES in about 1936, CHAMBERS used name "CROSBY". She gave this information after being asked by ALGER HISS' attorneys if she did not remember CHAMBERS using this name. On further interview, May 13, 1939, CLAUDIE CATLETT now recalls that ALGER HISS gave her family a typewriter which she believes HISS' attorneys now have and which may be typewriter upon which espionage messages and HISS correspondence was typed. Interviews with sons of CLAUDIE CATLETT, PERRY, JAMES and RAYMOND CATLETT, confirms this information and indications are that they withheld this information from agents because of friendship for HISSSES. Investigation develops typewriter given by HISSSES to CATLETTS and turned over by them to daughter, BURNETTA, then living with Dr. EASTER. Typewriter left at EASTER's residence by BURNETTA, then fell into the hands of VERNON and JOHN MARLOW and from them transferred to one IRA LOCKEY, Sr., who loaned it to LOCKEY, Jr., from whom it was recovered by LOCKEY, Sr., and turned over to HISS' attorneys.

Re NY tel May 20, 1949.

GILBERT KILPAK, Pendle Hill, Wallingford, Pennsylvania, has advised that although he knew CHAMBERS slightly, prior to his discussion with him concerning the HISS matter, he did not have much contact with him until he was instructed to approach CHAMBERS in an attempt to have the HISS matter settled out of court. KILPAK pointed out that the Quaker religion does not approve of having its members take their grievances into court and has a committee to handle matters of this nature which come to its attention.

According to KILPAK, CHAMBERS was entirely agreeable to such a meeting but HISS declined to accept the suggestion. At one time it was thought that the wives of HISS and CHAMBERS might be able to settle matters since they were acquainted with each other, however, HISS declined to such a meeting also.

KILPAK advised that an additional purpose in contacting CHAMBERS was that the Friends Society desired to convince itself that CHAMBERS was entirely rational in his disclosures. He said that as a result of having talked with CHAMBERS he is convinced and the Society is convinced, that CHAMBERS is perfectly normal. He added that the only criticism the Society has to offer concerning CHAMBERS is the manner in which he is attempting to fight Communism, not in the fact that he is fighting it.

He continued that he felt the necessity of clearing the matter up to the satisfaction of the members of the Friends Society and as a result had prepared an open letter to CHAMBERS which he had sent to two Friends publications, "The Friends Intelligencer" and "The Friend." He said that the letter was not published by the Intelligencer since it had already recently published an editorial concerning CHAMBERS and the "Friend" simply declined to publish the letter without explanation. He said that in his opinion, the latter publication was prejudiced in favor of HISS.

As a result, KILPAK sent the letter directly to CHAMBERS and received a reply dated January 24, 1949. A copy of the open letter is set forth herewith:

"AN OPEN LETTER TO WHITTAKER CHAMBERS"

"Dear Whittaker Chambers,

"I address this letter to you and to your family, but I make no pretence, I address it also to Alger and Priscilla Hiss, to Richard Nixon, and still more to the whole Society of Friends. We are all one in the bond of Christ, all members of His body--that, we seem to have forgotten. In Him, what touchest one touches all.

"Believe me, though quite unworthy of such a ministry, I write to you in tears, feeling how cruelly we all have violated His unity. You must feel as I do, that in the minds of thousands of Americans your troubles have become a symbol of the tragedy that lies just beneath the surface of the sea of our contemporary life. Someone lights a match and the oil-slick surface is aflame and monsters rise from the depths. It is not surprising that in such a struggle the children of this world accuse, judge, lie and hate. When these things happen within the body of Christ, the results are too awful to contemplate.

"You fled the violence and deceit of atheist communism and you believed that in the holy tradition of Quakerism you would find a truth and peace which the children of this world could not offer. You thought to find a comradeship to hold you steady in the growth of that truth and peace. Forgive us where we have betrayed that trust. We have torn and beaten the body of Christ. We have taken sides. We have divided again the garment of Him who said, 'Judge not.' He who said 'Judge not' knew how deeply hidden each soul is from each other soul on earth. 'The soul of thy brother is as a dark forest.' We pass those nearest to us as strangers and it often comes about that the less we know the more we judge. If we must judge, the Scriptures tell us, let it be righteous judgment, in fear and trembling. Is there a mother's son among us who would willingly stand before His Creator to be judged upon his merits? No, His gaze upon us is all charity and mercy, and only thus could we bear it. As God has looked upon us, so are we to look upon our brothers. Christ forgive us all! Blind in the darkness of our souls we have taken the sword, cutting off ears right and left, and He stands by in silence, His hand stretched forth in healing pity.

"You have, dear Whittaker, done and said in recent months things difficult for all of us to understand; that is inevitable--how little can any of us understand even ourselves. As God grants us grace we suspend our judgment. Here is the heart of the matter: guilty or not guilty misses the point; only the shameless pride of millions of souls could bring forth a civilization such as ours--we are all guilty, all stand bound together in need; only penitence and charity can save us. Surely every man is but a hair's breadth from Christ and the devil, and only the final revealings will show to whom each of us belongs. It is for this that I cry aloud: Friends, stand still in the Lord, judge not.

"You will remember, Whittaker, one beautiful morning last spring in Maryland we found ourselves, along with others, climbing a hill to an old country meeting house. The oak trees murmured with the new season and we who gathered there were enveloped in the stainless silence, baptised by that Spirit which is able to make all things pure. In the midst of whatever trials may await you, hold that day as a symbol up to your inward eye and know that we are all one because He has made us one and that every half truth, every judgment, strikes at every heart, rolls up on every shore.

"My prayers and yours join with those of all men everywhere, uniting us in that Inward Kingdom where all stands firm and whole in the midst of this shaken, broken world.

"I remain ever your friend,

Gilbert Kilpack
Pondle Hill
Wallingford, Pennsylvania"

KILPAK declined to release the original of CHAMBERS reply but permitted a copy to be made which is as follows. The letter is handwritten.

Ltr. to Director, FBI

Westminster, Md.
Jan. 24, 1949

"Dear Gilbert Kilpak:

"Thank thee for thy letter in which I apprehend the whole spirit better sometimes than particular phrases.

"God has given me a work to do. He has said that I must stand up in confessing my own sin to the ears of the world. I must lay bare the sin of the world and the century. In my person I must take up all sin and I must especially do this in an age which cannot endure truth - an age in which the one thing man cannot do is to speak God's truth because to do so would be to reveal man's lie.

"Perfidy and terror are the works (?) of the age which has resolved to live without God - therefore, the confession that I have to make is a confession of perfidy and terror. But this ordeal (for the confessor and for all who must share knowledge of the confession) is raised up by two powers - courage and compassion.

"Thee prays for all - and thy prayer is better than my prayers, but thee prays in the peace of the meeting or its spirit. I too pray for all; but I prayed for Alger Hiss at the moment when he was insulting me in the Hotel Commodore. I prayed for him before hundreds of people in Congress when he charged me with insanity. I pray for him, and I pray for them all, each day.

"If I could fight communism without injuring one of them, I would do so. I tried to disclose the conspiracy without unduly injuring the conspirators. In fact, I shielded them for nine years - shielded them in the end at great, perhaps irreparable risk to myself, that is to say, to my family, which chiefly must suffer my sufferings.

"I do not judge Alger Hiss, and I do not hate him. At his indictment, the press asked me for comment. I said: 'I should be inhuman if I could take any pleasure in Mr. Hiss's troubles.' If I could help him, I would help him. And I would help all the others. But if I could

"help them, we should not be in this terrifying tragedy. We should be confessing together: 'Thus it was, and thus we acted. None of us is less guilty than the other. He only is more guilty who, in his blindness, nevertheless felt the stirrings of God - but did not then feel them enough.' I mean myself.

"In essence, under the trappings of horror, this is a great religious testimony. God has given me strength for this ordeal - and, without the immediate, (illegible word) presence of God, I would have been unable to do this. The burden is too heavy for one man to bear. At times it has been too heavy for me. Each time I sank, God raised me up. God sought a man who was capable of giving his living life, of dying while living, that (illegible word) might suffer one fraction less for the universal sin. My problem has been not to fail God in my crushing leading (?) and not to condemn men.

"This is written hastily and badly. I need thy prayers and thy counsel.

(signed) Whittaker Chambers"

KILPATRICK stated that his entire connection with CHAMBERS had been as a member of the Friends Society and consisted of the attempt to obtain settlement of the dispute outside a court of law and that he had no information concerning the actual underground activities of CHAMBERS other than in a general sense as has already been set forth in the public press. He said that he had no specific information concerning the nature of CHAMBERS testimony before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

AIR MAIL SPECIAL DELIVERY

RE: JAMES GRADY, Defendant, AKA, KIDNAP;
MURKIN; MURKIN - R; INTERNAL SECURITY - R

On April 10, 1949, Mr. Edward Nelson, Attorney for Alger Hiss, recovered in Washington, D. C., a Woodstock typewriter, "Model 514230039". This typewriter has been identified by the FBI Laboratory as being the machine which was used to type documents 4 & 6 through 4 69, known as the "Baltimore" documents or "Cimabere" documents.

Investigation by the Chicago Office has revealed that Woodstock typewriters bearing serial numbers between 204,000 and 240,000 were manufactured by the Woodstock Company in 1929. Therefore, it is apparent that the machine 514230039 was manufactured in 1929.

You will recall that James Grady originally advised that he sold Harry Martin a Woodstock typewriter about 1927. It was his recollection that he had applied the commission he received on this sale as part payment for the first insurance policy Martin wrote for him in the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company. He also recalled that at the time of the sale of this typewriter Martin had just resigned as cashier for the general agents of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company in Philadelphia and started selling insurance for the same company in partnership with Humler. Grady was reinterviewed by your office on December 13, 1948, at which time he finally decided that the only way he would place the date of this sale was that Martin and Humler had been selling insurance together for a short time at the time he sold them a typewriter.

The records of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company in Milwaukee reflect that Humler and Martin were associated from approximately July 1, 1927, to sometime in 1930.

The records of the Woodstock Company reflect that Grady worked as a salesman in the Philadelphia Branch Office from December 14, 1925, until August 9, 1926, and from March 7, 1927, to December 3, 1927.

The records at the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company reveal that Grady was employed by that company as an agent in Philadelphia from December 9, 1930, to April, 1932.

You are requested to interview James Grady to obtain an explanation as to how he could sell a machine which was manufactured in 1929 to the Humler-Martin partnership in 1927. The Philadelphia Office should reinterview Mr. Martin for any explanation he may give of this fact and also to determine if he can recall selling an insurance policy to Grady at which time Grady applied his sales commission as part payment for the policy. It may be noted that the application on this policy by Grady was dated January 29, 1930, at which time Grady listed his occupation as "salesman for disinfection company".

Page 8 of the report of Special Agent James L. Eirland dated January 11, 1949, at Philadelphia, in instant case reveals that on December 28, 1939, a Woodstock typewriter was purchased by the Truistone National Bank, 318 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, for which a Woodstock, #230098, was traded in. The Bank had purchased machine #230098 in September 21, 1932.

The Chicago Office should ascertain from the Woodstock Factory whether machine 58#230099 was manufactured immediately after machine #230098. The Chicago Office should use hypothetical serial numbers in the course of the inquiry. That is, whether a typewriter having number 58#213087 would have been manufactured immediately after a machine having serial #213086.

Under no circumstances during the course of the above-requested investigation should the fact be disclosed that typewriter bearing serial 58#230099 has been identified as the machine which was used to type the "Baltimore" documents. You should give this matter immediate attention.

- K739 Carbon copy of a typewritten letter dated September 11, 1947, to Finance Officer, U. S. Army, Holabird Signal Depot, Baltimore, 19, Md., from STAFFORD J. McQUEEN, 1856 - Kalorama Road, N.W., Washington, D.C.
- K740 An Application for Federal Employment dated July 26, 1947, bearing the name STAFFORD JIMMY McQUEEN, 1207 Park Road, N.W. Apt. #101, Washington 10, D. C.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

It was concluded that the machine which was used to type Q6 through Q69 was the same machine which typed K740 which is listed above. The characters appearing on specimen K740 correspond most closely to the typewriting standards in the Laboratory for Woodstock pica type spaced ten letters to the inch.

It was concluded that Q6 through Q69 was not typed by the machine which typed K739 listed above. The typewriting characters appearing on this specimen correspond most closely to the standards in the Laboratory for Royal enlarged elite type spaced twelve letters to one inch.

Pursuant to the request of the Washington Field Office, specimens K739 and K740 will be returned to the Washington Field Office immediately after appropriate photographs have been made for the Laboratory's files.

June 7, 1949

SAC, MILWAUKEE

JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, AKA., ET AL
PERJURY; ESPIONAGE - R; INTERNAL SECURITY - R

Rebulet May 24, 1949.

Mr. THOMAS F. GRADY, 2126 Menominee River Parkway, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, was reinterviewed concerning the Woodstock typewriter he sold to HARRY MARTIN and his partner FANSLER in Philadelphia in the year 1927.

In again relating his recollection of the sale of a typewriter to FANSLER and MARTIN, GRADY pointed out that the sale must have been in the year 1927 for the reason that after GRADY left the employ of the Woodstock Typewriter Company in December 1927 he never again was in the business of selling typewriters and, furthermore, it could not have been prior to 1927 for the reason that HARRY MARTIN was not in business for himself selling insurance until about the middle of 1927, and GRADY is sure that he made the sale shortly after FANSLER and MARTIN became associated in the insurance business. He stated that while his recollection is that he dealt with MARTIN, it could very well be that FANSLER signed the order but he has no recollection regarding this.

It was pointed out to GRADY that ANN COYLE did not go to work for FANSLER and MARTIN until the fall 1928 and that she could, therefore, not have tried out the typewriter before it was sold, if he sold it in 1927. GRADY stated that he never was positive that ANN COYLE had tried out the typewriter he sold to FANSLER and MARTIN and that he could very well be confused on this matter for two reasons, the first being that he was acquainted with MARTIN over a period of several years, including the two years he, himself, sold insurance for Northwestern Mutual and does not believe that he recalls the period of ANN COYLE's employment. The second reason for his confusion in this regard was a practice they had in selling typewriters where a "junior salesman" would go around various offices and leave a typewriter on trial with a stenographer in that office. A week or so later one of the salesmen would follow up and attempt to sell the typewriter. It was his original recollection that this procedure was followed in the case of the sale of the typewriter to FANSLER and MARTIN, but he is not at all sure on this point.

GRADY had been following the events of the HISS trial in the newspapers and remarked he noticed HISS had produced a typewriter. It was pointed out to him that the typewriter produced by HISS, according to company records, was manufactured in the year 1929 and was a Model 5N.

interview needed.*

He stated that he could not have sold this typewriter as he sold no typewriters subsequent to leaving the employ of Woodstock in December 1927. His only conjecture on this point was that if the typewriter produced by HISS was a typewriter originally in the office of FANSLER and MARTIN, it must have been one purchased by these men from some other person. He pointed out that in those days Woodstock typewriters were relatively new on the market. They usually undersold the other old line typewriters and the other typewriter companies would not take them on trade under as good terms as the Woodstock Company. It was customary in those days for people in offices to trade their typewriters quite often and he pointed out it was possible MARTIN or FANSLER had traded the typewriter he sold them in 1927 for a new one subsequent to 1929. If this was done, GRADY believed it would probably have been a sale made by JACK CAROW who was manager of the Philadelphia Office of Woodstock, when GRADY left in 1927, and for several years thereafter.

GRADY has not contended, except on the original interview, that his commission on the sale of the typewriter to FANSLER and MARTIN was applied upon an insurance policy sold by MARTIN to GRADY. Upon second interview, previously reported, when the dates of GRADY's policies with Northwestern Mutual, together with the names of the agents selling them, were available he then recalled that he had also sold a machine to J. O. BATTERSBY, H. B. STAVERS, and W. L. COATES in 1927 when these men associated themselves together in the sale of insurance for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, and that it was on this policy that his commission upon the sale of a typewriter was applied to the premium on a policy. Therefore, since that time, the application of a commission on the sale of a typewriter has not entered into his recollection of selling FANSLER and MARTIN a typewriter.

It was suggested to GRADY that perhaps in January 1930 he might have sold MARTIN a typewriter even though he was no longer in that business but may have relied upon his former connections. He denied that this was possible, stating he never sold a typewriter after he left the employ of Woodstock.

Recapitulating GRADY's recollection of the sale of a typewriter to FANSLER and MARTIN resolves itself in the following. He sold a Woodstock typewriter to FANSLER and MARTIN. The only bases of his recollection as to the time of the sale are the termination of his connection with Woodstock in December 1927 and his recollection that FANSLER and MARTIN had only recently associated for the sale of insurance. If the typewriter produced by HISS, bearing serial number 5N/N230099, did, in fact, come from the office of FANSLER and MARTIN it could not have been the typewriter GRADY sold to that firm for the reason that it was manufactured in 1929 and GRADY never sold a typewriter to anybody after 1927. Chambers Lists Five as Spy Links

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP).—Whittaker Chambers ended seven days as a star Government witness today by naming five men whom he said gave United States secrets to a pre-war Russian spy ring.

"The five sources were Julian Wadleigh, Ward Pigman, Harry Dexter White, Alger Hiss and Vincent Reno," Chambers said slowly in reply to a Government question.

A few minutes later, he stepped down from the witness stand at the Federal perjury trial of Alger Hiss, former high State Department official.

PREVIOUSLY NAMED TWO

Chambers said yesterday that he had five "sources" before the war who gave him secrets to relay to the spy ring. But he previously named only Hiss and Wadleigh.

The charges of espionage and Communist activity that Chambers leveled against Hiss were denied categorically in a deposition by Hiss, which was read to the court by the prosecuting attorney.

The Government began calling new witnesses to the stand shortly after Chambers was excused. They testified about Hiss' financial affairs and typewritten notes and letters by Mrs. Priscilla Hiss, wife of the defendant.

Hiss has denied he ever gave Chambers secrets or even saw him after Jan. 1, 1937. Under cross-examination, Chambers admitted that he lied under oath to the House Un-American Activities Committee and to the same grand jury that indicted Hiss.

Wadleigh has refused comment on similar statements by Chambers that he fed Government documents to the spy ring. He formerly was with the State Department.

ONE DIED AFTER QUIZ

White, former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, died last Aug. 17 of a heart attack after denying to the House Un-American Activities Committee that he was a member of a Communist ring.

Franklin Victor Reno, to whom Chambers referred as "Vincent Reno," was identified by two grand jury witnesses as a mathematics expert at the Aberdeen, Md., Proving Ground in 1942.

Pigman, of Appleton, Wis., one-time chemist in the U. S. Bureau of Standards, said after testifying before the grand jury last December: "I categorically deny that I ever had any dealings with Whittaker Chambers or that I ever knew the man. I further unqualifiedly deny that I have ever given to Chambers or to any other person any unauthorized Governmental information."

LIBRARIAN ON STAND

Among the new witnesses today was Franklin H. Price, librarian in charge of the Philadelphia Free Library, who identified a letter signed "Daisy Fansler," the maiden name of Mrs. Hiss.

Chambers has described the typewriter with which he said Hiss and his wife copied Government documents. The Government is expected to try to show that the secrets were typed on a machine also used for personal and business correspondence by the Hisses.

By telephonic conversation on 6/20/49 and teletype dated 6/21/49, the New York Office requested that further investigation be conducted at Chestertown, Md. to determine additional information concerning the former HISS residence there. New York also requested additional investigation concerning the stay of ALGER HISS' step-son, TIMOTHY ROSSON at a summer camp operated by a J. KELLOGG-SMITH near Chestertown, Md.

MRS. L. W. WICKES, WICKES' Apartments, 117 Front St., Chestertown, Md., advised on 6/22/49 that, so far as she can remember, ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS sub-leased an apartment at her home from about June to September, 1937. MRS. WICKES has no records concerning the exact period of the HISS tenancy at her home, but recalls that the apartment was sub-leased by them from a DR. ALICE DOLE, an instructor of history at Washington College, Chestertown, who died approximately six to eight years ago. Dr. DOLE's daughter, according to MRS. WICKES, married a GEORGE KERSTER and presently resides in Annapolis, Md.

MRS. WICKES was of the opinion that 1937 was the exact year that the HISS' stayed at her home, inasmuch as her son, LEWIN W. WICKES, JR., was ill with a broken back the year of the HISS visit and turned aged 20 in July of that year. LEWIN WICKES, according to his mother, was born on 7/28/17 and is a resident of Riverton, New Jersey, but is currently in Philadelphia and may be reached through the Legal Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Philadelphia.

MRS. WICKES was of the opinion that the HISS' did not leave Chestertown during the duration of their visit, but her reason for this belief is that MRS. J. KELLOGG-SMITH, who formerly operated a summer camp for boys and girls in Chestertown, told her that ALGER HISS' step-son, TIMOTHY HOBSON, had a disease or injury in the summer of 1937 and MRS. KELLOGG-SMITH would not have accepted the boy at the KELLOGG-SMITH summer camp unless the HISS' agreed to remain nearby.

Mrs. WICKES never saw the HISS' boy, TIMOTHY HOBSON, at the WICKES Apartments and does not know if TIMOTHY HOBSON was ever treated by local Chestertown doctors. In her opinion, if he had been treated, a DR. FRANK HINES of Chestertown would very likely have given this treatment. MRS. WICKES added that the HISS' remained very much to themselves during the time of their visit, and the KELLOGG-SMITH's would have been the only persons in the vicinity who would have known them.

MRS. KELLOGG-SMITH has told MRS. WICKES that the HISS' stayed at her home on two occasions in the past, the other occasion being in 1938, but MRS. WICKES stated that she only recalls the 1937 visit. She was of the belief, however, that she may have been away on vacation during the summer of 1938 and that a Mrs. OWEN SELBY of Chestertown ran the WICKES Apartments for her.

MRS. WICKES went on to say that the only former tenant who she can recall as having been at the WICKES Apartments in 1937 or 1938 is a DR. KENNETH BUXTON, whose present whereabouts are unknown to her.

S. SCOTT BECK, JR., 112 Front St.; Miss ELIZABETH C. BROWN, 113 Front St.; and Mrs. WHEELER B. PERKINS, 121 High St., all Chestertown, Md., neighbors who have resided in the vicinity of the WICKES Apartments for the past 29 years, 31 years, and 45 years, respectively, advised in substance on 6/20/49 that they have heard through hearsay that the HISS' spent one summer at the WICKES Apartments a number of years ago, but do not recall ever having seen them in Chestertown. They have heard, however, that the HISS' were friendly with a KELLOGG-SMITH family who live about six miles from Chestertown.

DR. FRANK B. HINES, Chestertown, Md., advised on 6/20/49 that he had heard that the HISS family visited CHESTERTOWN in the summer of 1937 and stayed at the WICKES Apartments. He has also heard that a son of the HISS' stayed at the KELLOGG-SMITH summer camp at that time, but advised that he has never treated this boy and had not treated anyone at the KELLOGG-SMITH summer camp for a number of years prior to 1937, although he formerly did treat children at the camp. Dr. HINES added, however, that the HISS child may have been treated by Dr. FRANK W. SMITH at Fairlee, Md., about five miles from Chestertown, or at the Kent and Queen Anne's Hospital at Chestertown. If treated at the hospital, HOBSON would very likely have been seen by Dr. A. C. DICK, according to Dr. HINES. Dr. HINES added that he has never seen the HISS' or TIMOTHY HOBSON.

On 6/21/49, MRS. KATHERINE HATCHERSON, bookkeeper, Kent and Queen Anne's Hospital, Chestertown, Md. checked the patients' register of the hospital for the period from June 1, 1937, to September 30, 1937, and could find no record of TIMOTHY HOBSON's ever having been admitted to the hospital.

Dr. ALEXANDER C. DICK, Chief Surgeon, Kent and Queen Anne's Hospital, advised that he has no records back as far as 1937, and does not recall having treated anyone named TIMOTHY HOBSON. Inasmuch as hospital records failed to reflect treatment of TIMOTHY HOBSON, DR. DICK had no idea as to where HOBSON could have been treated.

On 6/21/49 Dr. FRANK W. SMITH, Fairlee, Md. checked his files and could find no record of ever having treated a TIMOTHY HOBSON and does not recall ever having treated this individual. Dr. SMITH does not know of any other physician in the vicinity who could have treated HOBSON other than Dr. FRANK HINES.

Mrs. OWEN SELBY, 224 Washington Ave., Chestertown, Md., advised on 6/21/49 that she rented an apartment from MRS. L. W. WICKES at 117 Front St., Chestertown, from about April, 1939, to October, 1942, but was not there in 1937 or 1938. When MRS. WICKES would leave Chestertown in the summer, MRS. SELBY would act as manager of the WICKES Apartments, but does not recall ALGER or PRISCILLA HISS' ever having lived there.

HARRY C. COLEMAN, JR. Postmaster, Chestertown, Md., advised on 6/20/40 that he does not know anyone who worked at the KELLOGG-SMITH summer camp, as the KELLOGG-SMITH's themselves acted as counsellors at this camp. COLEMAN added, however, that he would contact the rural carrier on the route which served the KELLOGG-SMITH residence and inquire from him as to whether or not he knew of any former employees of the camp. COLEMAN subsequently advised that he had ascertained from STEWART PRICE, rural carrier, Route # 3, Chestertown, Md., that PRICE does not know any former employees of the KELLOGG-SMITH summer camp, inasmuch as the camp was very small and the KELLOGG-SMITH's apparently ran it themselves. PRICE stated that he does not know the names of any children who attended the KELLOGG-SMITH summer camp, as a list of all boys and girls of each summer was given to him by J. KELLOGG-SMITH and PRICE destroyed this list at the end of each summer.

On 6/21/49 SPENCER S. SMITH, clerk, U.S. Post Office, Chestertown, Md., checked Post Office files and could find no record of a change of address from or to Chestertown, Md., for either ALGER or PRISCILLA HISS. MR. SMITH stated, however, that the records may be incomplete, as change of address records are normally maintained for only two years. MR. SMITH added that C. JULIAN JOHNSON, who in 1937 was the letter carrier on Chestertown City Route # 2 which served the WICKES Apartments, 117 Front St., died in 1948.

By teletype dated 6/21/49, it was suggested that the Philadelphia Office attempt to contact LEVIN W. WICKES, JR. c/o the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., Philadelphia. By teletype dated 6/21/49, the Miami Office was requested to interview MRS. GEORGE B. KEESTER, daughter of DR. ALICE DOLE, who was determined to be living in St. Petersburg, Florida, through investigation conducted at Annapolis, Md.

Synopsis:

M. O. JOHNSON, Secretary-Treasurer, Woodstock Typewriter Co., Woodstock, Ill., advises that company has no leases on file for Washington Branch prior to the war. JOHNSON states that personal tax return filed for Washington Branch on 7/25/38 reflects office address of 738 Thirteenth St., N.W., and personal tax return filed 3/14/39 reflects office address of 1000 Connecticut Ave., Washington, D. C. The address of 1528 K St., N.W. not indicated anywhere in Woodstock records. Woodstock check register reflects that Washington Branch paid rental of $250 per month to Judd, Inc. from 1935 to April, 1938, for office space at 738 Thirteenth St., N.W.; on 5/20/38 and 6/21/38 rental checks of $135 each paid to Tyler and Rutherford; JOHNSON presumes that Washington Branch changed office address 5/1/38 but cannot substantiate that from present records, nor is new address indicated. Check register fails to reflect posting for rental for Washington Branch during July and August, 1938, although refund of $58.50 on rental check issued 6/21/38 posted on 7/29/38. JOHNSON presumes refund from Tyler and Rutherford. Check register posting reveals rental check for $150.00 issued to Randall H. Hagner and Co., Washington, D. C., on

PERJURY,
INTERNAL SECURITY (R)

Dear Sir:

For the information of all offices receiving this communication, the above-captioned title is the code word utilized by the Bureau to report investigation involving the ALGER HISS - JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, Perjury - Espionage (R) investigation.

It will be recalled that the recently concluded trial of ALGER HISS for perjury resulted in a hung jury. The retrial of this matter is now scheduled for October, 1949. Assistant Director E. J. Connelley has reiterated the following instructions which must be observed by all offices conducting investigation in this case.

1. Each office receiving this letter should contact appropriate confidential informants who might have information on the Communist activities and associates of ALGER HISS during the middle and late 1930's. It is felt that the recent, nation-wide publicity accorded the Hiss trial may have refreshed the recollection of former Communist Party members now utilized by the Bureau as informants, and it is believed that the possibility exists that one or more of these informants may be able to furnish information reflecting the alleged Communist activity of ALGER HISS.

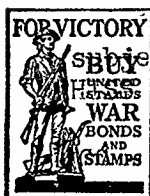

2. All offices which have conducted investigation in this matter should immediately review their files and submit all information previously developed and not reported in a report form.

3. New York, as Office of Origin, should receive three copies of all investigative reports. An additional copy should be designated for Special Assistant to the Attorney General Thomas J. Donegan.

4. All undeveloped leads now outstanding in each auxiliary office should be immediately covered and promptly reported.

5. The material included in reports should be divided as to the subject matter, such as references to the typewriter, residences of the family during the summer of 1937 (at Chestertown, Maryland) PHILADELPHIA addresses of the WOODSTOCK TYPEWRITER COMPANY (1000 Connecticut Avenue N.W. and 1528 K Street N.W., Washington, D. C.), as well as any other prior addresses which must be shown to logically complete this phase of the investigation.

6. Following the file review by auxiliary offices which have conducted prior investigation in this matter, leads suggested by that review should be set forth and immediately covered and reported. Where doubt exists as to the advisability of covering such leads, they should be referred to the Bureau and New York for consideration. A recapitulation of all leads still pending in auxiliary offices should be set forth by each office in the next investigative report submitted by that office.

7. All interviews conducted must be exhaustive and must not be confined to the mere coverage of the leads involved. Each interview must develop all information in the possession of the person interviewed regarding all of his knowledge of the activities and associates of ALGER HISS.

In conducting investigation in this matter, it should be borne in mind that ALGER HISS has stated that he was never in contact with JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS after January 1, 1937. Any information which would place HISS and CHAMBERS together after January, 1937 and which could be definitely corroborated from independent sources other than CHAMBERS would automatically prove one count of the perjury indictment against HISS.

8. In conducting investigation in connection with the Woodstock typewriter, all Agents should be alert to obtain additional specimens from this machine. It will be recalled that the last specimen obtained while the machine was in the possession of HISS was dated in May, 1937. Specimens dated subsequent to January, 1938 would be of great significance in the retrial of this matter if they can be identified as prepared on the HISS machine while it was still in the possession of the HISS family.

In the immediate future, specific, detailed leads will be set forth for the various auxiliary offices. The investigation requested must be immediately conducted and submitted by teletype summary; a comprehensive report should follow teletype summary.

Very truly yours,

Edward Scheidt, SAC

Re WFO letter dated August 9, 1949, wherein the WFO set forth a request that certain antique dealers be located and interviewed.

On August 18, 1949, KENDRICK SCOFFIELD was interviewed by SA JAMES L. KIRKLAND at Spring Valley, Pa. He advised that he has also used the name HENRY B. ROBINSON while in the antique business in Washington, D. C., and he used this name to escape jury duty in that city. He advised further that WILLIAM SCOFFIELD is his brother but that WILLIAM SCOFFIELD was not connected with the business in Washington.

SCOFFIELD states that he was in the antique business from 1927 to 1946 in Washington. He continues in this business at Spring Valley. The nature of the articles which Mrs. HISS has claimed she purchased in November, or December, 1937, was discussed with him and he advised that he did not handle this type of article in his Washington business. He said he has some records of purchases and sales but nothing that would cover minor sales of the nature outlined. He further stated that he is confident that ALGER or PRISCILLA HISS never purchased anything in his store. He pointed out that he had followed the HISS trial in the public press and having noticed that HISS had resided in the Georgetown area, he had tried to recall if the HISS family had been in his shop at any time but that the name "did not ring a bell." SCOFFIELD further pointed out that the articles mentioned were handled in a shop operated by ANGELA CARMAN (Mrs. WILLIAM HUME) and if such purchases were in fact made, they probably would have been made at her shop. He added that she is no longer in business in Washington, but thinks she has set up a business somewhere in Delaware. It is noted that reference letter sets out a lead to contact Mrs. HUME at Bethany Beach, Delaware.

Re - JAHAM

With respect to the upholstering of a living room wing chair, SCOFFIELD stated this could have been done in a shop operated by one STEVENSON, first name not recalled, who operated this shop in the same block on Wisconsin Avenue as did SCOFFIELD, but who now works in the upholstery shop of the Senate Office Building.

SCOFFIELD said he had been in the newspaper business many years ago and as a result was "sensitive to this sort of thing" and therefore was confident that he would have recalled if HISS or his wife had done any business with him. He reiterated that he was sure that the HISS family had not made any purchases from him at any time in Washington, D. C.

JAHAM;
PERJURY,
INTERNAL SECURITY - R.

Re New York letter, 8/5/49.

The files of this office in this matter have been reviewed as requested in reference letter. It is not believed that there are any appropriate confidential informants in this Division who might have a refreshed recollection which would include information relative to the issue at hand. In this regard, a letter was directed to the Bureau in the captioned case dated 1/7/49, with a copy to New York, which outlined the possibility that former [redacted] now residing in Chicago, Ill., might have information of pertinence. It is not known if this informant was contacted as suggested. In the event he was not, the suggestion is again being offered that he might be able to furnish information concerning Party activities in Washington, D. C., in the middle thirties which might be relevant.

The file review further reflects that in report of SA JAMES L. KIRKLAND dated at Philadelphia, 3/8/49, on Page 8, it was indicated that JAMES MARSHALL made the statement that HISS had been "Communist or Communist inclined." A lead was set out suggesting that JAMES MARSHALL be interviewed at New York City. This office has no information to indicate whether or not this was done. In the event it was not, it is suggested that MARSHALL might be a productive source of information.

The report of SA JAMES FREW dated 4/6/49 at Washington, sets forth leads to locate ROBERT E. RAY, former CP organizer at Washington, who might well have information regarding HISS' activities in that city. As far as is known to this office, RAY has not been located. However, his location would seem important. The possibility that one SOPHIA MINKIN might know RAY's whereabouts was indicated in report of SA JAMES L. KIRKLAND dated at Philadelphia, 5/28/49. It was indicated that MINKIN might be located through the Greater New York Industrial Union Council - CIO, 1033 Broadway. It has been further indicated that MINKIN may have married a former editor of "The Pilot," MMU publication.

The review of the file in this Division fails to indicate any further matters which should be brought to the attention of the New York Office as suggestive of possible further investigation.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

The signatures for the year 1937 appearing in the register listed above as Q162 have been compared with the known handwriting specimens of ALGER HISS, PRISCILLA HISS and WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. The questioned signatures are not sufficiently comparable with the known handwriting of the above-mentioned individuals for a definite conclusion to be reached. The entry "Capt. and Mrs. H. T. Smith Washington, D. C.", dated "7-16-37" is in the same general style of writing as that used by PRISCILLA HISS. The entry after the date "Sept. 15" which is practically illegible but possibly in the signatures "Mr. and Mrs. GRAHAM NYC" and "Dr. Wm. DOONE NYC" is in the same general style of writing as that employed by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. Other than general styles of writing nothing of particular significance was found. This latter information appeared in Laboratory report D-95498 BU directed to the New Haven Office in a report dated March 4, 1949.

In your letter of September 9, 1949 the Laboratory's attention was directed to the signatures WILLIAM WHITTAKER, Butler, Pa. Although the WHITTAKER signatures were examined, there was nothing of significance found in regard to a comparison of the signatures with the known writing of Mr. and Mrs. HISS and WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. The two WHITTAKER signatures appearing after the date "7-12-37" may have been written by the writer of the two signatures directly below, namely Mrs. WILLIS MORNEWECK, Unity, Pa. and CHARLES MORNEWECK, Unity, Pa. indicating there were four in the party.

Examination requested by: New Haven

Reference: Letter dated September 20, 1949

Examination requested: Document

Specimens:

- Q168 Twelve sheets of loose-leaf notebook paper taken from a tourist registration book from the home of Mrs. ROSE GRAY, Terryville, Connecticut, covering registrations from February 7, 1937 through November 27, 1937.
- Q169 Tourist registration book from the HAARE TOURIST HOUSE in Terryville, Connecticut covering registrations from March 21, 1935 through August 25, 1937.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

The signatures appearing on the evidence listed above have been compared with the known handwriting specimens of ALGER HISS, PRISCILLA HISS and WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. The questioned signatures are not sufficiently comparable with the known writing of the above-mentioned individuals for a definite conclusion to be reached. The entries, Mrs. DONALD E. SPENCER, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. ST. CLAIR and Mrs. J. E. BURN, Washington, D. C. on Q168 are in the same general style of writing as that used by PRISCILLA HISS. Other than a general style of writing nothing of particular significance was found.

The questioned evidence, Q168 and Q169, is returned herewith to the New Haven Office, photographic copies having been made for the completion of the Laboratory's files.

SYNOPSIS: Dr. OGLESBY PAUL, 609 Cumnor Rd., Kenilworth, Ill., in signed statement advised he was Camp Counselor at Rigs O'Marlow, Chestertown, Md. during summer, 1936 and summer, 1937 until first part of August. Exact date of PAUL's departure from Camp in 1937 can be ascertained through reference to hospital records of his mother. In 1936 Dr. PAUL recalled that TIMOTHY HOBSON was at Camp. PAUL met ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS at Camp in 1936 on 2 or more occasions when they visited HOBSON for short periods of from 1 to 4 days duration. In either 1936 or 1937 Dr. PAUL vaguely remembers that HISS and wife stayed at residence of Miss ELIZABETH PARKER, Chestertown, Md., who on one occasion accompanied HISS and wife to Camp. Dr. PAUL not acquainted with friends or associates of HISS and wife with exception of members of FANSLER family. He has no recollection of statements made by HISS or wife that would indicate activity harmful to interests of the Government. Dr. PAUL can state HOBSON was at Camp at least half of summer term, 1936 and possibly for full term but believes HOBSON left early to spend remaining vacation with parents at place unknown. Dr. PAUL's recollection is that HOBSON arrived late for camp term about first week in July, 1937; was accompanied by parents; and had broken

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

Names of persons who attended horse show at Kellogg-Smith Camp, Rigs O'Marlow, Chestertown, 7/24/37 obtained through review of "The Enterprise," Chestertown newspaper published 7/28/37. Mrs. J. HORTON SILCOX, nee NANCY BRANHAM, who participated in 7/24/37 horse show at Rigs O'Marlow, recalls TIMOTHY HOBSON with broken leg and on crutches and at Kellogg-Smith Camp in 1937, and recalls HOBSON being visited by ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS. She had no idea as to duration of HISS stay at Chestertown at that time. H. NORMAN GRIEB, Chestertown, Md., a defense witness at first trial of ALGER HISS, stated in signed statement furnished to agents of Baltimore Office 9/14/49 that he served as a counselor at Rigs O'Marlow during 1937. GRIEB recalled TIMOTHY HOBSON as camper at Rigs O'Marlow from middle of June to first part of Sept. 1937. HOBSON on crutches until about mid-summer 1937, according to GRIEB. He further recalled ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS arriving at Chestertown, Md., soon after HOBSON's arrival and staying there for about one month. During the HISS stay at Chestertown, GRIEB recalled that ALGER stated in the presence of PRISCILLA, TIMOTHY, and GRIEB that he, ALGER, would not be around for a few days as he had to go to Washington, D.C., on business. GRIEB did not recall seeing HISS for the next couple of days. No commercial photographers in business at Chestertown during 1937. Dr. ROBERT W. FARR, physician who attended persons at Rigs O'Marlow in 1937, has no record of and does not recall TIMOTHY HOBSON. Relatives and acquaintances of HISS in St. Michaels,

ESPIONAGE - R

On September 23, 1949, Assistant United States Attorney Thomas F. Murphy, Southern District of New York, advised this office that he had just completed an interview with DONALD APPELL of the House Committee on Un-American Activities and that APPELL had informed him that the latter had been either in the office or the residence of Ambassador WILLIAM BULLITT in Washington on the date that ALGER HISS was indicted by the Federal Grand Jury at New York City.

According to APPELL, BULLITT seemed rather happy about this incident and informed APPELL, at this time, that one of his informants, probably in Paris, had informed him that "both of the HISS boys were Communists". BULLITT is alleged to have given this information to Dr. STANLEY HORNBECK in view of HORNBECK's position in the State Department, the latter having been ALGER HISS' boss.

This information was sent by teletype to the Bureau on September 23, 1949, and on September 26, 1949, the Bureau requested the New York Office to initiate an interrogation of both BULLITT and HORNBECK in connection with the statements made by APPELL.

It will be recalled that Dr. HORNBECK testified as a defense witness in the recent trial of ALGER HISS, and of apparent significance is the following quotation from the Transcript of the Testimony of Dr. HORNBECK at the HISS trial:

"Q: Now Doctor, did you ever hear any reports concerning the loyalty of the Defendant HISS?

A: A close personal friend of mine came to me on one occasion and said that he heard....

"Q: Do you want to fix the time, Doctor?

A: I cannot fix the time. I would say it was probably in 1943, 1942, or even 1944.

"Q: Can we agree it was before 1943?

A: Oh, yes.... And told me that he had heard that Mr. HISS was a fellow traveller.

Letter to Director

"Q: That was a close personal friend of yours?
A: Yes.

"Q: And you knew what a fellow traveller was at that time?
A: Well, we did not know definitely what a fellow traveller was, and we did not take a fellow traveller as seriously at that time as I think now.

"Q: But I am trying to find out whether you knew what was meant by the phrase 'fellow traveller'.
A: Approximately, yes.

"Q: You think this was sometime in 1943 or 1944?
A: I think it was in 1943."

It would appear from the foregoing testimony that there is some possibility that Dr. HORNBECK is probably mistaken about the date, and also, the possibility exists that the close personal friend mentioned in the above quoted testimony may be former Ambassador BULLITT.

The current "Who's Who" lists former Ambassador BULLITT's residence as 1811 Walnut Street and 2447 Kalorama Road, Washington, D. C. This edition of "Who's Who" lists the address of Dr. HORNBECK as The Hague, Netherlands.

It is to be noted, however, that on June 16, 1949, when Dr. HORNBECK testified as a defense witness for ALGER HISS, the first question asked of him by Mr. STRYKER was as follows:

"Q: Dr. HORNBECK, you live in Washington, don't you?
A: Yes sir."

The Washington Field Office is, therefore, requested to interview Mr. BULLITT and Dr. HORNBECK, both of whom are believed to be presently residing in Washington, D. C.

In the event that it is determined that Mr. BULLITT is residing at his Philadelphia address, the Philadelphia Office should be advised to conduct the necessary investigation. If the Washington Field Office determines that Dr. HORNBECK is not residing in its district, efforts should be made to determine his present whereabouts, and a copy of this letter should be forwarded to the district in which he was located so that he can be interviewed in accordance with the Bureau's request.

DETAILS: This report is concerned with efforts to locate the maid EVELYN, employed by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS in Baltimore in late 1930's.

Mrs. BETTIE SHAW, Business Office, Bryn Mawr College, Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, advised that her records reflected only a 3 x 5 card bearing the name RAYMOND DAY, 703 Haverford Road, Apartment #3, Bryn Mawr, Pa. The card indicated that DAY was first employed by the college in 1937; that he was a porter-waiter and that his age was then 21. The semi-monthly payroll records were checked from 1936 to 1942, but there was no indication that DAY performed any work. Mrs. SHAW was of the opinion that DAY was probably hired, but never showed up for work.

Examination requested by: New York

Reference: Letter dated October 25, 1949

Examination requested: Document

Specimens:

Qc171 Negative and accompanying print of a page of handwritten notes beginning "1937 July 1- Alger brought Timmy to camp"

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

The handwriting appearing on specimen Qc171 has been compared with the known handwriting specimens of ALGER HISS in the Laboratory but a definite conclusion was not reached, inasmuch as there are some characteristics in common that cannot be explained in the questioned and known writings. The examination reveals many differences existing in the two sets of specimens. The handwriting characteristics that are different in the known writing are consistent throughout while the similarities in the questioned and known writings only appear in certain parts of the writing which might possibly be due to a common style of letter design.

The evidence submitted is returned herewith to the New York Office, photographic prints having been made for the files of the Laboratory.

JAHAM. DURING INTERVIEW YESTERDAY CHAMBERS FURNISHED FOLLOWING INFORMATION. PROBABLY DURING AUGUST OR SEPTEMBER, THIRTYFIVE WHEN THE CHAMBERS WERE LIVING AT SMITHTOWN, PENNA ON THE DELAWARE WITH MAXIM. LEIBER, PRISCILLA HISS VISITED THE CHAMBERS ALONE AT SMITHTOWN AND LATER ALGER CAME AND THEY DEPARTED TOGETHER. ENROUTE TO SMITHTOWN IN THE OLD NINETEEN TWENTY-NINE HISS FORD, PRISCILLA STOPPED OVERNIGHT AT THE FOUNTAIN INN LOCATED IN DOYLESTOWN, PA. WHERE US HIGHWAY ROUTES TWO ZERO TWO AND SIX ONE ONE INTERSECT. CHAMBERS HAS A CLEAR RECOLLECTION OF THE INCIDENT OF PRISCILLA STOPPING AT THE FOUNTAIN INN BECAUSE SHE DISCUSSED WITH CHAMBERS SOME UNRECALLED INCIDENT WHICH OCCURRED AT THE INN. CHAMBERS THINKS PRISCILLA WOULD REGISTER AS MRS. ALGER HISS OR MRS. PRISCILLA HISS AS HE NEVER KNEW THE HISSES TO USE ANY FICTITIOUS NAMES. CHAMBERS STATES HE MIGHT BE WRONG ON THE OCCASION OR EVEN THE YEAR WHEN PRISCILLA HISS STOPPED AT THE FOUNTAIN INN, BUT SUGGESTED THAT THE REGISTRATION RECORDS IF AVAILABLE BE CHECKED FOR SUCH REGISTRATION FOR THE PERIOD NINETEEN THIRTYFOUR DASH THIRTY SEVEN. CHAMBERS ALSO ADVISED THAT DURING THE EASTER WEEKEND OF NINETEEN THIRTYFOUR OR THIRTYFIVE, PROBABLY THIRTYFIVE, ALGER HISS AND HE MADE A TRIP IN THE HISS FORD FROM WASHINGTON, D.C. PROBABLY TO ERWINNA, PA. TO VISIT JOHN HERRMANN AND HERRMANN-S WIFE, JOSEPHINE HERBST. ON THE SATURDAY NIGHT BEFORE THE ABOVE EASTER SUNDAY ALGER

AND HE STOPPED OVERNIGHT AT A TOURIST HOME LOCATED SEVERAL MILES NORTH OR SOUTH, PREFERABLY NORTH, OF CENTER SQUARE, PA. ON US ROUTE TWO ZERO TWO. TOURIST HOME WAS A PRIVATE HOME LOCATED ON RIGHT SIDE OF ROUTE TWO ZERO TWO FACING NORTH AND HAD A SIGN ON THE FRONT LAWN BEARING THE NAME OF THE OWNERS, NAME UNRECALLED BUT DEFINITELY A POLISH NAME. CHAMBERS CLEARLY RECALLS THAT ALGER PERSONALLY SIGNED THE REGISTER FOR BOTH OF THEM, USING THE NAMES ALGER AND DONALD HISS, CHAMBERS BEING DONALD HISS. CHAMBERS RECALLS DETAILS OF REGISTRATION SO WELL BECAUSE HE AND ALGER HAD SOME DISCUSSION ABOUT THE WISDOM OF REGISTERING IN THIS FASHION. CHAMBERS COULD NOT RECALL WHETHER ALGER SIGNED A REGISTRATION CARD OR BOOK BUT THINKS SAME MAY STILL BE AVAILABLE SUGGESTED PHILADELPHIA CONDUCT APPROPRIATE INVESTIGATION AT DOYLESTOWN AND CENTER SQUARE, PA. IF ANY ACTUAL REGISTRATIONS LOCATED, SAME SHOULD BE FORWARDED TO LABORATORY FOR COMPARISON WITH KNOWN HANDWRITING OF ALGER AND PRISCILLA HISS. CHAMBERS HAS PREVIOUSLY ADVISED NEW YORK REGARDING HERRMANN AND HERBST AND INQUIRED WHETHER HERRMANN HAD EVER BEEN LOCATED AND INTERVIEWED. BALTO. FILE REFLECTS ONLY INFORMATION REGARDING EFFORTS TO LOCATE HERRMANN. CHAMBERS FEELS HERRMANN DEFINITELY KNOWS OF HISS UNDERGROUND CONNECTION AND ACTIVITIES AND IS QUITE CERTAIN HERBST ALSO HAS SAME KNOWLEDGE. HERRMANN AND HERBST WERE DIVORCED OR BROKE UP ABOUT NINETEEN THIRTYSEVEN. BOTH WERE CP MEMBERS AND UPON BREAKUP BETWEEN THEM, BROWDER AWARDED THEIR NICE HOME AT ERWINNA, PA. TO HERBST WHERE SHE MAY STILL BE LIVING OR PRESENT WHEREABOUTS BE KNOWN. HERBST IS NOVELIST AND WRITER OF SOME REPUTATION

AND CHAMBERS HAS HEARD RECENTLY FROM AN UNRECALLED SOURCE THAT HERBST HAS DEFECTED, MAKING HER A GOOD POTENTIAL WITNESS IF TRUE. CHAMBERS CONSIDERS INTERVIEWS WITH HERRMANN AND HERBST AND POSSIBLE DEVELOPMENT OF THEM AS WITNESSES AS EXTREMELY IMPORTANT. SUGGESTED PHILA. AND NY ENDEAVOR DISCREETLY TO DETERMINE PRESENT WHEREABOUTS OF HERBST AND TO CONFIRM HER DEFECTION, IF SHE HAS NOT ALREADY BEEN INTERVIEWED. BUREAU REQUESTED TO ADVISE IF INTERVIEW WITH HERBST IS AUTHORIZED, WHETHER OR NOT SHE HAS DEFECTED. PHILA. REQUESTED TO SUTEL BALTO. RESULTS OF INVESTIGATION AT DOYLESTOWN AND CENTER SQUARE SO CHAMBERS CAN BE ADVISED OF SAME AS HE STATES ANY DATES ESTABLISHED BY SUCH INVESTIGATION MAY STIMULATE HIS RECOLLECTION ON OTHER SEQUENCES OF EVENTS.

Efforts to locate the tourist house at which ALGER HISS and WHITTAKER CHAMBERS remained overnight on the Saturday night before Easter, 1934 or 1935, have been fruitless.

A detailed map of Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, is being forwarded with this letter for the assistance of the Baltimore Office in attempting to refresh WHITTAKER CHAMBERS' recollection of the tourist house on Route 202 in the vicinity of Center Square, Pennsylvania. The map has inked notations of landmarks, many of which were present during the period, 1934-35. The distances north and south of Center Square of these landmarks are approximated. The notation on the map regarding Strassburger's Estate indicates that the estate is bordered by a white stone wall approximately ten feet in height and approximately two-tenths of a mile in length. This wall parallels Route 202 on the west or left side facing north and is a little more than one mile north of Center Square. The notation regarding William Penn Inn was entered on the map in that it is a landmark that might easily refresh CHAMBERS' recollection since the Inn was located at the same site approximately four miles north of Center Square on the west or left side facing north since approximately 1925. The Gwynned Inn is indicated on the map as the Sunset Inn, by which name it was known in 1934-35.

According to CHAMBERS, after examining map of Montgomery County, Pa., which map covers area of Route 202 where CHAMBERS believes tourist house he and HISS stayed in 1934 or 1935 is located, the house was located probably a half to one mile south of Center Square.

Likely houses located in that area were checked previously, and no indication was had that any were tourist houses or were even inhabited by Polish people.

No reinvestigation in this area is being conducted by the Philadelphia Office unless advised to the contrary by the Bureau or the office of origin.

Re Newark letter to the Director dated 12/2/49.

Two references to a DAVID SHERMAN, located in Philadelphia indices, may be identical with the individual mentioned in referenced letter, although no definite determination could be made.

Philadelphia Confidential Informant PH-30 made available a sheet of paper bearing the name of DAVID SHERMAN, 1734 Colonial Street, and contained notations regarding death affidavits and related documents. It could not be ascertained if SHERMAN was the deceased or the survivor. The informant made the information available to SA HERBERT E. BULFINS, Philadelphia, from Philadelphia FBI Headquarters, 1317 Parkersburg Securities Building, on 1/24/40.

Philadelphia Confidential Informant PAC-52 advised on 3/19/45 that ALVIN MILLIN was interested in obtaining the address of their mutual friend, IRVING SHERMAN, from SABINE LEW. According to Philadelphia Confidential Informants, MILLIN was a Communist Party member in 1944 and 1945, and LEW was an associate of known CP members as well as being active in the Philadelphia Council of American-Soviet Friendship and the Philadelphia School of Social Science and Art. All three organizations have been cited by the Attorney General as coming within the purview of Executive Order 9835.

Records at the Philadelphia Credit Bureau, Inc., and at the Detective Division and Intelligence Squad of the Philadelphia Police Department were checked by SA JOHN J. CHILCHER on 12/6/49. No reference to DAVID or RABBIT MILLIN was located.

No further investigation is being conducted by the Philadelphia Office, and a report is not being submitted unless so requested by the Bureau or the office of origin.

On December 20, 1950, it was determined from [redacted] who should be considered a Confidential Informant of known reliability, that a ROBERT RAY was organizer for the Lehigh Valley Section of the CP in mid 1930. It is possible the RAY is identical with the ROBERT RAY who was a CP organizer in Washington DC in 1935-36. This latter individual was considered as a possible witness to show HISS' affiliation with the CP. RAY is presently in the Eastern State Penitentiary, 21st and Fairmount Sts., Philadelphia, serving 20 to 50 years for armed robberies in Philadelphia as the "Aspirin Bandit", being committed in 1938.

The above information was telephoned to ASAC ALAN H. BELMONT, New York, who was requested to advise if the Philadelphia office should interview RAY as a possible Government witness at the HISS trial in New York.

ASAC BELMONT advised he would contact the assistant to the Attorney General in New York and the Bureau and then advise this office if he wanted the interview conducted. Nothing further was heard as of the date of this memorandum.

KILSOO KENNETH HAAN
SECURITY MATTER - C
(Bufile 65-569)

The following investigation was conducted by SA HERBERT F. GREATHOUSE on August 28, 1950:

For the past several years [redacted]
[redacted] Dr. SINGMUND RHEE, President of the South Korean Republic. At the San Francisco Conference of the United Nations in May of 1945, [redacted] was serving in this capacity, and was registered with the U. S. Department of Justice as [redacted] of the Korean Government. He stated that President RHEE was then in the United States in an attempt to secure recognition of the Korean Republic through the United Nations. [redacted] explained that it was necessary for Dr. RHEE to make his request for recognition through ALGER HISS, who was then acting as Secretary General of the UN.
Dr. RHEE contacted ALGER HISS and requested that the question of Korean recognition be brought before the UN, but received a very short, curt letter in reply which stated in effect that the nations assembled had decided Korea was divided and therefore could not receive recognition. [redacted] is in possession of a copy of this letter written by ALGER HISS.

b7D

Previous to the San Francisco Conference, President RHEE advised [redacted]
[redacted] that he had learned of an agreement between the late PRESI-DENT ROOSEVELT and JOSEPH STALIN at the Yalta Conference whereby Korea was to be partitioned at the 38th parallel. This was done according to President RHEE without his being consulted and very much against his will. Concentrated effort in the United States to obtain a copy of this agreement proved of no avail. However, [redacted] stated that he contacted one LOUIS ADAMICK, a writer of Yugoslav extraction, who was then residing in Bucks County, Pa., and through ADAMICK, he was able to make contact with the Yugoslav delegation to the UN. After becoming friendly with the Yugoslav delegation, which was described by [redacted] as Communist controlled, [redacted] was able to contact a member of the Russian delegation to the UN, and from this Russian was able to obtain the approximate text of the Yalta Agreement wherein ROOSEVELT and STALIN had agreed to partition Korea at the 38th parallel. He said that he also learned that the agreement on the Korean partition had been prepared mostly upon the recommendation of ALGER HISS, and in addition, that JOSEPH STALIN had suggested ALGER HISS be considered as Secretary General to the UN, and as a result thereof, HISS was unopposed.

[redacted] stated that in addition to the barrier of trying to get by ALGER HISS at the United Nations Conference in San Francisco, the Korean delegation encountered considerable difficulty from one KILSOO KENNETH HAAN, whom he described as the Washington representative of the Sino Peoples League, which had been endorsed at the San Francisco Conference of the UN by the Yugoslav delegation under the leadership of one IVAN SUBASIC.

b7D

[redacted] stated that HAAN is presently in the State of California, possibly San Francisco, and information furnished by President SINGMUND RHEE of the South Korea Republic indicates that HAAN is believed to be head of the Korean Communist organization in the United States or functioning in a very high level in that organization. [redacted] said that HAAN caused members of the unrecognized Korean delegation to the San Francisco Conference of the UN to be trailed and closely watched while they were in the United States, and on one occasion [redacted] himself, was directly approached by KILSOO HAAN during the time of the San Francisco Conference in May, 1945 and told directly by HAAN that he should have no further dealings with the Yugoslav delegation to the UN since he would get no where dealing with that group because [redacted] as known to them as a representative of Dr. SINGMUND RHEE of the South Korean Republic. [redacted] said that HAAN, in his conversation, indicated that he was completely in sympathy with the Yugoslav and Russian delegations and directly opposed to Dr. SINGMUND RHEE.

Director, FBI

[redacted] said he has learned from Dr. RHEE that KILSOO HAAN has done everything in his power to interfere with Korean missions on their official visit to Washington, D. C. since 1945.

b7D

When questioned further concerning his contact with the Yugoslav delegation through LOUIS ADAMIC, [redacted] said that one MONROE STERN, [redacted], was in 1945 acting as Press Officer for the Yugoslav delegation, and through the medium of ADAMIC and STERN, he was able to obtain the information previously set forth.

In 1920, MORRIS STERN was employed as a newspaper writer for the Hartford Times in Hartford, Conn. Sometime in the 1930's, STERN served as the Assistant City Editor of the New York Journal, later joining the New York Newspaper Guild. Around 1935 or 1936, STERN disappeared and was not seen nor heard of again by [redacted] until he appeared as Press Officer for the Yugoslav delegation in San Francisco. From STERN's actions and connection with the Yugoslavs, [redacted] would consider him definitely a threat to the security of the United States and in all probability an active contact of Yugoslav Communists and agents in the United States.

He said that MORRIS STERN is a very close friend and associate of one DOROTHY PARKER, a short story writer, presently residing in New York City. A short time after the San Francisco Conference of the UN, Mr. GAUVREAU personally saw MORRIS STERN and DOROTHY PARKER together at a New York cocktail party in the late summer of 1945 when the two appeared to be busily engaged in discussing some matter which lasted approximately two or three hours. [redacted] said that he has not heard of MORRIS STERN since but believes that due to his newspaper connections he is possibly still in NYC.

This material is being furnished as matter of information to New York and Los Angeles .

Information has been received from MR. HARRY MARTIN, former partner of THOMAS FANSLER, the deceased father of PRISCILLA HISS, to the effect that friends of the HISS family are still attempting to obtain information which may be utilized in the appeal of HISS' conviction. MR. MARTIN has indicated that he was recently contacted by one MANICE LOCKWOOD, of 20 East 74th Street, New York City. This was a personal contact, and LOCKWOOD advised MARTIN that friends of the HISS family did not feel that an adequate investigation had been made by the attorneys representing HISS prior to his trial, and that they felt additional information could be obtained which would help HISS' cause on appeal. He attempted to obtain information from MARTIN regarding the typewriter which figured prominently in the trial of HISS. MARTIN did not divulge any additional information at this time.

LOCKWOOD indicated that he would be available at telephone Bryn Mawr 0335 for a short period. It has been established that this number is listed to MRS. J. HENRY LONGMAID, 139 North Merion Avenue, Bryn Mawr, Pa. The indices of the Philadelphia Office are negative concerning both LOCKWOOD and MRS. LONGMAID.

The above information is submitted merely to advise the Bureau of the continued activity of HISS, as outlined above.

OLIVER J. CARON, Remington Rand Company, 162 1/2 Locust Street, whose home address is 5318 Locust Street, Philadelphia, telephonically advised on November 20, 1950 that he had made available records of the Woodstock Typewriter Company and assisted Special Agent JAMES L. HIRKLAND of this office in searching these records for data relative to the typewriter which figured in captioned case.

Mr. CARON advised that approximately three weeks ago, a Mr. KENNETH SIMON, Attorney, 150 Broadway, New York City, and another man, whose name Mr. CARON did not recall, had visited him at his home and asked that he again search the Woodstock Sales Records for information concerning the original typewriter. They also told Mr. CARON that another Woodstock typewriter is now considered pertinent to the case and asked that records for this typewriter also be located. Mr. CARON stated that the men had mentioned the serial number of the second typewriter. However, he has forgotten the number. He believed that the second typewriter is a Woodstock and of a somewhat later model than the original typewriter.

Mr. CARON advised that he told the men that he believed he had destroyed his own records for that period. Mr. CARON advised that this was only an excuse that he had given the men, in order to avoid a task which might take weeks to accomplish. He explained that he has not destroyed the records concerned.

Mr. CARON stated that he was again contacted by the same two men at his home on November 19, 1950 and was asked again to conduct a search of his records relative to the two typewriters. Mr. SIMON offered to pay Mr. CARON for the time such a search might entail. Mr. CARON again offered the same excuse and was told that if he changed his mind and would make such a search, he should write or telephone Mr. SIMON.

Mr. CARON asked for advice as to what he should tell these men if they approach him again and was told that the FBI could not advise him in any way in this matter. It was explained that it was entirely up to his own judgment as to whether he complies with the requests made of him.

Re Mr. HEINRICH's telephone call to Philadelphia, November 20, 1950, and Philadelphia teletype to the Bureau, November 21, 1950.

The following investigation was conducted by SA HERBERT F. GRATHOUSE at Point Pleasant, Pa., November 21, 1950.

[redacted] Point Pleasant, Pa., was contacted at her home at 12 [redacted] and was requested to furnish a copy of a letter previously [redacted] which had been written by ALGER HISS to Dr. SYNGMAN RHEE at the time of the United Nations Conference on International Organization at San Francisco, Calif. in May, 1945. [redacted] stated that [redacted] was in New York but in his absence, she would make a copy of the letter available. She produced a manuscript of about 70 pages, prepared by [redacted] based upon a number of documents he had written or received by SYNGMAN RHEE in his capacity as President of the Korean government in exile. It is pointed out that [redacted] the Korean government, acting on behalf of SYNGMAN RHEE for the past several years.

Included in the documents upon which the manuscript was based was a letter addressed to Dr. RHEE dated May 14, 1945 and signed by ALGER HISS, Secretary General, United Nations Conference on International Organization. [redacted] allowed the investigating agent to prepare a copy of HISS's letter on her typewriter and also pointed out in the manuscript a letter from DORLAND SANDIFER, Secretary General of the U. S. Delegation of the UN Conference dated May 14, 1945, also addressed to Dr. RHEE. She pointed out that both letters bore the same date and SANDIFER's letter was somewhat stronger in announcing the decision not to accord the Korean delegate's recognition of the Conference. Accordingly copies of both letters were made. [redacted] had the originals in none of the documents in the manuscript but had been permitted to copy the documents from material in possession of SYNGMAN RHEE.

During the process of preparing the two copies on [redacted] typewriter, it was observed that the manuscript bore no title but that the general theme of the story appears to deal with an attempt to expose an American "sell-out" of the Korean government. The treatment given SYNGMAN RHEE at the hands of ALGER HISS and the State Department is dealt with in some length. The story begins with the Russo-Japanese War. It alleges that President THEODORE ROOSEVELT in arbitrating between the Russians and the Japanese first sold out the Koreans by agreeing to Japanese occupation of Korea. The Yalta Conference is discussed in some detail, mentioning a secret agreement made by STALIN, ROOSEVELT and CHURCHILL, whereby the Russians upon entering the Japanese War, would proceed southward to the 38th parallel and the American troops, after invading the mainland of Asia, would proceed to the 38th parallel northward. ALGER HISS is alleged to have been a dominating factor influencing President ROOSEVELT to agree to Russian proposals in this respect. The manuscript appears to attack the State Department for failure to make public or act upon a report on the Far East by General WEDERMEYER, who allegedly foresaw the possibility of future conflict in Asia, such as the present affair in Korea.

Mr. HARRY MARTIN, former partner, THOMAS FANSLER, the deceased father of PRISCILLA HISS, was interviewed concerning another matter on November 15, 1950, during which interview MARTIN furnished information pertinent to instant case.

Mr. MARTIN advised that his recent conversation with one MANICE LOCKWOOD, mentioned in referenced letter, ultimately resulted in his telling LOCKWOOD that he would not furnish any information concerning the HISS case without proper clearance through Mr. GERALD M. SWANSTRON, General Counsel, Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company. MARTIN further advised LOCKWOOD that SWANSTRON could be contacted at the central office of the above-mentioned company which is located in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Mr. MARTIN advised that he had recently received a letter from GERALD SWANSTRON which reflected that SWANSTRON had been contacted by MANICE LOCKWOOD. LOCKWOOD made various requests concerning the material presently in possession of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company. It was told by SWANSTRON that he could examine anything he desired in the company's files. However, this examination would have to be limited to the confines of the company's main office and if LOCKWOOD desired to remove anything from this office, a subpoena would be necessary.

OLIVER J. CAROW, Remington-Rand Company, 1324 Locust Street, home address 5318 Locust Street, Philadelphia, telephonically contacted this office on 12/15/50, and requested that the writer call him at his home during the evening of 12/15/50.

The writer had previously spoken with Mr. CAROW on 11/20/50, and had obtained the information set out in referenced letter. During the course of this contact the writer furnished Mr. CAROW his name and Mr. CAROW evidently assumed that the writer had some connection with captioned case.

The writer called Mr. CAROW, as requested during the evening of 12/15/50, at which time CAROW advised that he had been contacted twice by Mr. KENNETH SIMON, Attorney for ALGER HISS, and that SIMON had again requested he review Woodstock typewriter records for information pertinent to the typewriter involved in this case. Mr. SIMON furnished CAROW with a serial number, N-230099, and requested that sales records for this typewriter be obtained. Mr. CAROW advised that he had spent two evenings during the past week looking for records pertaining to this typewriter without success. He requested the writer advise him whether the serial number furnished him by Mr. SIMON was near the serial number for which he and SA JAMES L. KIRKLAND had searched for records previously.

A review of the file in this case reflects that Woodstock N-230099 was determined by the laboratory to be identical with the typewriter with which the questioned documents in this case were copied.

The writer contacted Mr. CAROW at 10:00 a.m., 12/16/50, and advised him that another agent of this office would contact him on 12/16/50.

Court Denies Rehearing Of Alger Hiss Appeal

New York, Jan. 4—(AP)—The United States Court of Appeals today unanimously refused to grant a re-hearing of an appeal by Alger Hiss, former State Department official, on his perjury conviction.

The 46-year-old defendant, sentenced last year to five years' imprisonment, is free in $10,000 bail pending final disposition of his case by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Hiss' conviction was upheld by the Appeals Court on December 7. The court today extended the stay of its mandate to begin sentence from January 6 to January 31 to give Hiss additional time to file a writ of certiorari to the higher court.

This letter has been turned over to the Philadelphia Office by MARTIN, who stated that he found it during a review of additional personal papers not located by him when he originally attempted to locate correspondence possibly typed on the HISS typewriter.

In view of the fact that the HISS appeal has not been decided, it is thought that the Bureau may desire to compare the enclosed letter with known specimens submitted by WHITTAKER CHAMEERS.

Should the enclosed letter be of no value, it is requested that it be returned to the Philadelphia Office so that it in turn may be given to Mr. MARTIN.

UNSOLVED SITUATIONS
INTERNAL SECURITY - R

Reference is made to Bureau letter dated 4/3/44 in which it was pointed out that BORIS BYKOV was mentioned by WALTER G. KRIVITSKY, a former head of Soviet Military Intelligence over Western Europe, in his testimony before the Dies Committee in 1939 as the individual who was in charge of Soviet Military Intelligence in the United States from 1936 on. KRIVITSKY failed to furnish additional identifying data relative to BYKOV but left the impression that he was still in charge of Soviet Military Intelligence in the United States during 1939.

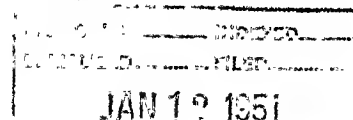

Subsequent to KRIVITSKY'S death, Mrs. KRIVITSKY, known as TONIA GINSBERG, advised SUZANNE LA FOLLETTE, a close associate of her deceased husband, that a Colonel BYKOV had worked with KRIVITSKY in Italy as an agent of the Soviet Military Intelligence and was later placed in charge of the activities of that organization in the United States. Mrs. KRIVITSKY described BYKOV in 1939 as about 40 years of age and dark red hair, medium height, brown eyes with thick brown eyebrows and eyelashes. She stated that he had very red skin especially about his neck and was always talking about himself.

With a view towards identifying PETER, who was WHITTAKER CHAMBERS' superior in Soviet Espionage, an analysis was made of the information furnished by CHAMBERS, a review of the New York file on BORIS BYKOV, with aliases and a review of other files in the New York office. CHAMBERS advised that he first met PETER in the Fall of 1936 in New York City in front of St. Patrick's Cathedral. He met PETER many times after this up to early 1938 when CHAMBERS broke with the Soviets. The meetings took place at various theaters in New York. Some meetings took place in Washington, D. C. PETER never indicated where he lived. He rarely mentioned anything about his background. However, CHAMBERS gathered that PETER had been in Russian Secret Police work or had been a prosecutor for the Russian Government. Further that probably from 1932 to 1934 PETER was doing secret work in Europe. He probably arrived in the United States in late 1935 or early 1936.

CHAMBERS never knew PETER'S true identity; however, after he broke with the Soviets in 1938, he had a long conversation with General KRIVITSKY in late April 1938. After furnishing KRIVITSKY with all his descriptive data concerning PETER, KRIVITSKY stated that PETER was BORIS BYKOV. This was not a positive identification but was probably a fairly good one since both CHAMBERS and KRIVITSKY were only out of the service of the Soviets a short time.

CHAMBERS described PETER as follows:

Age:	In 1936, late 40s
Height:	5' 7"
Build:	Medium
Hair:	Reddish, thinning
Eyes:	Reddish brown
Eyelashes:	Reddish
Complexion:	Ruddy
Mouth:	Full lips
Teeth:	Appeared to have all his own teeth
Nose:	Thin, pointed nose, particularly thin at the end and his nose occasionally quivered.
Characteristics:	Clean shaven, well proportioned, neat dresser, wore hard worsted expensive but conservative suits, always wore a hat, was quick in his movements, probably wore reading glasses, not cocky or conceited but definitely authoritative in his manner, had a ferret-like way about him.
Peculiarities:	Invariably carried right hand inside his jacket or overcoat (Napoleon style)
Languages:	Spoke Russian, spoke German with a Yiddish accent, spoke very poor English when he first came to the United States but improved during his stay.

Inasmuch as all logical leads have been covered in an effort to identify BYKOV with negative results that case is being closed. However, in order that this individual's activities may be familiar to other offices, it is being set forth herewith.

Miss Expected to Begin Jail Sentence Thursday

New York, March 16—(AP)—Alger Hiss is expected to begin serving his five-year prison sentence for perjury next week.

The U. S. Supreme Court refused last Monday to review the case of the former high-ranking State Department official. He was convicted of lying when he told a grand jury he never gave government secrets to Whittaker Chambers, an admitted ex-Communist courier.

U. S. Attorney Irving H. Saypol said yesterday that he would ask that Hiss be sent to prison Thursday. He added that Hiss could move within 60 days for modification of the sentence, but that such action would not delay imprisonment.

Alger Hiss Starts Term At Lewisburg

Lewisburg, Pa., March 29—Alger Hiss today began his first full day as an ordinary convict in the federal penitentiary here.

The 46-year-old former State Department official, convicted of perjury, was transferred here yesterday from the New York federal detention house to serve a five-year term.

He made the trip in a prison bureau bus with several other prisoners. He was hustled into the penitentiary, given prison clothes and assigned to a cell in the orientation section.

Warden G. W. Humphrey said he will remain in the section for 30 days.

He surrendered for his prison term last Thursday after the U. S. Supreme Court refused to review his appeal. He was convicted January 21, 1950, on two counts of perjury.

Mr. Raymond Schindler, one of the heads of the Schindler Bureau of Investigation, 7 East 44th Street,
New York City, and one of his investigators, Mr. Shelby Wilkins, furnished the following information to the Bureau on April 5, 1951:

Schindler stated that one of his valued clients is the law firm of White and Case in New York City. He stated a valued client of White and Case is Mr. Lockwood, Sr., the father of Manice Lockwood, who you will recall is an investigator for the Hiss defense and who has been instrumental in attempting to find a flaw in the Hiss typewriter testimony in connection with the two Hiss trials. Schindler stated that White and Case called him in because of their relation with Lockwood, Sr., and requested that Schindler conduct certain investigation for the present Hiss attorneys. Schindler held a consultation with Chester Lane, one of the counsels for Hiss. Lane told Schindler that Manice Lockwood had been conducting an extensive investigation in an attempt to duplicate the Hiss typewriter, apparently with the thought in mind that if the exact characteristics of the Hiss typewriter could be duplicated in another machine, the effectiveness of the testimony tying in the Chambers documents with the Hiss typewriter would be destroyed. Chester Lane ordered Schindler to check over certain aspects of Manice Lockwood's investigation in order to verify its reliability.

Mr. Schindler advised that a typewriter repairman and machinist named Martin K. Tytell of New York City had been working for probably a year attempting to construct a typewriter, which the defense hopes will be an exact duplicate insofar as the typewriting characteristics are concerned. Mr. Schindler indicated that Tytell had at his disposal the Hiss typewriter, which had been a defense exhibit in both trials. In furtherance of this attempt, Tytell has purchased some twenty old Woodstock typewriters and has gone back to the Allen Typewriting Company in Woodstock, Illinois, (which company has taken over the old Woodstock Company) and has secured a considerable volume of old type and old typewriters. He is using this old type and portions of the old typewriters to construct the new machine.

Mr. Schindler advised that samples of typing from the newly constructed machine are periodically sent to a typewriter expert named Elizabeth McCarthy, who is in business in Boston, Massachusetts. McCarthy examines the specimens, as compared with the specimens from the Hiss typewriter, and renders an expert opinion as to whether the characteristics are the same as those of the Hiss machine. Schindler advised that Elizabeth McCarthy is regarded as a good examiner, but not a top examiner; that she had not been admitted to the Association of Document Examiners but that other examiners did not discredit her.

According to Schindler, Elizabeth McCarthy has now advised Tytell that the characteristics of all the keys of the constructed machine are identical with those of the Hiss typewriter with the exception of eight keys. Tytell is working on these particular keys and hopes in the immediate future to complete his work.

Schindler advised that the defense had approached a number of better known typewriting experts such as Osborne, Jr., Stein and Clark Sellers to have them make the comparison; however, they refused to have anything to do with it, with the result that Elizabeth McCarthy was finally secured for this work.

Mr. Schindler advised that he had accepted this assignment with the definite understanding on the part of Hiss' counsel that if he secured information during his investigation proving the guilt of Hiss, he would make it available to appropriate authorities. Schindler stated he had told the attorneys that he believed Hiss guilty, as did almost everyone in the United States, but that he would take the assignment on a strictly investigative basis.

Schindler's assignment consists of two points as follows:

1. He will attempt to establish the exact date of the manufacture of the Rice typewriter. Mr. Schindler did not elaborate on the reasons for the establishment of this date. You will recall that attorneys for Rice have approached Mr. Horace S. Schnell, who had conducted investigation for Rice in the early stages of this case and attempted to obtain from Schnell a signed statement indicating that the Woodstock typewriter was purchased by the Fensler-Martin insurance partnership in Philadelphia in 1929 instead of 1928 as reported by Schnell.

2. The attorneys for Rice are very anxious to have additional expert examination of specimens from the newly constructed typewriter and those from the Rice typewriter. In other words, they are anxious to see whether they have successfully reproduced the exact characteristics appearing on the Rice typewriter.

Mr. Schindler advised that he is closely acquainted through his professional work with several experts in the field of typewriting identification, particularly Mr. Clark Sellers, whom Schindler identified as the outstanding handwriting and typewriting expert in the country today. Mr. Schindler said he will furnish to Mr. Sellers extensive samples of typewriting from the Rice machine and from the newly constructed machine for the purpose of having Sellers determine whether it has been possible to construct a typewriter with characteristics identical to those of the Rice typewriter. Mr. Schindler advised that, dependent on the findings of Mr. Sellers, he may consult also with other typewriting experts.

Schindler advised that the defense attorneys had suggested he retain these experts on a fee basis but he had told the attorneys that Sellers would not be retained for such an examination. However, he stated Sellers and other experts are intensely interested in the attempt to construct a typewriter identical with the Rice typewriter because if the attempt is successful, it will have a great bearing on the field of typewriting identification. Consequently, Schindler is sure that Sellers will make the comparison but does not feel that Sellers would testify in connection therewith.

Mr. Schindler stated that he has no objection to the Bureau turning over the above information to the Criminal Division of the Department, which has handled the prosecution of this case. He stated his purpose in bringing this matter to the attention of the Bureau was in order that the Bureau would know that he was not taking part in any underhanded deal to discredit the Government or the Hiss case; that he wanted the Bureau to know the extent of his inquiries in this matter and the reasons therefor. Mr. Schindler also stated that he wanted to furnish any additional information which might come to his attention in connection with his assignment.

Mr. Schindler was advised that the Bureau appreciated his furnishing this information and that the Bureau, of course, would be interested in the outcome, although the Bureau was not asking that he furnish any additional information. Mr. Schindler advised that he had come to the Bureau voluntarily because he wanted the Bureau to know the facts of this matter and his connection therewith and that he also wanted to furnish any additional information which might come to him. Mr. Schindler stated he knows SAC Scheidt of the New York Office and that he will get in touch with SAC Scheidt at such time as the results of the examination by Sellers are known to him.

The New York Office should immediately make the above information available to the United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York.

A copy of this letter is being designated for the Philadelphia and Chicago Offices for their information since Schindler will undoubtedly be making inquiries of Mr. Martin in Philadelphia and of the Allen Typewriting Company in Woodstock, Illinois, in connection with his assignment. Any pertinent information developed by offices receiving this letter should be immediately furnished to the Bureau.

HISS's file at the Penitentiary was examined by SA LESLIE A. HAUGEN, at which time it was noted that his sentence of five years began on March 22, 1951. He will be eligible for parole on November 21, 1952 and for conditional release on November 27, 1954.

Warden GEORGE W. HUMPHREY informed that they would be very happy to place a stop in HISS's file in order that this Bureau might be advised concerning any transfer or release. He suggested that this be done by an official letter from this office, which would then be placed in the file. In this manner the stop would accompany the file in case of transfer.

An appropriate letter is being sent to Warden HUMPHREY and the Bureau and New York will be advised of any action along this line.

Re Philadelphia letter to the Bureau, attention FBI Laboratory, of 9-12-51.

As the Bureau is aware, and for the definite information of the Philadelphia Office, exhibit K-35, a letter of DAISY FANSLER to Miss EMMA L. HELLINGS of the Philadelphia Free Library was forwarded by the FBI Laboratory to the New York Office at the commencement of the first trial of ALGER HISS, and in turn it was turned over to SAAG Thomas J. Donegan for use as a trial exhibit as a known specimen of the typing of the Woodstock typewriter owned by the HISSSES. This exhibit remains in the possession of Mr. Donegan.

As the Bureau is aware, and for the information of Philadelphia, inquiries are being made even at this date by individuals who represent themselves as investigators for attorneys of ALGER HISS. The current line of their inquiries appears to be devoted to an effort to disprove that portion of the Government's case which established that the questioned documents were typed by the same typewriter as typed the known specimens. It would thus appear that at any date some new legal maneuver might be utilized by HISS' attorneys in an effort to obtain a rehearing of this case. Since an exhibit such as K-35 would be of immediate need and value to the Government attorneys in defending such an action, it is felt that this exhibit should remain in the hands of Government attorneys for the present time.

Warden G. W. HUMPHREY, United States Penitentiary, Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, advised that ALGER HISS has not been ill and has not been hospitalized since his incarceration at Lewisburg. Warden HUMPHREY stated that because of rumors as to HISS' illness the prison had released a story on HISS. Attached hereto is a clipping from the "Sunbury Daily Item," Sunbury, Pennsylvania, for October 19, 1951, which resulted from the release issued by the prison.

Visiting records reveal that HISS has been visited at the prison by his wife on May 2, 22; June 6; July 6; August 3; and October 13, 1951. She was accompanied by their son, ANTHONY, on three of these occasions, and by TIMOTHY ROBSON, their stepson, on October 13, 1951. In addition to these visitors, HISS has been visited by the following persons, or, where indicated, efforts have been made by the individuals mentioned to visit with HISS.

5/2/51 Mrs. MARIE LOCKWOOD, friend, 200 East 66th Street, New York, New York, attempted to visit HISS, but permission was denied by prison authorities.

5/25/51 Visited by CHESTER LANE and ROBERT BENJAMIN, attorneys, from 10:05 to 11:10 a.m. and from 1:10 to 2:00 p.m.

6/10/51 JESSE SLINGLUFF, JR., Attorney, 104 West Oakdale Road, Baltimore, Maryland, called at the prison and requested permission to visit HISS. This was denied because the visit was to be for social purposes, and HISS did not desire to visit him if it would be deducted from visits by his family.

With regard to the identities of persons who have corresponded with HISS since his incarceration, there are attached hereto two copies of a list of such correspondents, made available by ANDREW STEFAN, Secretary to the Warden. These names are recorded by prison employees in a loose-leaf book at the prison, some of the writing in this book is almost illegible, and, accordingly, some of the names on the attached lists may not be spelled correctly. The names and addresses on the attached, although incomplete, are the only names and addresses which were entered in the book referred to above.

TO : SAC (65-2440)

FROM : SA JAMES L. KIRKLAND

SUBJECT: JAHAM

DATE: 12/19/51

On December 18, 1951, Assistant Director BELMONT called to determine whether any action had yet been taken on a teletype received from New York the day previously wherein information had been received indicating that ALGER HISS may have "blown his stack."

I checked the incoming teletype and discussed the matter with Supervisor HARZENSTEIN, and thereafter a call was placed to SA FOX in Williamsport. FOX had not yet made the necessary check regarding the request in referenced teletype, but placed a call to the Assistant Warden at Lewisburg in the absence of the Warden who was sick, and determined that HISS is perfectly normal, mentally and physically; that he has not refused to see any visitors within the past two months, nor had any visitors been denied permission to see him.

I called Mr. BELMONT back and advised him of the information obtained thus far, and further told him that we would check at the Penitentiary today since the record room was closed at the time of his original inquiry, and would determine the names of all persons who had visited HISS since the most recent letter we have forwarded to the Bureau in October 1951 setting forth his visitors to that date. Mr. BELMONT said this would be satisfactory.

SA FOX has been instructed to furnish the list of visitors telephonically on December 19, 1951.

SHE WAS CHECKING THE SERIAL NUMBERS OF TYPEWRITERS SOLD OUT OF THE OLD NEW YORK OFFICE OF THE WOODSTOCK TYPEWRITER COMPANY AT ABOUT THE TIME THE HISS WOODSTOCK WAS SOLD OR MANUFACTURED. IT WAS HALLS IMPRESSION THAT THEY WERE TRYING TO LOCATE THE WHEREABOUTS, THROUGH THESE RECORDS, OF ONE OR MORE WOODSTOCK TYPEWRITERS MANUFACTURED AT ABOUT THE SAME TIME AS THE HISS TYPEWRITER. THIS IS THE FIRST INDICATION IN RECENT MONTHS THAT THE HISS ATTORNEYS ARE STILL ATTEMPTING TO RECONSTRUCT A WOODSTOCK IDENTICAL WITH THAT OF THE HISS TYPEWRITER. IN THIS CONNECTION REFERENCE IS MADE TO THE BUREAU LETTER OF APRIL SEVENTH, FIFTY ONE, WHICH IS CONCERNED WITH A VISIT TO THE BUREAU OF RAYMOND SCHINDLER AND THE LATTERS CONNECTION WITH MARTIN TYBELL IN ATTEMPTING TO RECONSTRUCT A TYPEWRITER IDENTICAL TO THE HISS MACHINE. IN CONNECTION WITH THE REFERENCED LETTER, THE RECORDS OF THIS OFFICE DO NOT REFLECT THAT SCHINDLER HAS ADVISED THIS OFFICE OF THE PROGRESS OF HIS INVESTIGATION NOR HAS ANY ATTEMPT BEEN MADE TO SOLICIT THIS INFORMATION FROM HIM. UNLESS THE HISS ATTORNEYS OFFICE WILL BE ADVISED OF THIS LATEST DEVELOPMENT.

Based on what is described as "newly discovered evidence," Alger Hiss, former State Department official now serving a five-year sentence for perjury, is seeking a new trial. Hiss was convicted two years ago of lying to a federal grand jury. Hiss has been in jail since March, 1951. His wife is reported as devoting all of her time to searching for legal reasons for his release and exoneration.

Re New York tel February 4.

OLIVER J. CAROW, now employed by Remington Rand Company, Philadelphia, and former manager of the Woodstock Typewriter Company's Philadelphia branch, has been interviewed by Agents of the Philadelphia office as follows.

Report of SA JAMES L. KIRKLAND dated 12-17-48 at Philadelphia reflects that CAROW was interviewed specifically regarding his recollection of THOMAS GRADY, a salesman then employed by the Woodstock Typewriter Company, and further concerning any records he might have in his possession concerning that company. At that time he advised that he had disposed of any records in his possession concerning Woodstock but that he would make a complete search in order to ascertain definitely if any records were available. He subsequently advised that he had conducted such a search and that he had no records concerning the Woodstock Company. The exact dates of these contacts with CAROW are not available but all the above information was included in referenced report which covered the period December 8, through 14, 1948.

Report of the same Agent dated 12-23-48 covering the period December 16, through 23-1948, contains additional information obtained from CAROW regarding THOMAS GRADY and other individuals who had been in charge of the Philadelphia agency of the Woodstock Typewriter Company from 1925 until the agency was closed. During the course of this interview CAROW advised that all records received by him were in turn turned over to CHARLES PARKER, his immediate successor, and that he, CAROW, had retained absolutely no records in his possession and knew of no records which would assist in the identification of the sale of a typewriter to the Fansler-Martin partnership.

Philadelphia tel dated 1-5-49 to the Bureau, WFO, and New York City includes the comment that CAROW advised that there were no inventory shortages prior to 1933. Philadelphia tel dated 1-6-49 to the same offices states that CAROW advised the "daily machine reports" were part of the regular official records and would have been handled in the same manner as any other records. Information concerning the daily machine reports obtained from CAROW, together with information developed from him as a result of inquiries concerning the retention of old stock typewriters in the Philadelphia agency is set forth in the report of Agent KIRKLAND dated 1-11-49.

Re - JAHAM

Philadelphia tel dated 1-10-49 to the Bureau, New York, and Milwaukee advises that CARON, after a further search of his personal records, had located additional information regarding the operations of the Philadelphia agency of Woodstock concerning sales and repair records. CARON at that time emphatically pointed out that these were not official records of the Woodstock Company, but rather personal records made by him at the time. He also pointed out that it had been his experience that typewriter salesmen as a class were extremely prone to retain commission vouchers. This information is set forth in the report of Agent KIRKLAND dated January 27, 1949.

The personal records of CARON regarding sales and repairs and concerning which he was very specific in advising that these were not official records of the Woodstock Typewriter Company were turned over to the Philadelphia office and additional investigation was conducted concerning typewriters purchased by individuals or organizations set forth in these records. The records were subsequently returned to Mr. CARON. Philadelphia tel to the Bureau, New York, WFO and Chicago dated 5-17-49 points out that there is no record of serial number 230099 in the personal records of Mr. CARON, and this information is set forth in report of Agent KIRKLAND dated 5-28-49 covering the period May 17 through 28, 1949.

Philadelphia tel to the Bureau, Newark, and New York dated 6-14-49 sets forth the results of a contact with CARON concerning a specific recollection by him of M. E. COHEN who was a junior salesman under him in 1927, 1929. This information, which was set forth in report of Agent KIRKLAND dated 6-30-49, covered the period June 9, through 22, 1949.

Philadelphia letter to the Bureau and New York dated 11-20-50 sets forth that approximately three weeks previously CARON had been contacted by Mr. KENNETH SIMON, an attorney from New York, and another individual whose name he did not recall, and that these individuals had asked that he again search Woodstock sales records for information concerning the original typewriter. CARON advised these men that he believed he had destroyed his own records for that period.

On November 25, 1950 CARON was contacted in accordance with Bureau instructions by tel dated November 22, and arrangements were made that he should contact this office and advise of any future contacts by SIMON or any other individual representing ALGER HISS. At this time he stated that he did not plan to furnish any information in his possession to representatives of ALGER HISS. He was specifically and fully advised at this point that any such action was entirely on his own initiative and that he must understand that no recommendation or instructions concerning any such action were being given him by the FBI.

CAROW was again contacted on December 15, 1950 in response to a request by him and at which time he advised that he had been contacted again by KENNETH SIMON and requested to review Woodstock Typewriter records for information pertinent to the typewriter involved in the case. SIMON furnished CAROW with a serial number, N-230099, and requested that sales records for this typewriter be obtained. CAROW advised at this time that he had spent two evenings during the previous week looking for records pertaining to this typewriter but without success. CAROW was again contacted by an Agent of the Philadelphia office on December 28, 1950, at which time he advised he had no additional information of value and repeated that he would not search any of his records for HISS. He was again advised, of course, that this was a matter of his own decision. The above information was set forth in Philadelphia tel to the Bureau and New York dated December 16, 1950.

With specific regard to the request in New York tel dated February 4, 1952 that advice be given as to the nature of the records in the possession of CAROW and the nature of those examined in connection with the Woodstock typewriter, it is desired to point out that all records in CAROW'S possession were of a strictly personal nature and dealt in a very limited way with sales and repairs handled by the Philadelphia agency of the Woodstock Typewriter Company. CAROW turned over all of these records to the Philadelphia office and subsequent to a review of the records, they were returned to him. He has now advised that these records have been destroyed. The records turned over by him were very carefully examined for a typewriter bearing the specific serial number, 230099. It should be also pointed out that representatives of ALGER HISS have requested CAROW to check his records for the same serial number.

Recontact has been made at the [redacted] in accordance with instructions in New York tel dated February 4, and the records of that bank are currently being examined. It is expected that the results of this examination will be furnished to the New York office by February 3, 1952, at the latest.

On 2/8/52, Mr. CHARLES MAYER, Divisional Sales Manager, Underwood Elliot-Fisher Typewriter Company, was contacted. MAYER advised that there were no records available pertaining to these particular typewriters at Philadelphia. MAYER suggested that a Mr. D. W. SALTER is located with the home office in New York City at 1 Park Avenue, New York, N. Y., and that he be contacted as he would be the only logical person to have any current records pertaining to this transaction. MAYER stated that SALTER was in charge of the Wholesale Typewriter Company, New York City, which is the company outlet for used and traded-in typewriters and deals solely with such machines. He related that it has always been the company's procedure that when used typewriters are received by a branch office, as Philadelphia, that they automatically become the property of the Wholesale Typewriter Company. When a sufficient number of these typewriters have been gathered at any particular branch office, a call is placed to the Wholesale Typewriter Company in New York City and arrangements are made with that company to pick them up. The New York City Office of the Wholesale Typewriter Company would then send a truck to the particular branch office and return the typewriter to New York City where they would be offered in mixed lots to dealers of used typewriters throughout the United States.

GEORGE A REAM 166 Enola Drive, Enola, Pa. advised that Norman W. Ream ~~him~~ his brother, formerly operated a hotel at Gettesburg, Pa., known as the Lee Meade Inn. He located tax records which reflected that one Louis J. Leisman, ss# 212-14-9786 and one Gertrude L. Leisman ss# 217-01-9305 were employed at the Inn from 8/6/47 to 9/1/47. The records failed to reflect any additional information concerning these individuals. Ream advised that he did not know either of these people personally and that his Brother Norman Ream is presently out of town, has been very ill with a heart condition, probably has had no contact with them at any time. No record could be located which would indicate that Leisman had at any time resided in the vicinity of Enola, Pa. According to Ream Mrs. Virginia Reid last known address RFD Littlestown Pa. was the manager of the Inn and she would be the only party he could suggest who would likely know Leisman.

Prior to the time that it was learned that Leisman had not been employed in the Vicinity of Hsbg., the following record check failed to produce any information concerning him. Mr. E. M. BOYD, Credit Bureau of Greater HSBG; Det. A. P. WERNER HSBG PD; Chief John Snoderly Enola Twnshp PD; and Mrs Charles Linn Postmistress Enola, Pa.

It is suggested that a lead be sent to the York Resident Agency to check creditan criminal records. File

CLAUDE HEACOCK advised he has not seen sister, GERTRUDE, or LOUIS LEISMAN since 1941 when he refused to loan GERTRUDE money. HEACOCK recalled GERTRUDE married LEISMAN in approximately 1929, and both lived with LEISMAN's mother on Kernan Avenue in Lorraine Park, Baltimore County, until LEISMAN's mother's death in approximately 1937. Thereafter, the couple resided in a number of rooms and apartments at various unknown locations in Baltimore. HEACOCK knew of no employment for LEISMAN other than with diners at Cockeysville, Elkridge, and Hagerstown, Md., in the late 1930s and early 1940s. He described LEISMAN as very heavy drinker, disabled veteran of World War I receiving pension, and said he was probably confined at unknown hospital for mental disorder at unknown time in 1930s. Denied knowledge of LEISMAN's ever testifying at any trial or ever having lived on Eutaw Place, Baltimore, Md. HEACOCK cooperative, but declined to furnish signed statement as memory of LEISMAN's activities during 1930s very vague and possibly inaccurate. Re New York teletype dated March 8, 1952 and telephonic conversations between the Bureau and Baltimore.

In referenced teletype New York states that United States Attorney MILES LANE advised on March 7, 1952 that he had received a letter from CHESTER T. LANE, Liss defense attorney, in which he advised that he had received a letter from a member of the Maryland Bar to the effect that LOUIS J. LEISMAN was quite annoyed since the FBI had been harrassing almost every member of his family, stating to the members of his family that he, LEISMAN, is a Communist and requesting LEISMAN's address from them.

In referenced telephone conversations the Bureau has requested Baltimore to furnish information concerning the interviews of LEISMAN'S relatives re the above points and has requested Baltimore to obtain the comments of other offices concerning their interviews with relatives.

The following in-laws of LOUIS J. LEISMAN were interviewed during the period from February 29 to March 7, 1952:

Mrs. LILLIAN DASHIELLS
3621 Brandon Avenue, Baltimore, Md.
Sister-in-law
Interviewed by SAs ROBERT J. KIRKLAND, JR. and

Interviewed by SAs KIRKLAND and MOODY on February 29, 1952.

At no time during the instant interviews or during the entire investigation was LEISMAN referred to as a Communist, nor was he referred to as the subject of a criminal or security case. In addition, in the above interviews, no mention was made concerning ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

The above listed agents positively deny that any such remark was made by any of them during the above interviews. It is reasonable to assume that such a statement could not logically have been made as there had been absolutely no allegations that LEISMAN was or is a Communist since the indices of the Baltimore Office were completely negative with respect to subversive or criminal information concerning LEISMAN.

JANAM

It is to be noted that HOWARD DASHIELLS, son of LILLIAN DASHIELLS, a member of the Maryland State Police employed as chauffeur for the Governor of Maryland, personally came to the Baltimore Office on March 6, 1952 and inquired as to the nature of our interest in LOUIS J. LEISMAN. DASHIELLS was informed by SAs KIRKLAND and HAROLD A. BONEY that LEISMAN was not the subject of a criminal or security investigation and that our interest in LEISMAN was due only to the interest LEISMAN had expressed in a case in which the Government also had an interest. No further information was given DASHIELLS concerning this investigation.

Concerning the sisters of LEISMAN, two are known to reside in the Baltimore area and they are Mrs. ANNA GRUNBERG, Pikesville, Maryland, and Mrs. WILLIAM BOARMAN, 2805 East Chase Street, Baltimore. Neither sister has been interviewed by this office nor was any neighborhood investigation conducted in Pikesville. However, Veterans Administration records listed 2805 East Chase Street as a residence of LEISMAN from September 1, 1946 to the present and accordingly, a neighborhood investigation was conducted at this address regarding LEISMAN's background, character and reputation. As in other interviews, no indication was given that LEISMAN was the subject of a criminal or security case nor was any remark made to the effect that LEISMAN was a Communist, nor was the Hiss or Chambers case mentioned.

It is to be noted that CLAUDE HEACOCK, Woodsdale Trailer Camp, RD #1, State College, Pennsylvania, Mrs. HILDA HAWVERMALE, 1328 14th St., N.W., Washington, D. C., Mr. FELTON HEACOCK, 95 Union Ave., Nutley, New Jersey, and WILLIAM BOARMAN, Norfolk Naval Base, Norfolk, Virginia, were interviewed by the Philadelphia, Washington Field, Newark and Norfolk Offices, respectively. These offices are requested to furnish the Bureau and New York information concerning the manner in which the above interviews were conducted.

Hiss Typewriter Fake Charged

Evidence Planted,
His Lawyer Says

New York, March 13.—(AP)—Alger Hiss' lawyer charges that an old typewriter which helped imprison Hiss was faked and planted evidence.

Said attorney Chester T. Lane in a new affidavit yesterday:

"It can only have been planted on the defense by or on behalf of Whittaker Chambers as part of his plot for the false incrimination of Alger Hiss."

Hiss is serving a five-year federal prison term for lying. He has denied he ever gave government secrets to Chamber to give to a pre-war Russian spy ring.

In Prison a Year

The former high State Department aid has been in prison about a year after two jury trials. The first ended in a hung jury.

In January, Lane sought still a third trial, saying he had evidence Hiss' old Woodstock typewriter might have been doctored against him.

In the supplemental affidavit yesterday, Lane went much further and called the typewriter "a deliberately fabricated job, a new typeface on an old body."

Lane said he has evidence the type on the old Woodstock was unsoldered and replaced with type faces from another machine.

Produced a Year Later

Chambers originally accused Hiss before a congressional committee in the summer and fall of 1948. The typewriter was not produced in public until the next spring.

That, Lane contended, allowed ample time to alter the machine so its type faces would match the planting on the copies of the stolen government documents.

A hearing on Lane's new trial motion has been set for April 8 before Judge Henry Goddard, who presided at the last Hiss trial.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

FROM : SA NORRIS S. HARZENSTEIN

SUBJECT: JAHAM

DATE: 3/22/52

On 3/10/52, SA GUS FARR telephoned from Baltimore on the instructions of Assistant Director A. BELMONT. He said that a letter would be forthcoming from Baltimore regarding the matter, but that he wished to alert this office in advance.

A complaint had been made to the United States Attorney by a lawyer that LEISMAN had told this lawyer that some Agent had accused him of being a Communist in the course of an interview with one of his relatives, unspecified.

Accordingly, the Bureau desired a letter from each office which had conducted an interview with a relative of LEISMAN setting forth what had transpired in the interview and particularly whether any comment had been made regarding Communist connections on the part of LEISMAN. Copies were to go to the Bureau, New York and Baltimore, the Bureau copies being marked for the attention of Assistant Director BELMONT. The Agents' own memoranda were not to be sent.

This information was imparted to SA HELLEBERG who was at that time in Philadelphia. Since the interview had been conducted by him in conjunction with SA ZIMMERMAN and since he was about to leave for State College, this being the end of the day, it was agreed that immediately on his arrival at State College he and ZIMMERMAN would prepare the necessary memorandum and would send it at once to Philadelphia so that it would reach here in time for an immediate reply to the anticipated Baltimore letter.

ATTN: FBI LABORATORY

There have been received from Mr. HARRY L. MARTIN, former partner of the deceased THOMAS L. FANSLER, father of PRISCILLA HISS, two letters located recently by him. The first is a letter dated January 19, 1928, addressed to Mr. HORATIO H. MORRIS, signed THOMAS L. FANSLER. The second is a letter dated November 10, 1928, addressed and signed in a similar manner.

It is requested that these letters be examined with specimens known to have been typed on the HISS typewriter, and the New York Office advised of the results of the examination for whatever use it might be in connection with the appeal of ALGER HISS, presently pending.

Mr. MARTIN has indicated that it is his feeling the letter of January 19, 1928, was written prior to the obtaining of the Woodstock typewriter by the FANSLER-MARTIN partnership; whereas, the letter of November 10, 1928, might well have been written on the Woodstock typewriter.

It is not necessary that the enclosures be returned to the Philadelphia Office.

Mr. Don Surine of Senator McCarthy's office telephonically advised a Bureau official on September 22, 1952, that a letter had been received at Senator McCarthy's office in which the Bureau might be interested. The letter was from Mrs. Mary T. Burn, 15 E Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., and stated that she had information in which the Senator would be interested. She indicated that someone should go to the Lewisburg Penitentiary and ask for her husband, George R. Burn. The letter was postmarked and mailed in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Surine was of the opinion that possibly George Burn may have information concerning Alger Hiss and, inasmuch as Senator McCarthy's office could not take any action with regard to the letter, he advised the Bureau. He indicated that he would be glad to furnish the original of the letter from Mrs. Burn to the Bureau, if desired.

It is requested that the Washington Field Office immediately contact Mr. Don Surine and obtain from him the letter from Mrs. Burn or copies thereof and immediately thereafter forward the letter or copies thereof to the Philadelphia Office. Philadelphia should then immediately interview George R. Burn. If Burn has information concerning Alger Hiss, the results of the interview should be submitted in this case. Otherwise, the results should be submitted under an appropriate caption.

It is desired that this matter be handled promptly.

GEORGE R. BURN, U. S. Penitentiary, Lewisburg, Pa., was interviewed at that place on October 17, 1952, where he is presently serving a three to fifteen-year sentence for manslaughter, from Washington, D.C.

BURN furnished no information concerning instant case. He stated that he knew of an individual presently confined in a Federal Institution whose civil rights, he felt, were being violated. Information in that regard was obtained from him and a separate letter to the Bureau is being prepared concerning that matter, entitled "UNKNOWN SUBJECTS; C. FROM : SA W. James Wood

SUBJECT: UNSUBS
WALTER WILSON, Victim
EXTORTION

Warden G. W. HUMPHREY, U. S. Penitentiary, Lewisburg, Penna., advised Agent as follows on this date:

Approximately two weeks ago one CLYDE FARNSWORTH, Scripps Howard reporter, came to Lewisburg to do an article on ALGER HISS, insofar as his life within the penitentiary was concerned. FARNSWORTH first attempted to secure the necessary information through the Warden, and when refused, told Warden HUMPHREY that he would get the information some other way. Thereafter, FARNSWORTH went to several ex-employees of the institution and attempted to obtain information. He apparently met with little success and left a few days thereafter.

Last week an article appeared in the Washington newspapers by FARNSWORTH on ALGER HISS. The article contained almost nothing of substance. It did contain an interview with one WELLS, a former employee, and also contained paragraphs concerning interview with WALTER WILSON (who is an official at Boiardi Steel in Milton, Penna.) According to the article WILSON had taken a singing group of the Salvation Army to the penitentiary on one occasion, to perform before the inmates. WILSON noted that one of the inmates sang louder and with more gusto than the rest, and when the singing was over this inmate came up and thanked WILSON for bringing the singing group to entertain them. As the inmate walked away, WILSON asked a guard nearby who the inmate was. The guard replied, "ALGER HISS."

Warden HUMPHREY stated that the tenure of the article was that HISS had "turned to God."

Warden HUMPHREY stated that following the publication of the above article, representatives of the American Broadcasting Company telephonically contacted WILSON and asked that he do a re-enactment of his scene with ALGER HISS for the television cameras. WILSON advised these representatives that he had no authority to do any such thing and that he would not even be permitted through the gate of the penitentiary unless the warden so desired. WILSON then informed Warden HUMPHREY of his call.

On November 2, 1952, a cameraman and another employee of the ABC called on WILSON at his home and again tried to get him to go with them to the penitentiary to re-enact the drama (?) described above. WILSON again refused. They persisted and called on him three separate times during the day.

They were arrogant and demanding and finally made veiled threats to "expose the past" of WILSON to other residents of Milton, Penna. WILSON was at one time the subject of a Federal Reserve Act investigation by the FBI, according to Agent's present recollection and there are reportedly certain things in his past, such as that incident which led to the FBI investigation, which, if not showing a criminal proclivity, do at least indicate questionable judgment. WILSON told him that his past was known to everyone anyway (and Warden HUMPHREY agreed on this point, stating that the residents of Milton knew of his past activities and background) and that he still insisted he could and would do nothing to help them.

According to Warden HUMPHREY, who received the above information from WILSON, no threat was ever made over the phone or via mail, and the threats which were made personally by the representatives of the ABC, were not direct but were couched in vague terminology. He stated that he realized that there was no indication that the Federal statutes had been violated but that he felt it advisable to at least bring it to the attention of this office.

Because there is no indication of a violation of Federal statute over which the FBI might have jurisdiction, no action is being taken by Agent.

Warden HUMPHREY stated that WILSON intends to complain to officials of the ABC about the actions of their employees who called on him.

Warden HUMPHREY said that he has not been approached by ABC representatives regarding the above.

SECURITY MATTER - C

On 11/11/52, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] confidentially furnished SA W. JAMES WOOD with a letter addressed to ALGER HISS at the penitentiary, and dated 11/11/52. This letter was from JIM VAANDERING, 777 Allen Avenue, Muskegon, Michigan, and is as follows:

b7D

"I can't help but take a few moments and type you this letter. I have followed your tragic case as best I could for the past few years and cannot help but admire you for the way you are taking the decision handed down to you. I cannot help but feel that you innocent of the charges cast against you and hope and pray the truth may come to light in the near future. I cannot but hope that you will be paroled or given a new trial in which I feel you will be proven innocent. In the papers I have read where some of your friends are seeking a parole so you can exile in Europe, this I hope will never happen because it is a cowards way of escape and we need you here in this country. There are many schools here in the United States that would welcome your services as an instructor and give us young Americans a true scholar as a teacher. I am now enrolled in the Muskegon Jr. College and know that many people are of the same opinion as I am. Even my History and Political Science teacher, Dr. J. McKINLEY takes every opportunity to show that your case was a black mark on this great nation of ours. I believe I have done myself justice and lightened my mind in writing this letter, and pray to God that you will soon be cleared of these unfounded charges of treason. May God be with you, bless you, and have mercy on you.

"Sincerely yours,

/s/ JIM VAANDERING

IN MY researches in the British and American editions of the Earl Jowitt's "Strange Case of Alger Hiss," I found more than 10 factual errors, a statement which I can at any time document. Some are trivial; some very important. Yet, when one realizes that Earl Jowitt was Lord Chancellor of England, such a number of errors is surprising.

Whittaker Chambers bought a car and paid $486 cash. The question is where did he get the money? Four days before Chambers bought the car, that is, on November 19, 1937, Priscilla Hiss, Alger's wife, withdrew $400 from her account in the Riggs National Bank in Washington. In due course, Chambers said that Hiss gave him that $400. If Chambers was correct, it sets a date when Hiss and Chambers were on friendly terms, and that mattered in the trial.

NOW comes Earl Jowitt with the contention that the entire $400 loan may be a fabrication of the FBI:

"... The F.B.I. in the course of their investigations had obtained access to the books of the bank in February 1949, and at this very time Chambers was in daily association with the F.B.I."

Again, in another place, he repeats this:

"Chambers, for example, had never mentioned the supposed loan of $400 in his evidence before the House Committee or, indeed, until the first trial; and by this time he could have found out from the F.B.I. that Hiss had withdrawn $400 at or about the relevant time; for the F.B.I. had obtained a copy of the account on the 31st January 1949."

THE upshot of Jowitt's handling of what he makes very involved and complicated testimony about the $400, and I have six references to it, is, in effect, that the FBI framed that particular piece of evidence to convict Hiss. As Rebecca West put it:

"... This is likely to please the American public just as much as it would please the British public. If a judge of the American Supreme Court should write a book about an English cause célèbre and casually assert that Scotland Yard had provided the chief witness for the Crown with information enabling him to give perjured evidence."

Actually, Mrs. Chambers had testified about this matter on November 17, 1948, two and a half months before the FBI had access to the Hiss bank accounts (January 30, 1949) and the FBI went after the bank accounts after Mrs. Chambers had testified. If, as it is claimed, Earl Jowitt made a thorough study of the transcript of the Second Hiss Trial, it is difficult to understand why he did not check the dates.

For the information of offices receiving this communication, Dr. A. P. Alagia, Whittaker Chambers' Baltimore doctor, advised on September 10, 1953, that Chambers had had a slight heart attack about August 21, 1953, which lasted about ten days. Thereafter, Chambers was hospitalized for a thorough examination. Since that time, Chambers has been confined to his home at Westminster, Maryland. Dr. Alagia has suggested that the Bureau refrain from interviewing Chambers in connection with current investigations until the cooler weather, specifically mentioning the month of December.

Whittaker Chambers should not be interviewed by agents of the Baltimore Office in the light of his doctor's suggestion. All outstanding leads to Baltimore to interview Chambers should be returned to the submitting offices. On or about December 15, 1953, Baltimore should again contact Dr. Alagia concerning Chambers' condition and advise the Bureau.

An extra copy of this letter is being furnished to Baltimore for its file 65-1854.

The Bureau has been advised by Bryant O. Pearce, an inmate of Atlanta Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, that while he was at United States Northeastern Penitentiary, Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, period not given, he was acquainted and associated with Alger Hiss. According to Pearce, whose reliability is questionable, Hiss is in the process of writing a book, portions of which have been smuggled out of the Lewisburg Penitentiary, which Pearce has read. These portions reportedly are critical of the Bureau.

It is requested that you ascertain whether Hiss is actually writing a book and, if so, whether any copies of those portions already prepared are available. In the event such is the case, you should obtain copies and forward one each to the Bureau and the New York Office.

Mr. GEORGE W. HUMPHREY, Warden, U.S. Penitentiary, Lewisburg, Pa., advised on 12/11/53, that ALGER HISS has not been given authority to write a book or any part of a book while confined at the institution. He stated he has not received any information that HISS is writing a book and that periodic "shakedowns" of his quarters have failed to reveal any evidence that HISS is writing a book.

Mr. HUMPHREY advised that in May, 1951, ALGER HISS requested that he be permitted to make notes and drafts relating to his case as well as on the subject of foreign affairs. These notes were to be written and maintained in the form of a diary. Mr. HUMPHREY advised that he interviewed HISS, and this matter was discussed. His request was denied since it would not conform to good policy.

Mr. HUMPHREY advised that in his opinion the only way that HISS could smuggle any portions of a book out of the institution would be with the assistance of an officer, and the possibility of this would be very remote.

On the same date AVI GREENGLASS, inmate and former espionage agent, stated he has received no information that HISS is writing a book. RUC.

"Dear Alger Hiss:

"I see in the papers that your parole was rejected again for the usual political reasons. Seeing the item prompted me to write you, as I have long thought of doing, to tell you there is just one more person who is interested and concerned about your history and your future.

"You won't remember meeting me at the Collogg Smiths' in about 1944 or 1945; but I remember the meeting very plainly. Because of it, and through Peggy and JK, I have followed your career since with unusual interest. Reading the brief for your appeal was an eye-opening and rewarding experience; and the attempt at a new trial was brilliant, although people would not of course accept the idea of such a government conspiracy. I suppose Nixon has interfered with your parole. But time, as you yourself realize, will solve many of your problems and prove you right. Truth does have a way of winning out in the end.

Hiss' 2d Parole Request Rejected

By JOHN C. O'BRIEN

Inquirer Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The Federal Parole Board today turned down Alger Hiss' second application for parole from the Federal prison in Lewisburg, Pa.

The action of the board was announced by Dr. Paul Tappan, chairman, in one sentence.

"The Board of Parole today automatically reconsidered the parole application of Alger Hiss and agreed there should be no change in a previous order of denial of parole."

Tappan gave no reason for rejecting the application. The board's action was unanimous.

Hiss, a former State Department official, serving a five-year term for perjury, was first denied parole last November. He was convicted in 1950 after denying to a Federal grand jury in New York that he had passed secret State Department documents to Whittaker Chambers and declaring that he never saw Chambers after Jan. 1, 1937. Chambers, self-confessed courier for a Soviet spy ring, charged Hiss was in the Communist underground in Washington.

Hiss began serving his term in March, 1951, after losing an appeal from the decision of the jury. He first applied for parole nine months later.

GOES FREE IN YEAR

His parole application may be reviewed at any time. Even if the Parole Board continues to reject the application, he automatically will be released for good behavior in November, 1954. Prison authorities describe him as a "model prisoner."

Hiss' second application came back before the Parole Board at a time when a new espionage controversy was creating an uproar like the one his own case caused five years ago.

Hiss figured in the summary by Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., of an FBI report to the White House on the alleged espionage activities of the late Harry Dexter White, former assistant Secretary of the Treasury who was transferred by then President Harry S. Truman to the International Monetary Fund. Testifying before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee last week, Brownell said the FBI report stated that White visited Hiss at his home in Washington.

Some of the "pumpkin papers" produced by Chambers in the Hiss case in 1948 were in the handwriting of White, experts said.

REVIEW DATE UNNOTICED

The Parole Board received a flood of letters and telegrams last year when Hiss' application first came up. But now, with public attention focused on the White case, the parole review date arrived almost unnoticed.

An attorney for Hiss presented new material to the board but it was not made public.

Chambers Hints New Spy Figure

Tells of Intermediary In 1935 Activities

Bulletin-N. Y. Times Service

Washington, Dec. 12 — Hints that a new personality not hitherto disclosed as a Communist courier may be revealed in investigations of Soviet espionage are given by Whittaker Chambers, self-confessed Communist agent, in an article to appear in the Look magazine issue appearing December 15.

In the article Chambers discusses, from what he says was personal knowledge, the conduct of the late Harry Dexter White as "an active Soviet agent."

White, one-time assistant secretary of the Treasury, was the central figure in the recent exchange between Attorney General Brownell and former President Truman. Brownell charged that Mr. Truman promoted White to the post of American director of the International Monetary Fund after the Federal Bureau of Investigation had reported White's Soviet affiliations to the White House.

Chambers, whose charges were a major factor leading to the eventual jailing of Alger Hiss, accused of perjury for denying connection with Soviet espionage, said that in 1935 he received a batch of secret Treasury department documents to be photographed by the Communist apparatus.

"At that time," Chambers wrote, "I had not yet met White. Our intermediary was a young man who, if and when it becomes advisable to make his name public, will establish a minor, but intimate, link between White and another figure now prominent in the news about him."

Re Bulet to Philadelphia dated 11/16/53.

Records of the United States Penitentiary, Lewisburg, Pa., reflect that EFRAIM LISHANSKY was received at the USP, Lewisburg, Pa., from USP, Terre Haute, Ind., on 12/1/51, and will be eligible for parole on 2/13/54. He will be eligible for conditional release on 5/6/57, and his full-time sentence will expire on 6/13/59. On 8/13/51, a detainer was lodged against LISHANSKY by the Detroit Police Department. A recent letter in the file indicated that LISHANSKY may not be considered favorably by the Parole Board in view of the detainer against him.

These records further reflected that LISHANSKY is presently working as a store room clerk, having recently been removed as an attendant at the hospital, since he was described as a "wheel," that is, he was assuming too much authority. These records also indicated that an examination of LISHANSKY indicated no evidence of psychotic manifestations or disabling mental disorders.

LISHANSKY was interviewed on 11/27/53, and the receipt of his letter dated 11/1/53, was orally acknowledged.

He advised that he directed this letter to Mr. HOOVER more or less as a sense of duty to his brother RALPH, a member of the United States Air Force, who is fighting against Communism. He hoped that Mr. HOOVER could assist in correcting a situation which exists at the United States Penitentiary, Lewisburg, Pa., and involves ALGER HISS, JOHN WILLIAMSON, and MAURICE BRAVERMAN. He said this situation also applied to CARL WINTER prior to his transfer.

LISHANSKY stated several years ago he was private secretary to LOUIS WEINSTOCK and was a special organizer of Local 442, Brotherhood of Painters, Paperhangers, and Decorators of America, AFOL, District Council #9. He said evidently for the above reason, HISS, WINTER, BRAVERMAN, and WILLIAMSON assumed that he is one of them and regarded him as such since they make a special effort to talk to him. He stated on one occasion WINTER indicated to him that he would be on easy street when he was released, and WILLIAMSON offered to instruct him in regard to union activities. LISHANSKY was of the opinion these two are grooming him to take WEINSTOCK's place after his release, but advised neither had ever made a direct statement to this effect. LISHANSKY advised that he was never connected with Communist activities and "wanted no part of it."

LISHANSKY advised that he learned from talking to HISS, WINTER, WILLIAMSON, and BRAVERMAN that there appears to be a determined effort on their part to carry on a strong recruiting drive on behalf of the CP in which they try to interest some of the inmates, especially those who will leave the penitentiary in the near future, in the theory of Communism. He stated it appears that a directed effort is being made to win the friendship of inmates who have been denied parole, and in a short time will be conditionally released. He stated CARL WINTER indicated to him that this same procedure was being followed in other penitentiaries.

He stated that BRAVERMAN, through his knowledge of law, is able to win the friendship of inmates by assisting them with their legal papers. He stated WILLIAMSON and WINTER rely on their intelligence and oratory to win friends. He stated HISS, who has no contact with the others in the open, but does talk to them in the library and elsewhere when no one is observing him. He states HISS appears to spend all his time in cultivating the friendship of the Sicilian inmates, who are regarded as the "strong-arm boys" among the inmates. When an inmate needs protection, HISS makes an effort to contact this inmate and offers assistance; through his connections he is able to assist him and thereby gains his friendship.

He stated after an inmate appears to be friendly, BRAVERMAN and WILLIAMSON contact him and at first suggest certain reading material to him, and later they enter into a discussion with him. LISHANSKY stated that reading material in the library is carefully censored, but once in a while a mistake is made and a book to their liking is put in the library. He could recall only one book of this type, namely WALTER LOWENTHAL's book entitled, "Your FBI." He stated in view of the fact both WILLIAMSON and BRAVERMAN, as well as WINTER, are more intelligent than the average inmate, they will make a very good impression on any inmate they engage in conversation. LISHANSKY was also of the opinion that since the CP, as well as BRAVERMAN, WINTER, and WILLIAMSON have contacts among the officials of labor unions, the names of these contacts are given to the inmate prior to his release for him to contact for a position and assistance.

LISHANSKY advised that he has talked to many inmates whose names he can not recall, who have been greatly impressed with WINTER, WILLIAMSON, and BRAVERMAN, and in his opinion are excellent recruits for the CP. He was of the opinion that they exert influence over at least 300 present inmates at Lewisburg.

He stated he realized that the above-mentioned individuals are being treated the same as other inmates and rightly deserve to be treated in this manner as long as they behave themselves, but stated in his opinion, when they try to convert other inmates to Communism, their privileges should be revoked and they should be confined at all times in individual cells in order not to have contact with other inmates. He stated the above situation is a menace to society and should be stopped.

LISHANSKY advised that the above is all the information he has in his possession and stated he has never been able to elicit any definite information of interest to the Bureau from either HISS, WINTER, WILLIAMSON, or BRAVERMAN, and believed it would be a waste of time to attempt this in the future. He further stated he desires no part of the CP or of its activities.

The above information was discussed confidentially with Mr. GEORGE W. HUMPHREY, Warden, United States Penitentiary, who advised that he was not aware that such a situation existed, and doubted that either HISS, WILLIAMSON, WINTER, or BRAVERMAN would have much influence over other inmates, either in prison or after release. He stated the above three are separated from each other at work and also at night, but stated they would have the opportunity to talk to each other in the library or in the stockade. He stated he would look into the above situation, and if it does exist, he would try to correct it to the best of his ability.

No further action in regard to the above is being taken by this office, and no further contacts with LISVANSKY are recommended since he indicated he would not be in a position to furnish any information of interest to the Bureau in the future.

Extra copies are furnished the Bureau and interested offices for distribution to related files.

Hiss Eligible For $715 Per Year Pension At 62

Washington—Alger Hiss, State Department official serving a prison term in Lewisburg Federal penitentiary for perjury on spy charges is entitled to a government pension of $715 a year when he becomes 62, and according to Civil Service officials the law does not allow the government to withhold a pension from eligible former federal workers, even if convicted of treason.

Hiss, convicted of perjury for denying he gave confidential State Department papers to Whittaker Chambers for a Communist spy ring, was employed by the State Department from Sept. 1, 1936, until he resigned Jan. 15, 1947. Retirement deductions taken from his salary totaled $1,791.39. He began serving his sentence in March, 1951, and will be freed next year with time off for good behavior.

"Dear Mr. HISS,

"We are not personally acquainted, and I suppose that it is small compensation indeed for you to hear from one small voice that always speaks out in your defense. I am one of those Americans who actually studied the record of proceedings in your case, all newspaper files, all periodicals and books pertaining thereto, etc. It was my considered opinion at the time of your conviction that you were railroaded. I am confident that you can someday prove this - to those Americans who still dare think, and say what they think. EARL JOWITT's book - 'The Strange Case of ALGER HISS' was superb!

"I do not know if you are even permitted to receive mail. And I assume that your 'mail' is probably read by all sorts of authorities, so I will reserve some of my rather choice opinions of the character of the crowd that nailed you.

Re Boston letter to Director, 2/24/54, which instructed the Philadelphia Office to discreetly identify ELEANOR HOUSTON SMITH.

A review of pertinent Philadelphia files reflected that ELEANOR HOUSTON SMITH has previously been identified as the wife of LAWRENCE EDWARD CLINTON SMITH, a wealthy Philadelphia lawyer, who resides at 3460 School House Lane, Philadelphia, Pa.

The report of SA J. CLIFFORD GUILLY, 11/19/53, at Philadelphia, entitled "LAWRENCE EDWARD CLINTON SMITH; SN-C" (Bufile 62-35537), sets forth information concerning both the subject and his wife, ELEANOR SMITH. This report indicates that the SMITHs were friendly with both DONALD and ALGER HISS and contributed voluntarily about $10,000.00 to the defense fund for ALGER HISS.

In view of the above, no further investigation will be conducted in Philadelphia concerning this lead. One copy of the report of SA GUILLY is being forwarded herewith to the New York Office. HUC.

RE: ALGER HISS
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

At 9:55 a.m. 6/24/54, Inspector HENNRICH called from the Bureau to advise that the Bureau is desirous of knowing definitely and immediately whether at any time within the past several months ALGER HISS, an inmate of the United States Penitentiary, Lewisburg, Pa., has been interviewed by FBI personnel. Mr. HENNRICH stated that according to Bureau files, no such authorization has been given us to talk with HISS, but that he wanted the resident agents at Lewisburg contacted and a definite determination arrived at in this connection, after which I was to advise him telephonically. He also asked that our resident agents be queried as to whether, of their own knowledge, they are aware of recent interviews of HISS by representatives of other agencies, that is, newspaper men, Congressional committee representatives, etc., but that we are to make no inquiries in this regard.

I reached the senior resident, SA WAYNE G. HUNT, telephonically, at 10:15 a.m., who advised that he has been assigned at Lewisburg since February 1953, and has never interviewed HISS; does not know what, if any, newspaper men or representatives of outside agencies may have interviewed him; and does not feel that SA GAMBLIN has interviewed him, except possibly in connection with the matter entitled, "LEAMAN RUSSELL SMITH, was.; STANLEY LEE ROBERTSON, was., ET AL; EDGAR ALLEN MOORE - VICTIM, CRIME ON A GOVERNMENT RESERVATION - ASSAULT," which matter involved a vicious cutting of one inmate by several others.

I determined from report of SA GEORGE P. GAMBLIN, Philadelphia, 2/9/54, in captioned matter, that Page 3 of the details contains the statement: "On December 2, 1953, the following inmates from the J-1 quarters were interviewed and stated that they heard a commotion in the J-1 Dormitory around 7:00 p.m., but stated that they did not see the assailants and provided no information of value regarding the identity of the assailants:" There follows a list of the names of 38 inmates with their Penitentiary and cell numbers, among which is ALGER HISS - #19137 NE - Cell 135.

Being unable to immediately reach SA GAMBLIN for details concerning his interview with HISS, I called Mr. HENNRICH at 10:35 a.m., furnishing him the above information and telling him of SA HUNT's recollection that instant interview with HISS resulted merely from the Warden's having lined up a large number of inmates to which GAMBLIN and possibly another agent talked very briefly about the altercation. Mr. HENNRICH asked that I continue efforts to obtain further details from GAMBLIN, particularly how long the interview lasted and under what conditions it was set up.

At 11:40 a.m., I reached SA GEORGE P. GAMBLIN who advised that following the assault in this case which occurred in the J-1 quarters of the Penitentiary at around 7:00 p.m., on 12/2/53, he had arrived at the Penitentiary a short while thereafter and, in an effort to locate a witness to the altercation, the Captain of the Guards had lined up all the inmates of the J-1 quarters, approximately 40 in number, in a room outside the office of the Associate Warden where he, GAMBLIN, was seated with the Warden and the Associate Warden; that, thereafter, the inmates were brought in by the Captain of the Guards one by one and were questioned very briefly by himself and the Warden. He stated he did not have any knowledge of the identities of these inmates until they were brought in by the Guard, and that his first indication that HISS was in the group occurred when HISS appeared in front of him in the Associate Warden's office and the Guard Captain stated, "This is HISS, #19137 NE." GAMBLIN said he immediately recognized HISS and asked him as he had the other prisoners where he, HISS, was at around 7 to 7:15 p.m., to which HISS replied that he had been upstairs at choir practice, and was returning down the stairs to his own quarters. GAMBLIN said he then asked him whether he had seen or heard any commotion, to which HISS replied to his best recollection that he had heard a commotion and some screams. HISS was then asked whether he saw any of the inmates running upstairs as he came down, to which HISS stated he had not. GAMBLIN then asked him if he had heard or had any information as to who had attacked the inmate, to which HISS replied that he did not, but indicated he would be glad to furnish same were it in his possession. The interview was terminated in less than five minutes, and the next prisoner was brought in. GAMBLIN indicated that the interviews of the inmates took place between 8:30 p.m. and 12:00 midnight, with HISS having been interviewed, according to GAMBLIN's best recollection, at around 9:30 or 10:00 p.m.

He added that while undoubtedly the inmates who were questioned realized he was an FBI Agent, he was not introduced as such, and no mention was made to HISS by him or anyone else in his presence that he was with the FBI.

He continued that following his three or four questions to HISS and the others, he then asked the Warden and Associate Warden if they had any further questions to ask, and that his best recollection is that they seldom did.

In answer to questions as to his knowledge of interviews recently conducted of HISS by representatives of other agencies, GAMBLIN stated he knew of none with the possible exception that within the past several days, the Sunbury Daily Item newspaper carried a story which gave the impression a representative of the Government, possibly of Civil Service, had interviewed HISS concerning the controversy over his Government pension. I asked GAMBLIN to immediately obtain a copy of the newspaper and phone in the quotation from it.

At 12:10 p.m., the above information was furnished Inspector HENNRICH and I advised him that when I had the text of the article in the Sunbury Item concerning the apparent interview of HISS by a Civil Service representative, I would call and give him the text.

The following article regarding HISS was contained in the Sunbury Daily Item, published at Sunbury, Pa., and datelined 6/22/54:

"GOVERNMENT FOR PENSIONING HISS IN SPITE OF FOES"

"Eisenhower Administration Opposed to Moves Pending in Congress For Starting Annuities to Traitor"

"Washington, A. P. The Eisenhower Administration today opposed denying government retirement pay to ALGER HISS or any convict who became entitled to it as a Federal employee.

"The Administration's stand surprised many Congress members. Representative CIAREY (R - Mich.) said he was 'shocked, aghast, and boiling mad.'

"The Administration's position was stated by the Bureau of the Budget, which customarily speaks for the President and the Civil Service Commission to a House Civil Service Commission Sub-Committee.

"The Sub-Committee is considering bills applied to it specifically and generally to all Federal workers convicted of felonies or moral turpitude.

"HISS, former State Department official, convicted of lying when he denied giving secret government documents to a pre-World War II Communist spy ring, was invited to state his view on the proposal to take away his pension.

"Through the Prison Bureau and an attorney, he sent word from Lewisburg Prison that he did not wish to make a statement.

"HISS has a total government service of 14 years, nine months. Under present law he will be entitled to retirement pay of $700.00 a year starting December 1, 1966, after he reaches age 62.

"The Budget Bureau in a letter to the Sub-Committee said the courts have held retirement rights or contractual rights 'and that when the U. S. enters into an employment contract, it is governed by the same laws that apply to contracts made by private citizens.'

"The Bureau further expressed 'grave doubt' anyone meeting the conditions of the law 'can be divested of rights which have accrued him.'

"This Bureau,' it said, 'believes that imposition of penalties would be inappropriate punishment for the felonies involved and accordingly recommend against favorable consideration to this bill by your Sub-Committee.'

"In a letter to the Sub-Committee, Chairman PHILIP YOUNG of the Civil Service Commission also expressed the view that retirement benefits are a contractual right.

"Representative ST. GEORGE, author of both general and specific legislation applying to HISS, said he felt the HISS case 'is so notorious and so documented that the government should not be required to contribute funds to his retirement annuities.'"

Hiss Figures In Red Probe

Justice Department Calls Associates

By ARTHUR KRANISH

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (NS) — Alger Hiss may soon emerge as a central figure in the government's ambitious new probe of Soviet espionage rings, which operated in Washington during World War II.

Federal officials appear to be laying the groundwork for such a development by calling alleged former associates of the suave, ex-diplomat for testimony before a grand jury.

The one-time high State Department official is scheduled to be released from the Lewisburg, (Pa.) Federal Penitentiary in late November. His five-year sentence for perjury is expected to be cut one third because of his good conduct record as a prison supply room clerk.

However, it is no secret that Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., and other high Administration officials are far from happy about releasing the man whose name became a major issue in the 1952 campaign.

Hiss never has been charged in a court with disloyalty. He was convicted of falsely denying under oath that he gave ex-Communist Whittaker Chambers government secrets for a Red spy network.

Although the deadline for bringing further perjury prosecution against Hiss on the basis of his Congressional or court testimony is now passed, there is no such time limit for alleged espionage committed in time of war.

The government has started to question some of his Washington associates recently in grand jury proceedings, in Washington and Camden, N. J. Justice Department officials refuse to disclose the purpose of the Camden probe.

Hiss Release Set for Nov. 27

Five-Year Term Cut By Good Behavior

Washington, Sept. 25.—(UP)—In exactly nine weeks, Alger Hiss is scheduled to be released from the Lewisburg, Pa., Federal Penitentiary a free man.

Justice Department sources said today that Hiss, one-time high-ranking State Department official, is scheduled to be released November 27.

That will be exactly three years, eight months and five days after he began his prison sentence on March 22, 1951.

May be Quizzed Anew

There are reports that Government and congressional investigators may try again to quiz Hiss on what he knows about Red spying here in the days when he was a top-ranking Government official.

Hiss was convicted in January, 1950, of lying under oath before a grand jury in denying that he ever slipped secret Government documents to Whittaker Chambers, confessed courier for a pre-World War II Communist espionage ring.

Called Model Prisoner

He was sentenced to five years but cut this down by accumulating time off for good behavior. He has been described as a "model prisoner."

In the years immediately prior to his conviction, he steadfastly denied any knowledge of Chambers' spy ring, despite Chambers' production of the now-famous "pumpkin papers" as evidence.

It is noted that Hiss will be eligible for conditional release on 11/27/54.

Since Alger Hiss is a controversial figure, New York, as office of origin, should arrange through appropriate sources to be kept fully advised of his activities immediately upon and after his release from the Lewisburg Penitentiary. Newspaper articles have indicated that Hiss plans to write a book after his release. Information concerning this book should also be obtained through available sources. No physical surveillance should be maintained on Hiss.

The Security Index card for Alger Hiss is presently maintained in the Unavailable Section in view of his incarceration. The Philadelphia Office should advise New York of the date when Hiss is actually released. New York should then submit Form FD-122 to the Bureau so that his Security Index card can be removed from the Unavailable Section. Thereafter, investigation should be conducted to determine his residence and employment, if any, and that information should then be furnished to the Bureau on another Form FD-122 in order that the Security Index card can be maintained in a current status.

Lewisburg Pen's No. 1
'Big Name' Prisoner In Pre-Release Section.

Alger Hiss, the No. 1 "big name" prisoner at Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary, has been placed in the pre-release section of the prison, it was learned today.

Hiss, who will gain his freedom Nov. 27 after serving nearly three years of a five-year sentence for perjury, began his term March 22, 1951.

In the pre-release section, he is excused from all work details and is permitted greater freedom of action than in regular detention, while receiving orientation training before leaving the penitentiary.

Were he to serve his full time, he would not be set free until March 21, 1956. However, a Justice Department spokesman recently pointed out that release is mandatory at this time under the law.

Hiss, who was convicted of perjury in denying that he passed government secrets to a Communist spy ring prior to World War II, was at one time regarded as one of Washington's brightest and ablest men. He has been a model prisoner since entering the Lewisburg penitentiary.

Regular Release Routine Set For Hiss Nov. 27 at Lewisburg

Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 19.—(UP)—Alger Hiss will go through the regular routine for the release of prisoners on November 27 when he emerges from the U. S. Northeastern Penitentiary after serving his term for his part in the famous "pumpkin papers" spy case.

Hiss was sentenced to two concurrent five-year sentences for falsely swearing before a federal grand jury that he never slipped confidential government documents to Whittaker Chambers, admitted member of a pre-war Soviet espionage ring. He served 44 months of the sentence and will be released early for good behavior.

Will Arise at Usual Time

Warden Fred Wilkinson, in a statement issued by his secretary in response to questions, said that on the day of his release, Hiss will arise at the usual time and breakfast with the other prisoners.

Instead of reporting to his regular work detail, he will then check out at several departments including the commissary and the library.

At 9 A. M. he will be brought to the front gate by the duty officer, the warden said. Instead of being taken into Lewisburg on the penitentiary bus for train or bus connections, Hiss will be met at the main gate by members of his family who are expected to drive him home, the warden said.

Talk With Warden

The warden said that some of the usual checking out procedure will be conducted the day before his release. The customary talk with the warden regarding his future has already taken place but the nature of the talk was not revealed.

Wilkinson said there was no basis whatsoever for rumors that Hiss was not now at the prison. He said any change in the present status can be made only by the Bureau of Prisons, but as far as the warden is aware, Hiss will remain at the penitentiary until November 27.

PRECEDENT SET AT U.S. PEN FOR HISS RELEASE

Interview And Pictures at Main Gate Approved By Bureau Of Prisons
'Army' Of Newsmen To Cover Big Story.

A precedent will be set at the Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary
Saturday morning when reporters and photographers are allowed to interview Alger Hiss at the main gate on his release.

Hiss, who will be released with 48 hours good time from a five-year sentence for perjury, he started March 22, 1954. He is expected to be accompanied by his lawyer, Richard Lane.

According to Warden Fred Wilkinson, the release of Hiss, although commonplace to Bureau of Prisons officials, is recognized as an act of considerable outside news interests, and arrangements have been made to provide ample news coverage.

Previously, all pictures were taken at the penitentiary reservation entrance, if at all, after a prisoner had entered his car and was leaving. Arrangements specially made for this occasion, will permit all accredited newspapermen and photographers to drive to a special parking area 50 feet from the main gate, where pictures may be taken.

So far as interviewing Hiss is concerned, that is a matter entirely up to Hiss and his attorney, according to the warden. However, it is believed that such an interview will occur, or at least that a statement will be issued either by Hiss or Mr. Lane.

Hiss will leave Saturday, Nov.
27, and no effort will be made to smuggle him out the rear gate, nor will he be released at any other than the regular time, which is customarily around 9 a. m.

A question as to whether penitentiary officials "cooperate" with departing inmates in getting them past newspapermen in such a matter, was answered in the negative. Whether such a request had been made in this case will not be divulged, according to the warden's secretary. It was also stated that it is not known who will be in the party that meets Hiss, although apparently he will leave by private automobile from the penitentiary reservation, and not by bus at Lewisburg.

Reservations at local hotels and motels indicate a record will be made in the number of press representatives covering the release.
In addition to wire services and local papers, most major city newspapers will have reporters and photographers present.

Hiss was convicted in New York of having lied to a grand jury about being affiliated with Communist groups in January, 1950.
Following denial of an appeal, he began serving his five year sentence in 1951.

Newsman Okayed At Main Gate to Meet Alger Hiss

LEWISBURG—The departure of Alger Hiss from the U.S. Northeastern Penitentiary here Saturday will establish something of a precedent, according to a telephone interview with Warden Fred Wilkinson.

Although a commonplace happening to penitentiary officials, the departure of Hiss is recognized as an act of considerable outside news interest, and arrangements have been made to provide complete news coverage.

Close Photos.

Never before have officials permitted photography at the main gate, which separates the penitentiary from the reservation. Previously, pictures were taken at the entrance to the reservation, approximately one-quarter mile from the main gate.

The warden has arranged to permit all accredited newsmen and news photographers to drive to a special parking area about 50 feet from the main gate, where photographs may be taken.

So far as interviewing Hiss is concerned, that is a matter entirely up to Hiss and his attorney, according to the warden. It is believed that such an interview will be held, or at least that a statement will be issued by either Hiss or his attorney.

Hiss will be released Saturday Nov. 27, at 9 a.m., and not before or after, the warden said.

Won't "Smuggle".

The warden said also that there will be no attempt to "smuggle" Hiss out the rear gate. He will leave by the main gate where he will be met by members of his family, he added. The warden was unable to say who would be in the family party.

Reservations at local hotels and motels indicate another record in the number of press representatives expected for the release of a penitentiary inmate. In addition to wife services, most major news papers will have reporters and photographers present, it is anticipated.

Changes While Hiss Was in Jail

When the 50-year-old Alger Hiss emerges Saturday from the Lewisburg prison, he will find the national political climate considerably changed. Hiss was first publicly accused by Whittaker Chambers on Aug. 3, 1948, in the course of a House Un-American Activities Committee investigation that had been labeled a "red herring" by President Truman.

Vice-President Nixon, then a Representative and a member of the investigating committee, had played a principal role in the confrontation of Hiss by Chambers in New York hotel room in 1948. When Hiss was at last convicted—his first trial ended in July, 1949, with a hung jury—Nixon charged that "high officials in two administrations" had tried to keep the Hiss "conspiracy" from the public.

As the first trial of Hiss began in May, 1949, in New York, 11 U. S. Communist leaders were being tried in the same Federal Court building. Also on trial in Washington, was Judith Coplon, charged with espionage.

The New York Communist trial, first prosecution under the 1940 Smith Act since 1941, ended in the conviction of all of the defendants. Since that trial, more than 100 alleged Communist leaders have been arrested under the Smith Act; so far at least 81 have been convicted. Miss Coplon's conviction was reversed on a technicality by the U. S. Court of Appeals in New York in December, 1950.

On the day that Chambers was accusing Hiss before the House committee, William W. Remington, a Commerce Department employe, was denying in testimony before a Senate subcommittee that he was a Communist. Remington was convicted of perjury in January, 1953. Remington died yesterday in Lewisburg of injuries incurred when hit on the head during an attack in prison.

Since the conviction of Hiss, Congress has approved a series of anti-Communist measures. The first, an omnibus anti-subversion bill, was approved over the veto of President Truman in 1950. The vote to override in the House was 286 to 48; in the Senate, 57 to 10.

The latest, and most stringent, of the anti-Communist acts was the bill outlawing the Communist Party enacted at the 1954 session of Congress.

Alger Hiss Leaves Friday, Wonders How He'll Be

New York, Nov. 25—(AP)—Prisoner No. 19137 at the Federal penitentiary in Lewisburg, Pa., will become Alger Hiss again on Saturday.

He will leave his five-by-eight foot cell in the southeast wing, where the high, barred window looks out onto other high, barred windows. He will turn in his prison uniform—his blue chambray shirts and heavy cotton trousers.

He will be offered a going-away suit from the prison stocks. He is expected to decline in favor of a natural-fitting gray, like those he wore in the higher echelons of the State Department in international conferences at Yalta and San Francisco; in the United Nations and in the perjury trial that profoundly unsettled a nation and sent him to prison three and a half years ago.

Expected to Decline Money

Before he leaves Lewisburg, he will be offered up to $30 in "gate money." Those who know him expect he will decline; politely. A steel door will open and when it is locked behind him, Hiss will pass under a legend in a red brick wall which says in part:

"Let those who control the lives of the men who enter here remember to bear in mind that the path to better things lies upward always and is steep . . ."

He will walk to the gray stone outer wall where the machine gun turrets are visible 40 feet up. Another door, this one of glass and steel bars, will open and he will

His first unbarred view of the world in three and a half years will reveal the shocked corn of the farmlands and the brown hills of Union County in the background. In the foreground, he will see a parking lot and a tall pole bearing the flag which a jury of his peers believe he betrayed.

The second door will close behind him and Hiss will be free, but his freedom will be highly relative.

Release Is Conditional

He is getting out on a conditional release, having earned "meritorious good time" which was deducted from his original sentence of five years. Until March 21, 1956, he will have to report at least once a month to a probation officer to tell where he's living, where he's working, how much he's earning, whom he's seeing.

If he sees the wrong people or engages in the wrong activities (these limitations are specific, but will not be made public) or leaves his designated area without permission, he can be sent back to prison.

The day he goes free, November 27, he will be two weeks past his 50th birthday.

ernment—about as far as you can get—Hiss will never again vote in New York unless he gets a pardon. Convicted felons lose the right in this state. In some cases, they can't even get a driver's license.

As a convicted felon, Hiss also loses certain federal civil liberties. He will never get a passport or be allowed to hold public office or be eligible for any civil service job, even a mailman's, unless he gets a presidential pardon.

He will not be able to practice law where he used to practice law in New York, Massachusetts or before the Supreme Court. He has been disbarred. It is unlikely that other bars will admit him.

How, then, will he earn a living?

He Could Write

The question, according to his family and friends, is still undecided in the mind of the prisoner. He spends his last days behind bars.

He'll want to study and write, if anybody will pay him to do that, says his lawyer, Chester Lane. "I think he'll want to write about foreign affairs or the atmosphere of the time. But the question is, what can he write about that a publisher will take except his own story of his own case."

Those who know him don't expect Hiss to write a personalized story of his case, the way Whitaker Chambers did in "Witness." It was Chambers, more than any other one person, who sent Hiss to prison. He swore that in 1937 and 1938 Hiss gave him State Department documents for relay to Russian spies.

Brother Explains

"Alger won't write his own story and I agree with him," says the prisoner's younger brother, Donald, who looks a great deal like him. "I'd rather be shot as a traitor than make a public spectacle of myself."

"Alger feels his whole life already is a matter of record. What can he add to the case or to his life story except his own interpretation? And his own interpretation wouldn't help. Either he'd bend over backwards to be fair, which wouldn't be worth a damn, or he'd be biased in his own favor, and that would be worthless, too."

Donald Hiss is a lawyer with a Washington firm of which former Secretary of State Dean Acheson is a prominent member. That will recall the storm aroused by Acheson when he said, after Hiss' conviction, "I will not turn my back on Alger Hiss."

Donald Not Prosecuted

bers when Donald was in the State Department. During his brother's second trial, Donald denied this under oath. The Government never took any action against him.

What of Chambers today? What thoughts does he have as Hiss approaches his release? When at his farm in Westminster, where he is recovering from a heart attack, Chambers declined to be interviewed, saying:

"I just hope people will now leave the fellow alone."

Hiss went to prison protesting his innocence. He will come out still determined to prove it, his friends report.

"He'll continue to try to vindicate himself and to expose the frameup against him," says Lane, his lawyer.

Lane, who visited his client seven or eight times in prison, says Hiss never expressed any bitterness and seemed to have adjusted well to prison life. But he adds:

"He seems to have gotten along well with the other inmates and the staff. He got only the minimum of fair treatment due him. For example, another man serving the same sentence and earning the same amount of good time would have been released in August, not November. But that is discretionary with the officials."

No Complaints in Letters

Donald Hiss says that in his letters Alger never complained, never appeared bitter or despondent, invariably displayed "incredibly good" spirits.

"You wouldn't know from his mail that he was writing from prison," Donald says. "Frequently, he ended a letter with something like, 'I've got to rush out now to a handball game.'"

Alger was never visited in prison by his brother or mother, who is 87 and lives in Baltimore. There were several reasons, Donald says. First, it would have been an arduous journey for her. Secondly, a prisoner is permitted only two hours of visiting time a month and the family thought it best to let Hiss' wife and son have the lion's share.

"Besides," Donald adds, "the family is so broke and in such debt as a result of the case we all couldn't afford to visit him as often as we'd have liked. So we pooled our money so Priscilla and Tony could go."

Wife in Book Store

Mrs. Hiss, who has been working in the order department of a New York book store, could have visited her husband a half hour a week or in one monthly session of two hours. Generally she chose the latter because of the expense of travel and the time off required from her job.

What has it been like to be somebody named Hiss in the past few years?

Hiss' mother is described as bearing up "wonderfully," and as still having faith that he will be vindicated. She still goes about her church and Red Cross work and attends lectures. Occasionally, she comes up with a theory which, she hopes, might reopen her son's case.

For her birthday last summer, family and friends gathered. Donald says there was no mention of Alger beyond the fact that he had written and was well.

Friends Remain Loyal

Priscilla Hiss, according to those who know her socially, still sees the same circle of friends, has complained of no abuse of herself or her son as a result of the case and speaks frequently of kindness shown by friends and neighbors.

Her son attends a private school in Manhattan. The day after his father was convicted the boy was elected president of his class. School officials evidently have taken pains to see to it that outside influences did not result in abuse in the classrooms.

Donald Hiss says his everyday life has been changed only slightly because of the publicity given his brother's case. He is not a jury lawyer but if he were he would not "dare try a case before a jury." He also avoids cases involving political issues or government agencies.

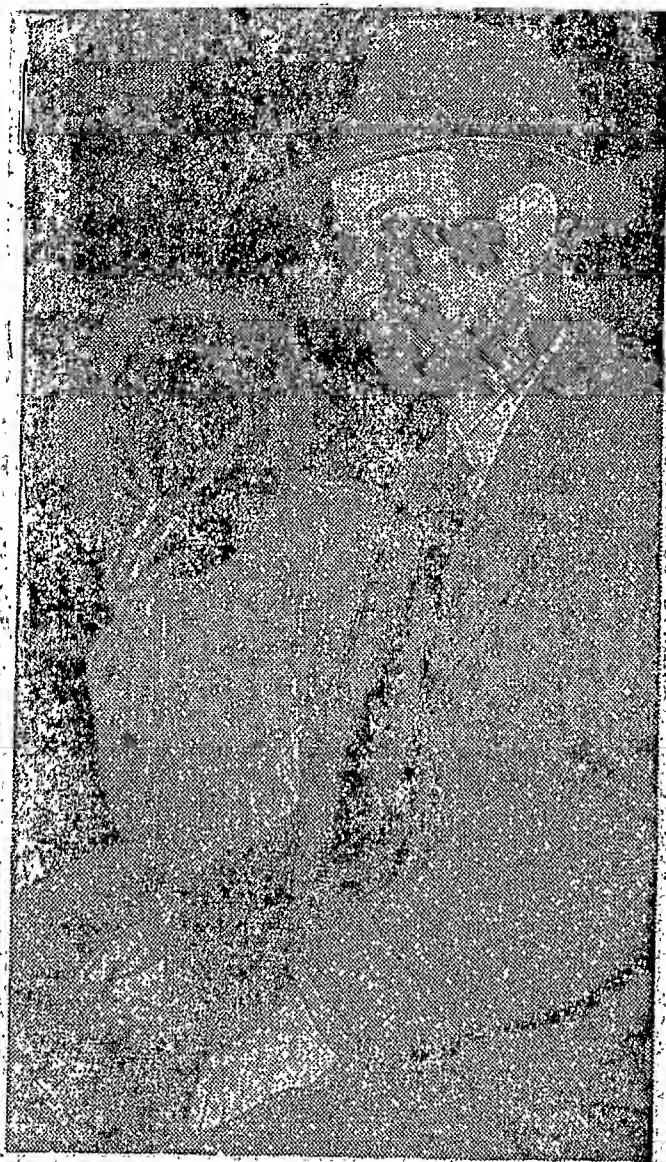

Prison Routine

Prisoners at Lewisburg are permitted to send three letters a week and receive seven. Most of the mail Hiss has written went to his wife and son and was then circulated through the rest of the family.

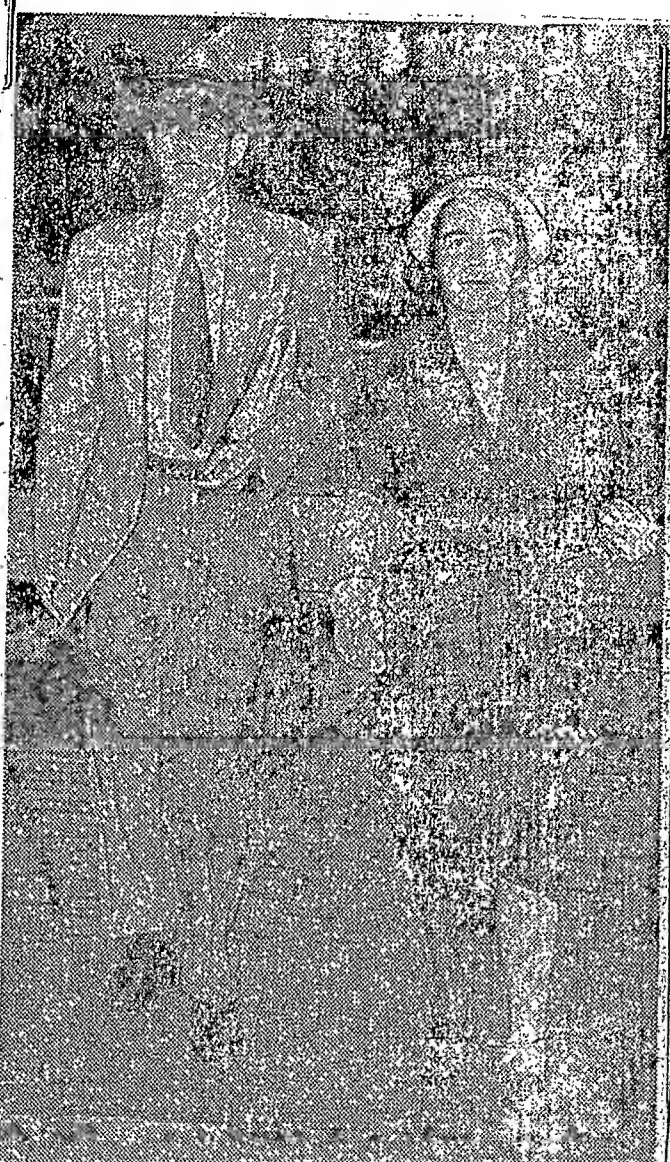

Like the other prisoners, Hiss was awakened each morning at 6:45 by a blast of the boiler house whistle. He washed, dressed, shaved, made his barracks type bed and tidied up his cell. He stood up to be counted at 7, then followed his blockmates to a huge dining hall for breakfast. He worked until noon, rejoined his blockmates for a 45-minute lunch, then returned to his cell to be counted. After that he worked until 4:30, returned to his cell to be counted and went to supper at 5. He enjoyed free recreational time until 9:30, returned to his cell to be counted and went to bed at 10.

His working hours were spent in the prison store room where he handled and checked out articles of every description, used in a prison from light bulbs to 100-pound sacks of beans.

According to his visitors, he generally spent his recreational time in the library reading books on foreign affairs or economics, singing with the prison choir, playing handball or helping other prisoners write home.

On his way to become Prisoner No. 19137 in March, 1951, former State Department official Alger Hiss (right) sits next to a convicted felon in a van during the trip to the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa.

Accompanied by his wife, Priscilla, Hiss arrives at the Federal Court House at New York to hear his defense attorneys make a final appeal to the jury in July, 1949. He was sentenced to five years on a perjury charge.

Hiss Leaves Prison, Hopes to Clear Name

LEWISBURG, Pa., Nov. 27 (UP).—Alger Hiss walked to freedom in the crisp morning sunshine today after 44 months in prison and promised a new fight to clear himself of charges he gave U. S. secrets to a Russian spy ring.

Hiss, who once was adviser to President Roosevelt at the Yalta Conference, made it clear as soon as he passed through the prison gates that his case was far from closed. He will, he said, seek to "vindicate my name."

'FORGERY BY TYPEWRITER'

He went to prison in 1951 declaring he was a victim of "forgery by typewriter." And he announced to newsmen who waited for him today that he would renew with "enthusiasm" his efforts to prove his innocence of the perjury charges which grew out of his denial of accusations made by Whitaker Chambers.

"I plan to renew my efforts to dispel the deception that has been foisted upon the American people," Hiss said.

VOICES CONFIDENCE

"I shall renew those efforts with more enthusiasm because I am confident that their success not only will vindicate my name and relieve my family of harassment but will assist in the allaying of the hysteria and fear of these days."

Hiss drove with his wife and son to the walkup apartment in New York's Greenwich Village they have occupied for the last 10 years. They arrived at 4:20 P. M., accompanied by two attorneys, and went into seclusion.

"I am not running for office. I am returning home.

"I imagine you all had your Thanksgiving with your families the day before yesterday. This is my Thanksgiving. I want to spend mine with my family."

Mention of Chambers brought the only note of bitterness in his voice. Told that Chambers had been quoted recently as saying Hiss would have a hard time getting a job, Hiss retorted: "Was that his (Chambers') hope or statement?"

ORDEAL OF DAILY LIVING

Chambers, Hiss's Maryland home, said he saw only a hard "ordeal of daily living" ahead for Hiss, who as a convicted felon has been banished from the legal profession and Government service, the only kinds of work he knows.

"The saddest single fact of the Hiss case is that nobody can change the facts as they are known," Chambers declared.

"Neither Alger Hiss nor I, however much we might wish to do so, can change those facts. They are there forever. That is the inherent tragedy of the case."

GRAYED AND HEAVIER

In Washington, Sen. Karl Mundt, (R., S. D.), who presided over hearings at which Hiss was accused of being a Communist spy, said he did not think Congress should question Hiss further, unless he wanted to "come clean."

"He may decide to lead a new life," Mundt said. "He may decide to come clean and tell the whole story."

The 50-year-old former State Department official, much grayer and plumper than he was the day he went to prison in 1951, walked from the Northeastern Federal Penitentiary with his wife, Priscilla, on one arm and their 13-year-old son, Anthony, on the other.

ATTORNEYS ARE PRESENT

Attorneys with Hiss were two of the attorneys who fought all the way to the Supreme Court to try to keep him out of prison. They were Chester Lane and Robert Benjamin, who drove away immediately with the Hisses in a red convertible automobile.

Hiss, who helped organize the United Nations, left prison a convicted felon who must report to a parole officer for the next 16 months. His five-year sentence was cut to 44 months for good behavior, but authorities will keep close tabs on him until 1956.

APPEARS EXUBERANT

Hiss was convicted of charges of lying when he said he never had delivered State Department secrets to Chambers, an admitted onetime spy courier, and never had seen Chambers after Jan. 1, 1937.

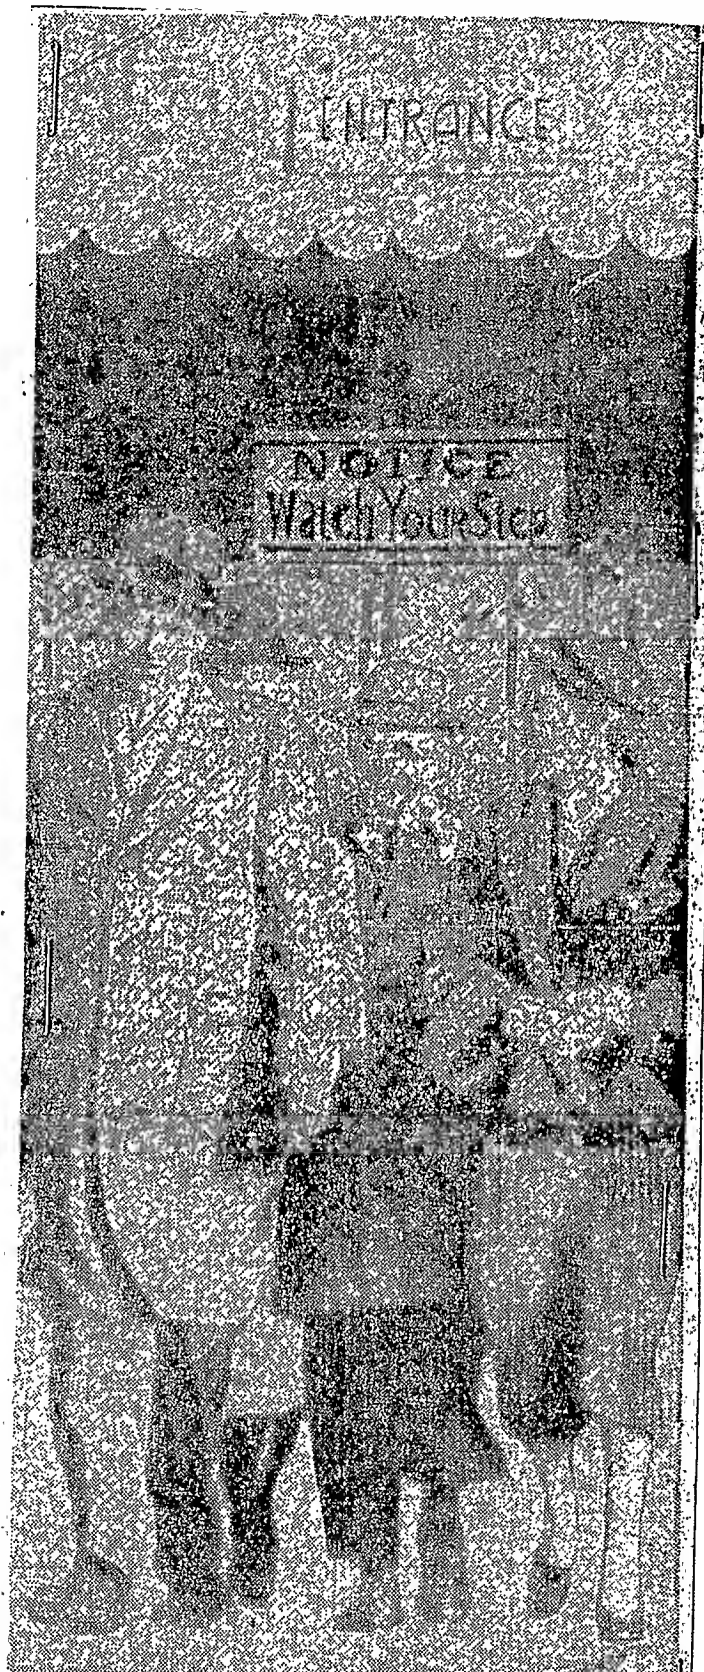

Hiss appeared to be exuberant over his release and he talked at a rapid clip.

MYTH HAS DEVELOPED

"This is not a press conference, although it looks very much like one," Hiss said. "I'm very glad to use this chance, the first that I've had in nearly four years, to reassert my complete innocence of the charges that were brought against me by Whittaker Chambers."

"Also for nearly four years, I have had no opportunity to answer the fantastic inventions that politicians and the members of the press have been free to invent about me. I have had to wait in silence while in my absence a myth has been developed. I hope that the return of the mere man will help to dispel the myth."

As he walked down a path in brisk fall weather, Hiss turned several times to wave good-by to some one in the prison. The identity of the person or persons to whom he waved was not learned.

Alger Hiss, ex-State Department official who served part of 5-year term for perjury, leaves Lewisburg Federal Prison with wife and 13-year-old son.

Alger Hiss Is Released, Vows He'll Clear Name

Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 27—(AP) —Alger Hiss, looking grim and rather haggard but appearing confident, walked to freedom today, asserting that he was "completely innocent" of charges that he helped Communist spies.

A stretch of three and a half years behind the bars of Lewisburg federal prison ended with an avowal by the 50-year-old former State Department official that he meant to "vindicate my name" of the stigma of a conviction for perjury when he denied before a federal grand jury that he ever gave state secrets to Red spies.

Hiss was sentenced to five years but won parole, as provided under the law, because of good behavior. He'll have to report monthly to a federal officer for the next year and a half.

When he emerged from the prison he was peppered by waiting newsmen with questions about his past and future. Hiss carefully framed his answer.

Accused of Being a Red

"I am very glad to use this chance," he said, "the first I have had in nearly four years, to reassert my complete innocence from the charges that were brought against me by Whittaker Chambers."

Chambers, formerly a senior editor of Time magazine now living in retirement on a farm in Westminster, Md., accused Hiss of being a member of a Communist Party group. Chambers accused Hiss also of turning over secret State Department documents.

Today, a newsmen was given a short statement—typed personally by Chambers on a scrap of letter paper. It said:

"The saddest single fact about the Hiss case is that nobody can change the facts as they are known. Neither Alger Hiss nor I, however much we might wish to do so, can change these facts.

"They are there forever. That is the inherent tragedy of this case."

Hiss, of course, doesn't agree—as he reiterated he was innocent of any wrongdoing.

through the main gate to freedom.

Moments later Hiss, smiling steadily, was engulfed in waves of reporters and photographers. There he made a brief informal statement.

He spoke off the cuff, rather than from a manuscript, but appeared to have chosen his words carefully. He spoke nearly two minutes without interruption. Afterward newsmen fired questions at him. He replied to some, ignored most of the others.

The lines about his lean jaw tightened and harshness crept into his voice as he mentioned Chambers' name.

'Fantastic Invention'

After saying "this is not a press conference, although it looks very much like one," Hiss went on:

"For nearly four years I have had no opportunity to answer the fantastic invention that politicians and members of the press have been free to invent about me."

"I have had to wait in silence, while in my absence a myth has been developed. I hope that the return of the mere man will help to dispel the myth."

"I have only one other thing I want to say at this time. That is I shall resume my efforts to dispel the deception that has been foisted on the American people. I shall renew those efforts with more enthusiasm because I am confident that their success will not only vindicate my name, relieve my family of harassment, but will assist in the allaying of the hysteria and fear of these days."

Mentions Remington Death

Hiss tried to parry further questioning with a terse "no more." But he did reply briefly to a few queries, paraphrasing what he had said earlier, saying that charges which sent him to prison were "untrue."

As he shouldered his way past reporters and photographers, he said that he and the other prisoners were "revolted and horrified" by the death last Wednesday of William W. Remington in the Lewisburg penitentiary. Three fellow-convicts are accused by the FBI of beating Remington over the head with a brick wrapped in a sock.

Remington was jailed, like Hiss, on perjury charges but their trials were unrelated.

Waves to Guards

Hiss' release today was accomplished at 9.03 A. M., only 15 minutes after his family arrived from New York.

As he strode from the prison's administration building into sight of newsmen 50 yards away, he paused to wave at guards and others leaning out of windows.

Hiss walked briskly, with his wife, Priscilla, and their 13-year-old son, Tony, through the main gateway and into the crowd of newsmen and photographers.

No Hint of Future Plans

Hiss discarded new garb given out by the prison to wear a gray suit, a snap brim gray hat and well-worn gray tweed topcoat sent him previously by his wife.

The Hiss party entered a red convertible coupe and drove to New York City.

There Hiss went into seclusion at his apartment in Greenwich Village, declining to answer all questions about his plans.

"I imagine you all had your Thanksgiving dinner with your family the day before yesterday," he said to a crowd of newsmen and photographers.

"This is my Thanksgiving. I think you can understand. I would like to have mine with my family."

International Soundphoto.

Somewhat haggard after his release from the Federal Penitentiary at Lewisburg, Alger Hiss stops to talk with reporters outside his New York City home. He served three and one-half years of a five-year sentence on a perjury conviction.

Hiss Leaves Prison Today; Third Convict, 17, Accused In Slaying Of Remington

LEWISBURG, Pa., Nov. 26 (AP)—A third convict—only 17—today was charged with the slaying of convicted perjurer William Remington in Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary.

Lewisburg prison authorities, meanwhile, prepared for the release of Alger Hiss, due to receive his freedom and begin the restricted life of a parolee in a matter of hours.

The 50-year-old Hiss, like Remington, was convicted of perjury in testimony he gave during investigations of the Communist conspiracy in the United States.

Remington, one-time aide in the Commerce Department, died in the prison hospital on Wednesday from a savage beating at the hands of three fellow prisoners now accused by the FBI of murder. He was struck on the head with a brick wrapped in a sock. The assault was committed in Remington's dormitory room.

The attack, coming so soon before the time set for Hiss' release, led to widespread speculation that the two were somehow connected. But acting Warden Fred T. Wilkinson said he found no good reason for so thinking.

Good behavior reduced Hiss' sentence from five to three and one-half years.

Wilkinson said Hiss, former high-ranking State Department assistant, spent his last day in prison in routine fashion. He turned in his drab clothing, the odds and ends he won't need in the outside world.

"Just as in the military," Wilkinson said, "there is a lot of this checking out to be done."

The charging of the third convict, Lewis Cagle Jr., of Chattanooga, Tenn., provided the first clue as to possible motive for the attack on Remington.

Norman H. McCabe, special agent in charge of the Philadelphia office of the FBI, said Cagle admitted that he and two other convicts planned to ransack Remington's room on Nov. 22 and the assault took place while there in his Remington's room.

The others, George Junior McCoy, 34, Grundy, Va., and Robert Carl Parker, 21, Washington, D.C., were charged with murder the day Remington died.

McCabe said that Cagle was assigned to Lewisburg penitentiary after his conviction in December 1952 under the federal Juvenile Delinquency Act. Both McCoy and Parker are serving three-year terms for transporting stolen automobiles across state lines.

"I certainly can see no evidence that someone sat down and planned to kill inmate Remington as a protest against the release of inmate Hiss," Wilkinson told a newsman.

The prison head termed "a lot of hogwash" reports that groups of prisoners were going around looking for Communists, but added:

"You might run into hoodlums or crackpots here the same as in any big city."

Wilkinson said he doubted that robbery was the sole motive for the killing of Remington but he would not elaborate.

Hiss is expected to be met at the prison gate by his wife, Erica, and their 13-year-old son. They will motor to their New York home, probably accompanied by Hiss' lawyer, Chester Lane.

Wilkinson said Hiss' release will follow normal routine. Hiss will breakfast at the prison and be checked out by several departments, including the commissary and the library. Then he will be escorted through two big gates into the open. He is expected to be released between 8:30 and 9 a.m. EST.

Hiss was indicted on two charges, that he lied to a federal grand jury when he denied that he passed government secrets to Whittaker Chambers, who says he was a courier for a prewar spy ring, and that he lied again in testifying he did not see Chambers after Jan. 1, 1937.

The first trial in 1949 resulted in a hung jury. At a second trial ending Jan. 31, 1950, he was convicted on both counts. He surrendered on March 22, 1951, to begin serving his term.

The prison grapevine is buzzing about the release of Hiss. Charles Prewitt, Richmond, Va., discharged from the prison Wednesday after serving 27 months for taking a stolen automobile across state lines, said Hiss was "one of the most respected fellows in the prison."

As far as I know, he got along with the boys," Prewitt told a newsman. "they know he's getting out and there's no resentment that I've seen."

Lane, as Hiss' lawyer, predicts that the one-time secretary general of the founding conference of the United Nations, will try to vindicate himself and "to expose the frameup against him."

"I'll keep trying to prove his innocence but at the moment, I don't feel too encouraged," he said recently. "Still I'm continually expecting a break."

Hiss' brother, Donald, said Alger is coming out of jail broke. Mrs. Hiss has been working in a New York bookstore to support herself and their son, Tony.

Until March 21, 1956 Hiss must report at least once a month to a probation officer. He will have to tell where he's living, where he's working, how much he's earning, whom he's seeing.

Student Group Cancels Hiss Swarthmore Talk

A student group at Swarthmore College has withdrawn an invitation to Alger Hiss to speak there.

Hiss had already accepted the invitation to speak tonight in the "Friend's Meeting House" on the campus. He was to talk on "The Meaning of Geneva." The invitation was withdrawn several days ago, it was learned.

Hiss was asked to speak by the Swarthmore chapter of Students for Democratic Action, affiliated with Americans for Democratic Action. It was withdrawn on direct orders from the national executive committee of ADA, according to Leon Shull, executive director of the Philadelphia chapter. Hull explained:

"The grounds were that Hiss is a convicted perjurer and in the minds of most people a treasonable person. We are an organization that does not give its platform to such a person."

It would have been Hiss' first public speech since he was released from the Federal Penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., on Nov. 27, 1955. The former State Department official served three-and-a-half years of a five-year sentence. He was convicted of perjury in denying he gave secret documents to Whittaker Chambers, admitted former courier for a Russian Communist spy ring.

ADA Forces Students To Cancel Hiss Speech

The national executive committee of Americans for Democratic Action has forced its Swarthmore College affiliate, Students for Democratic Action, to cancel a scheduled speech by Alger Hiss "a convicted perjurer and in the minds of most people a treasonable person."

Hiss, former State Department official who was released from Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary Nov. 27, 1954, after serving three and a half years in the Whittaker Chambers Red spy case, was scheduled to speak at a meeting on the campus tonight.

FIRST SINCE RELEASE

This was to have been Hiss' first public address since his release from prison. His subject was listed as "The Meaning of Geneva."

When the SDA invitation was withdrawn last weekend, another Swarthmore campus group, Forum for Free Speech, asked Hiss to appear under its auspices, but he declined. A student publication said Hiss explained "he didn't need any organization for free speech to sponsor him since he has plenty of opportunity to speak."

UNANIMOUS ACTION

Leon Shull, Philadelphia executive director of ADA and a member of the national executive committee, said the order to cancel Hiss came from national headquarters. He said the vote to rescind the invitation was unanimous.

Shull said "the grounds were that Mr. Hiss is a convicted perjurer and in the minds of most people a treasonable person. We are an organization that does not give its platform to such a person."

Joseph Shane, Swarthmore vice president, said the Hiss speech was scheduled by a student body, not by the college—and the cancellation was ordered outside of the college organization.

RELIES ON STUDENTS

He said there was no student reaction one way or the other. He said Swarthmore students were not a group that would "buy wooden nickels," and they were intelligent enough to measure a speech for what it was worth.

Shull said the national committee objected to the Hiss speech because "we felt in giving him a forum or platform we questioned whether he was guilty. We don't. We feel he was convicted fairly. We wouldn't invite convicted gangsters and dope peddler to address us. We don't see why we should invite a convicted traitor."

INTERNAL PROBLEM

The invitation was withdrawn in two special delivery letters sent to Hiss last week end by Alex Shakow, sophomore and head of the SDA at Swarthmore. Shakow told Hiss "an internal organization problem" forced the cancellation.

Immediately Jeffrey Schlanger, head of the Forum for Free Speech, offered Hiss a platform but just as quickly came back a rejection. Hiss had been barred by conditions of his parole from making public speeches until last September. A gall bladder operation extended his silence. Since then, he explained, he has been available as a speaker.

Hiss, who went to prison for denying he had passed secret documents to Chambers, an admitted former Red courier, was to have collected only expenses for his Swarthmore appearance.

Princeton Talk By Hiss Cleared

University Called Choice 'Unwise'

Princeton, April 10 — The Princeton University administration last night cleared the way for Alger Hiss to speak on the university campus April 26.

It will be Hiss' first public speech since the 50-year-old former State Department official was released from the Federal Penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., on November 27, 1954, after serving three and a half years of a five-year sentence on perjury charges.

Hiss, whose scheduled appearance on the Swarthmore College campus was canceled in February, was invited to Princeton by a student debating society.

Dr. Harold W. Dodds, university president, made it clear he did not approve of the society's choice of speakers, but indicated there would be no action by the administration to prevent Hiss from speaking.

Issues Statement

He issued this statement: "The American Whig-Cliosophic Society on its own initiative has invited Alger Hiss to attend and address a meeting.

"Although the university administration some weeks ago warned the officers of the society of the implications of an invitation to a convicted perjurer, we think it unwise to take the responsibility for decision out of the hands of the students' organization."

The invitation was extended to Hiss by Bruce D. Briggold, 20, president of the society and a junior from Sioux Falls, S. D. Briggold said he had advised the university of the society's intention and "there was some disfavor" shown. They certainly showed discouragement toward the idea," he added.

Briggold, who has never heard Hiss speak, said the idea to bring the controversial figures to the campus developed after the incident on the Swarthmore campus.

"While we do not approve of Hiss' record, we feel that his case and career are still an issue and that his views would be of interest to the faculty and student body," Briggold said. "We intend to go through with the program."

Hiss will speak on the subject, "The Meaning of Geneva," in Whig Hall auditorium at 8 P. M. The subject is the same he had prepared for the Swarthmore College chapter of Students for Democratic Action, a student group affiliated with Americans for Democratic Action. The parent group forced the withdrawal of the invitation.

Reached in New York, Hiss was circumspect.

"I got an invitation to come down there to speak on a subject that I'm very much interested in and I accepted," he said.

Asked if he had had many invitations in the past several months, Hiss answered he would rather not comment. Then, he added: "I'm not running a speaker's bureau; you know."

He said any future talks would "depend on the situation" and on the outcome of the Princeton engagement.

Briggold said the society will pay Hiss' traveling expenses plus $50 or $100. He said both are "customary."

University authorities said reaction to the invitation by alumni "has been slight." But other sources said both the university and the debating society had received a number of calls objecting to Hiss as a speaker.

Hiss was convicted of perjury in denying he gave secret documents to Whitaker Chambers, admitted former courier for a Russian spy ring.

Hiss Invitation Stirs Protests

U. S. Official Opposes Talk at Princeton

Princeton, April 11—Assistant Secretary of State for European Affairs Livingston T. Merchant has protested an invitation to Alger Hiss to speak on the Princeton University campus April 26, it was disclosed today.

Hiss, 51, former State Department official who was released 16 months ago from the Federal Penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., was invited to speak by the American Whig-Closophic Society, a campus debating club.

Disclosure of the invitation has brought a flood of letters, telegrams and telephone calls pouring into the office of Dr. Harold W. Dodds, university president. He declined to disclose their tenor.

Urges Reconsideration

Merchant, a 1926 graduate and a member of the debating society while an undergraduate, addressed his protest to Bruce D. Bringgold, president of the society.

"I cannot believe that his views would be of general interest to the faculty and student body," Merchant said. "And I am certain that his appearance under your auspices would do lasting and irreparable damage to Princeton."

"I urge in strongest terms, reconsider the invitation."

Calls It 'Unfortunate'

On Monday, the university administration issued a statement frowning on the society's choice of speaker, but, in effect, clearing the way for Hiss to address the students on campus.

"I can't imagine how the university authorities could possibly have approved it," said Carlton Springer, Proctor, Bronxville, N. Y., an alumni trustee. "I think it's unfortunate."

Proctor said he had received at least a dozen calls from other alumni "who are highly incensed."

He stressed they did not blame the university but a small group of undergraduates who want to call public attention to the debating society.

In Philadelphia, Richard K. Stevens, alumni trustee and former president of the National Alumni Association, took an informal poll at the Princeton Club.

No Fireworks Expected

The consensus is that it's wrong, unfortunate and unhappy and that the undergraduates didn't think it through," he said.

John Bishop, 6th, an attorney of Radnor, past president of the alumni association in Philadelphia, said, "I would not personally have invited him."

Hiss will be speaking for the first time since he was released from prison after serving three and a half years of a five-year sentence for perjury in denying he gave secret documents to Whittaker Chambers, admitted former courier for a Russian spy apparatus.

Putney School, Putney, Vermont on January 26, 1956, to visit their son, a student at the Putney School. They remained there until January 29, 1956, at which time they returned to their home in New York City. While in Putney on January 26, 1956, HISS and his wife attended a church supper but the source did not name the place where the supper was held.

On February 19, 1956, ⁱⁿ the "New York Inquirer", a column appeared indicating that HISS was seriously ill at his residence and that his wife was forced to resign her position at Doubleday Doran Book Store in order to nurse him.

On March 1, 1956, confidential informant T-2, who was in a position to know, advised that this report concerning HISS' health was untrue and that his wife was still employed at Doubleday and that HISS was engaged full time at his residence in preparing his book. T-2 did not know the date of the book's release nor the subject matter that would be treated in it.

On February 29, 1956, confidential informant T-3, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that HISS had been in contact with one JEFFERY SCHLANGER of Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, on February 28, 1956.

On March 1, 1956, all of the Metropolitan newspapers carried items to the effect that an invitation to ALGER HISS to speak on the "Meaning of Geneva" at Swarthmore College had been withdrawn.

The "New York Post" quoted ALEX SHAKOW, of Swarthmore College as saying that he wrote that the invitation to speak had been withdrawn because of an "internal organization problem". He gave no further details.

NY 105-10101

On April 7, 1956, the "New York Times", in an article dated "Princeton, New Jersey" indicated that HISS was to speak on the Princeton University campus April 26, 1956. His talk was to be under the sponsorship of the American Whig-Cliosophic Society. The title of his talk would be "The Meaning of Geneva". He would relate the meaning of last summers summit meeting at Geneva in relation to the Yalta Conference.

This article indicated that the American Whig-Cliosophic Society, the oldest undergraduate political and literary society in the country, is sponsoring a series of speeches this spring. The article went on to state that one BRUCE BERINGGOLD, President of the organization, had stated that "while the society does not approve of Mr. Hiss' record, we feel that his career is still an issue and that his views would be of general interest to the faculty and student body".

On March 22, 1956, confidential informant T-4, who was in a position to furnish reliable information concerning HISS, advised that HISS is about one-third finished with a book that he is writing. This source stated that the book begins when HISS was called to testify before a Congressional Committee in August, 1948, and that the major theme of the book is the "Inconclusiveness of the Evidence" against HISS. T-4 further stated that HISS is using as a guide and reference for this work, a book written by Lord LOWITT, entitled, "The Strange Case Of Alger Hiss". He said that HISS and his publishers were trying to print during the fall of 1956. T-4 concluded by stating that for the present time, HISS is subsisting on contributions which he receives in the mail. He could not elaborate further on this statement.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : SAC (80-239)

DATE: 4/4/56

FROM : ASAC

SUBJECT: PHILIP KLEIN

On the afternoon of 4/3/56, EDWARD A. DAVIES called at the office with regard to the appointment of PHILIP KLEIN as the Executive Director of the Civil Defense Council of Philadelphia. DAVIES stated that he was a major in the first World War and maintained his reserve status. At the outbreak of World War II, he was called to active duty in 1940 and in 1942 was discharged when he failed to pass a physical examination. He was then appointed as G-2 for the state of Pennsylvania in the State Guard by the then Governor MARTIN, he said.

He also said he was vice-president of the Gimbel Broadcasting Company for 20 years and has now retired. He is presently the head of EDWARD A. DAVIES Associates, Radio Television, 1714 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia 3, telephone LO-7-6554.

DAVIES, who refers to himself as Col. DAVIES, said he was instrumental in the establishment of the Long Beach Island Foundation for the Arts and Sciences. The idea behind the establishment of this organization was to have a colony in New Jersey which would attract artists and sculptors similar to those attracted to Cape Cod. He was the first president of this foundation in 1948 and 1949.

One of the first projects of the foundation was to establish a memorial to the war dead of Ocean County, New Jersey. BORIS BLAI, a sculptor, who is dean of the Tyler School of Temple University, was invited to join the foundation because of his connections with the Tyler School and his reputation as a sculptor. BLAI had a son KROUSE (ph.) who was an Army captain stationed at the staging camp, Camp Kilmer, New Jersey, and it was concerning KROUSE BLAI that Col. DAVIES first became aware of a Communist infiltration into the foundation when he was interviewed by agents of the Newark Office about 1948 or 1949. The foundation is at Harvey Cedars, New Jersey.

NATHAN GREGORY SILVERMASTER and LUDWIG ULLMAN both removed to Harvey Cedars after they had been exposed in Washington by ELIZABETH BENTLEY and were ostensibly property builders.

Another Harvey Cedars resident, H. C. PORTNAUF (ph.) had a house at Harvey Cedars which was used as headquarters for ALGER HISS, WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, HARRY DEXTER WHITE, WALTER REMINGTON, SILVERMASTER, ULLMAN, and BLAI.

BLAI was made dean of the foundation and recommended SILVERMASTER and ULLMAN as members of the Board of Directors. This was blocked by DAVIES. DAVIES stated that he has furnished all of this information to the FBI before in greater detail To [unclear] of NK office.

DAVIES said that he has known PHILIP KLEIN for over 20 years since KLEIN is in the advertising business and DAVIES was vice-president of the Gimbels Broadcasting Company. He said that KLEIN has always been an eccentric and was largely regarded as a clown. He said that KLEIN married wealth and it was his recollection that he married into the Buten Paint family. During World War II, KLEIN was in the Merchant Marine and DAVIES would occasionally see him dressed in a black sweater with a huge beard and uncut, uncombed shock of hair. He believes that KLEIN was on the Murmansk run.

After the end of the war, KLEIN bought the Jewish Exponent newspaper in Philadelphia. This was formerly located in the 1900 block on Spruce Street. Thereafter, KLEIN and his wife appeared for about a year on a radio program called "Mr. and Mrs." on Radio Station WPEN. DAVIES said that the remarks became such offensive propaganda that the station finally put them off the air.

According to DAVIES, KLEIN and BLAI were boon companions of the ULLMANS and the SILVERMASTERS.

He also said that another friend of KLEIN's is EGNAL (74) who is counsel for the foundation. It was through KLEIN that EGNAL was made counsel. DAVIES said that there is no question but that SILVERMASTER and ULLMAN actually run the foundation although there is no ostensible connection with it on their part. He said that as an example, KLEIN tried to persuade the Board of Directors to sell 33 acres at Harvey Cedars for building purposes and that of course SILVERMASTER and ULLMAN would have profited as builders had the deal gone through.

DAVIES further said that in support of his conclusion that the entire colony was Communist-dominated that STEVE NELSON had been hiding while underground at Harvey Cedars.

DAVIES also said that the Chief of Police at Harvey Cedars, ART SCHRIZEN (ph.) had entered ULLMAN's home on a fire pretext and found there a complete dark room equipped to handle microfilm. DAVIES believes that SCHRIZEN was later interviewed by Newark agents. He also commented that JOE SEN, a painter, would make an excellent source of information at Harvey Cedars for Newark agents.

On 11/19/56 Mrs. MARGARET ANN MILLER, Fox Road and Foxwood Lane, Middletown Township, Media, Pa., telephone number ME 6-2954, telephonically contacted SA FRANCIS J. GAFFNEY and advised that she was in possession of information indicating possible Communist infiltration of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom (WILPF) and desired to discuss this information with an Agent.

On 11/29/56, Mrs. MILLER was contacted at her residence by SA GAFFNEY and the writer. At the outset of the interview, Mrs. MILLER was advised that the FBI was not investigating the WILPF as an organization but only the Communist infiltration or attempted infiltration of the organization.

Mrs. MILLER stated that her husband, ARTHUR R. MILLER, is employed as chief communications officer of the Atlantic Refining Company. Mrs. MILLER stated that several years ago she became acquainted with MARY ARNOLD, who lives in the vicinity of Media and is a leader among the Quakers in that vicinity and also in the WILPF. Through her association with MARY ARNOLD, she became interested in the WILPF and attended several meetings of that organization. She expressed the belief that MARY ARNOLD may be attempting to train her, Mrs. MILLER, to eventually take over her position of leadership in the WILPF. She said that during the period that she has known MARY ARNOLD, ARNOLD has fostered a number of ideas which she, MILLER, did not believe in, and within the past few weeks upon reflecting on these various ideas she has arrived at the conclusion that they are Communistic in nature. Mrs. MILLER was requested to be more specific concerning these various "Communistic" ideas but could recall no specific examples, other than the fact that MARY ARNOLD appeared to be vitally interested in civil rights matters, discrimination, and other things of a similar nature. From the various examples cited by Mrs. MILLER it appears that the ideas which she felt to be Communistic in nature were in reality socialist.

In addition to the above, Mrs. MILLER stated that several years ago, approximately late 1953, through her association with MARY ARNOLD, she worked at the American Friends Service Committee (AFSC) office, 20 South 12th Street, Philadelphia. During her period of employment at the AFSC office, she heard allegations made by several of her friends that the AFSC had supported ALGER HISS in his trial. Through her employment she knew that the AFSC maintained files on various individuals, and upon searching through these files she located a file for ALGER HISS. Being of a curious nature she removed the HISS file and took it to her home where she and one of her friends read it. She could recall nothing specific from this file other than the fact that the AFSC did actively engage in either soliciting or collecting funds to be used in HISS' defense. As she recalled, the file contained numerous names and amounts which various individuals had contributed for the HISS defense. She also said that this file contained a letter which she believed was addressed to the parole board guaranteeing a position for HISS if he should be released. Following this incident, she went to the Director of the AFSC (whose name she could not recall) and questioned him concerning ALGER HISS and the AFSC connection with the HISS case. Shortly thereafter she was released from her employment, and she believes it was because of the interest she expressed in the HISS case.

Upon completion of the interview, Mrs. MILLER was again advised that neither the WILPF nor the AFSC as organizations were under investigation by the FBI and nothing should be implied to that effect; however, the Bureau is interested in Communist infiltration into these organizations.

Following information appears on pages 31-33:

"In November, 1948, Chambers testified in the pretrial libel depositions in Baltimore that he and his wife had rented a cottage at Smithton, New Jersey, on the Delaware River during the summer of 1935. Mrs. Hiss, he testified, paid them a long visit there. His testimony was backed up by Mrs. Chambers, who said that Mrs. Hiss had stayed with her for ten days to take care of the baby while Mrs. Chambers did 'a little painting along the canal.'

"Mrs. Chambers, however, remained positive. She testified that [redacted] quite frequently."

"Q. He would come in for coffee quite frequently while Mrs. Hiss was there? A. Yes, of course."

"Q. As many as half a dozen times, would you say? A. Well, perhaps."

Little Rock teletype 2-1-49 requested a photograph of Mrs. Chambers be forwarded for exhibition to Mrs. Brown.

Report of SA John C. Welch, Little Rock, dated 2-18-49, covers period 2-16-49. Report shows Mr. Paul B. Brown, Hot Springs, Ark., contacted on 2-16-49, stated his mother, Mrs. Norma B. Brown, returned to Phila., Pa., on 2-19-49. A lead was set out to contact her there.

Report of SA James L. Kirkland, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, dated 3-8-49 covers intermittent period 1-28 to 2-24-49. She was unable to identify the photograph of Mrs. Hiss taken in the 1930's or the more recent photograph of Mrs. Hiss, although she stated that, when these photographs were first exhibited to her at Hot Springs, Arkansas, it was her first impression that these were photographs of Mrs. Breen. She stated that she is quite confident now that this is not the case. Mrs. Brown further stated that she never saw more than one woman at the cottage at Smithtown. Re Bureau airtel to Little Rock 4/3/58 concerning interviews of Mrs. NORMA B. BROWN and PAUL BROWN in 1948 at Hot Springs, Arkansas. Attached hereto are memoranda of SA's JOHN C. WELCH and LEANDER J. MUNCY dated 4/7/58 reflecting that SA WELCH did not interview the BROWNS and that SA MUNCY, who was the resident agent in Hot Springs, has no recollection of interviewing them. The case was assigned to SA WELCH. Former SA REED W. THOMPSON, Little Rock, Arkansas, who was frequently assigned to work at Hot Springs during the season, has a vague recollection of interviewing PAUL BROWN, but has no recollection of interviewing NORMA B. BROWN.

CL
A review of the file reflects SA MUNCY's initials on two serials - one was a teletype from Philadelphia to Little Rock dated 1/21/48 requesting interview of the BROWNS and which stated New York would furnish needed photographs. The other serial was a letter from New York to the Bureau with copy to Little Rock dated 1/21/48 transmitting photographs of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and ALGER HISS for display to the BROWNS. The initials of former SA REED W. THOMPSON appear on one serial, which was a teletype from New York to Little Rock dated 2/14/48 requesting Little Rock to show photographs to Mrs. NORMA B. BROWN and PAUL BROWN.

It is pointed out that January through March is the busiest season at Hot Springs and during the pertinent period SA's from Little Rock were assigned to Hot Springs to assist the resident agent. Under this practice it would have been possible for an agent so assigned to have covered this lead. Also, because of the urgency of the situation a Special Agent at Little Rock may have been dispatched to Hot Springs with the photographs, and the interviews conducted by him.

No records are available in the Little Rock Office which would show the identity of the Special Agent or Special Agents who actually conducted the interviews with the BROWNS.

Little Rock teletype to the Bureau, dated January 31, 1949, reflects NORMA B. BROWN was interviewed on that date or a prior date at which time she was shown photographs of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and ALGER HISS. Little Rock teletype to the Bureau, dated February 1, 1949, reflects interview of Mrs. BROWN, presumably on that date, at which time she was shown photograph of PRISCILLA HISS. This interview of Mrs. BROWN was made because the photograph of PRISCILLA HISS was not available at the time of the first interview. A photograph of Mrs. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS was never exhibited to Mrs. BROWN by the Little Rock Office for the reason that a photograph of Mrs. CHAMBERS was not available until after Mrs. BROWN had left the Little Rock Division. Upon the receipt of the photograph of Mrs. CHAMBERS it was forwarded to Philadelphia Office to be exhibited to Mrs. BROWN.

Hiss, Wife Separate; No Court Action Seen

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP).—Alger Hiss and the wife who stood by him through his two perjury trials have separated. Friends said today they knew of no legal action in the offing.

Mrs. Priscilla Hiss was beside her husband throughout the trials that ended in 1950. He was convicted of lying when he denied stealing government secrets for a Soviet spy ring.

She was waiting at the gate of Lewisburg, Pa., Federal Penitentiary in 1954 when the former State Department official was released after serving 44 months.

Neither Hiss, 54, nor his wife, about the same age, would discuss the separation. Friends said Hiss had moved out of their E. 8th st. apartment. He now works for a comb manufacturing firm.

Cause of the breakup of the 29-year marriage was not disclosed. The Hisses have a son, Anthony, 17. Mrs. Hiss has a son also by previous marriage, Timothy, 30.

Hiss Passport OK'd by U. S. for European Tour

WASHINGTON, April 8 (UPI).

The State Department said today it has decided to grant a passport for a European trip to Alger Hiss, one-time high department official convicted of perjury in the famous "pumpkin papers" Communist spy case.

Department spokesman Lincoln White said Hiss had applied for a passport for travel in England, France, Holland and possibly other western European countries.

"We have decided to grant the passport," White said.

PASSED SECRET PAPERS

Hiss, who rose to high rank during 11 years in the department, was convicted of perjury in 1950 for denying to a grand jury that he ever slipped secret information to Whittaker Chambers, confessed courier for a pre-Second World War Communist spy ring.

Chambers gave the bizarre case its name by hiding the evidence that convicted Hiss in a scooped-out pumpkin on his Maryland farm. Vice President Richard M. Nixon, then a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, had a part in cracking the case.

Hiss later served almost four years in the Lewisburg (Pa.) Federal Penitentiary. He was released in 1954. He has steadfastly maintained he was innocent of any crime.

DECLINED TO COMMENT

White declined to comment when asked if there had been any thought of denying a passport to Hiss, now a 54-year-old special assistant to the president of Feathercombs, Inc., manufacturers of women's combs and bobby pins.

But other officials said that under the law, the department had no grounds for denying him a passport. The Supreme Court has ruled that political affiliations cannot be used as a reason for denying a citizen a passport.

White said Hiss' passport would be the same as those granted to other American citizens. It presumably would permit him to travel behind the Iron Curtain if he should decide to do so later.

On 11/23/59, [redacted] who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished SA JEREMIAH W. The minutes reflect that those present were [redacted] who presided. The first names in parenthesis of the above individuals were furnished orally by [redacted]

b7D

The minutes reflect that Dr. SCOTT arranged for Dr. DERKE STRUIK to speak to the Association on Tuesday, 11/17(59), in the Physical Science Building, at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. SCOTT and Dr. RUTMAN were to prepare a mimeographed announcement of this affair to be sent to all members of the Association as well as to interested scientists, and posters announcing the affairs were to be placed in various buildings at the University of Pennsylvania. According to the minutes, Dr. SCOTT would try to secure Dr. PHILLIP GEORGE as chairman of the meeting.

The minutes further reflected that Dr. SCOTT announced that Mr. NURY of the Board of Education Science Program for Elementary Schools had offered to speak to the group on 12/1/59.

According to the minutes, Dr. RUTMAN was to contact Mr. THEODORE ROSEBURY regarding the possibility of ROSEBURY's being in Philadelphia sometime in the Spring (1960) to report on the Pugwash Conference.

A discussion was also held around the topic "What Are The Steps Which Should Be Taken Toward Disarmament?"

Under the caption, "Treasurer's Report" the minutes noted that in the absence of Dr. (SARAH) KAPLAN, Philadelphia Branch Treasurer, WINSTON reported that there was approximately $50.00 left in the treasury and that some efforts must be made towards raising funds. The Committee felt that funds might be raised by asking prominent speakers to meet with a small group in a home and charge an admission fee. Dr. RUTMAN was to check on the possibility of Dr. PAUL BARAN's availability for such a meeting.

Under the caption, "Newsletter" the minutes reflected that RUTMAN reported that material was ready, and that only two articles were still to be prepared, one on the Warsaw Conference and the other on the program for meeting at the AAAS convention.

The newsletter will run to six pages and a copy of Science World will accompany it. Monies will be forthcoming from the National Office, the New York Chapter and the Philadelphia Chapter in order to pay for the newsletter.

Under the caption, "National Affairs," the minutes reflected that RUTMAN announced that Dr. WARD PIGMAN would be the new representative from the AAScW at the AAAS (American Association for the Advancement of Science) Council. Alger Hiss Still A Major Enigma

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Today, Alger Hiss is a stationery salesman making $75 a week. He lives at a water-front address in Manhattan in a third-floor walk-up. The place looks like the kind of hide-out that Whittaker Chambers would have picked in his darker days. For Hiss, it is no hide-out; it is all he can afford.

The mystery of the Alger Hiss personality is examined in an article in a national magazine. It is a perusal of character alone without an attempt to raise again the question of guilt or innocence which has been battled over hundreds of times and in thousands of words in the decade since the last perjury trial.

Hiss himself never speaks of The Case, and his silence is puzzling and sometimes infuriating to both his friends and his enemies. The detached attitude that he has toward this decisive event of his life has kept Alger Hiss a public mystery since his release from the Lewisburg federal prison seven years ago.

According to the magazine, he has become the non-hero of his own cause. He has conspicuously refused any martyrdom that would satisfy one camp, and obviously ignored the challenge to "come clean" that would satisfy the other.

Perhaps the key to this unusual attitude is the Hiss Legal mind. His book, "In the Court of Public Opinion," did little to help his cause because it was written like a lawyer's brief. When people ask him, "Did you or didn't you?" he answers, "Read my book." Then they go away and come back later to say, "I give up. I don't care whether you are guilty or not. I can't read the book."

TV Program With Alger Hiss Is Killed Here

Walter H. Annenberg, president of Triangle Publications, Inc., last night ordered two television stations owned by the firm not to show a special program with Alger Hiss as a guest.

The program, to be carried tonight at 10.30 on the American Broadcasting Co.'s television network, is entitled "Political Obituary of Richard Nixon." It will be hosted by Howard K. Smith, ABC news analyst.

Annenberg said stations WFIL-TV, here, and WNHC-TV in New Haven, Conn., will not carry the program because:

"I cannot see that any useful purpose would be served in permitting a convicted treasonable spy to comment about a distinguished American."

Hiss, a former U. S. State Department aid, was convicted of perjury following a congressional probe into his alleged Communist ties. Nixon led the probe.

ALGERIA HISS SCHEDULED TO VISIT
ANDERS OMHOLT, BUCKS COUNTY, PA.,
APRIL 27-28, 1963

A confidential source on April 19, 1963, advised that on April 17, 1963, ANDERS "ANDY" OMHOLT mentioned that ALGERIA HISS was scheduled to spend the weekend of April 27-28, 1963, at OMHOLT's farm, RD #4, Quakertown, Pa. OMHOLT's only explanation for this visit was a comment that HISS is a "family friend."

The source has no knowledge at this time as to whether THOMAS HARRIED, FRANCES GABOW and other Communist Party (CP) district leaders will also be present at OMHOLT's over the weekend of the HISS visit. The source added, however, that both HARRIED and GABOW spend weekends relaxing at OMHOLT's home which is located in the country.

The confidential source also advised as follows on April 19, 1963:

OMHOLT is a current member of the Communist Party of Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware (CPEPD). During the past year district CP leaders and rank and file CP members, CPEPD, have been utilizing OMHOLT's residence as a weekend recreational site and as a place for some weekend meetings. During May 1962, OMHOLT's residence was utilized for CPEPD leadership cadre training classes utilizing an instructor furnished by the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA) National Office. OMHOLT participated in these classes.

Hiss, in Harrisburg, helps take bites at U.S. policy on China

By CAL TURNER

Evening News Staff Writer

Turning back the pages of time, the Harrisburg Defense Committee last night ushered Alger Hiss and William Hinton to the front of the sanctuary of the Augsburg Lutheran Church to acquaint about 400 young anti-war activists with well-chronicled trials and tribulations of another era.

If applause was an indication, then the audience cared.

Hiss and Hinton and a pretty South Vietnamese woman, Ce Anh Tu, took caustic looks and bites out of America's China policy of the last 20 years.

Hiss, convicted in 1950 on two charges of perjury for denying he had passed secret State Department papers to Whittaker Chambers, a confessed former Communist agent, he still, after serving a five-year prison sentence, maintains his innocence.

Now a senior citizen, Hiss, still a picture of urbanity, the pipe-smoking contemplative man, said, "Many of the moments of feeling and aspirations are familiar to me from another day." A gaunt man of stern demeanor with a bridgework of eyebrows, he, last night, was to symbolize the "repression and oppression of the 1940s and 50s."

He said the "purge" of the State Department during that time "deprived a large number of talents apart in the making of U.S. foreign policy." He, of course, was supposedly one of those talents. It happened during what has been described as "the MacCarthy witchhunt era," and prominent in the ball game was Richard M. Nixon, then a freshman congressman. Particularly, where Hiss was concerned.

Introduced by Egbal Ahmad, a Pakistani scholar and a defendant in the conspiracy trial at the Federal Building, as "a living reminder of courage in the face of oppression and repression," Hiss apparently decided to let things go at that. He didn't say much and when called on relied more heavily on wit than memoirs. Such as:

"I did not come here either to praise or bury Nixon."

He, in more pertinent moments, said he had told students that "nothing good" could happen to this country until the war is over, and that there "is an affinity between Mr. Douglas (Boyd Douglas, the FBI informer in the Harrisburg 7 trial) and Chambers."

Hinton was a different cup of tea. An author and an "old China hand," he said America had long tried to put the screws to the Chinese Revolution, but Nixon, after "making a career of an anti-China policy," found it could not be done.

With craggy features and a shock of gray hair and a shirt opened at the collar, he conveyed something of a shirtsleeves disposition.

"The American people," he said, "were interested in the Chinese revolution in 1954, but their government didn't want them to become interested in it."

He said that Nixon's visit to China indicated that he (Nixon) had scuttled his China policy and "it's a victory for the Chinese."

"America has changed its policy now," he said. "The Chinese have always been willing to sit down and talk."

Miss Ce Anh Tu took out after the U.S. "Vietnamization policy." A researcher in a group delving into "the military-industrial complex in the U.S.," she said "Vietnamization is indirect intervention. The American people object to direct intervention, but not to indirect intervention."

Owen Lattimore, Orientalist and former State Department figure, didn't show. He is in London on business.

In a word: It was like watching an old, late, late show. Yes, it stirred memories.

Hiss Hopes Transcripts May Lead to Exoneration

New York — (UPI) — Alger Hiss, the former State Department official who was convicted in 1950 of perjury in denying he had ever given department secrets to the Russians, says that he hopes a portion of the Nixon transcripts would help spur full disclosure of FBI files on the Hiss case.

Hiss said the Nixon claim to have located an old Woodstock typewriter vital to the Hiss prosecution, while Mr. Nixon was conducting a House Un-American Activities Committee investigation of the case, might help open the way to his eventual exoneration.

"I said at my sentencing that some day we would know how I was convicted by forgery by typewriter," Hiss said. "I think that we were allowed to find a typewriter which was not mine."

Hiss, who lives in New York, was interviewed by telephone in Baltimore, where he had gone to deliver a Johns Hopkins University lecture last night. Testimony at the Hiss trials of 1949 and 1950 was that the defense found the typewriter in a Washington junkyard.

Nixon's Remarks

The Nixon transcripts of his Feb. 28, 1973, talks with John W. Dean, 3d, then White House counsel, quote Mr. Nixon as saying about his 1948 investigation:

"We then got the evidence. We got the typewriter, we got the pumpkin papers. We got all that ourselves. The FBI did not cooperate. The Justice Department did not cooperate."

The typewriter was entered as a defense exhibit at both trials — the first trial ended in a hung jury — but was used by the government to show it had been used to type copies of the secret documents. Whittaker Chambers, a former Communist underground worker, testified Hiss had given him the copies for delivery to the underground.

Both Hiss and his supporters have claimed that the typewriter which the defense found and turned over to the prosecution for FBI experts to run type comparison tests was planted as a "decoy" and was not in fact the woodstock that had belonged to Hiss's wife.

Look At The Files

"I hope this (transcript conversation) will be further impetus to the ACLU suit to have access granted to the FBI files," Hiss said, adding that the American Civil Liberties Union had brought a suit on the day after the 1972 presidential election on behalf of a history professor, Allan Weinstein, to let him see its Hiss files.

Hiss said that last August the attorney general issued an order that the Justice Department should make available files more than 20 years old. Hiss said he had heard that to date Weinstein has gotten "120 pieces of paper (on the Hiss case) out of a total that the FBI says is 3,000."

Queried Friday about the typewriter and the Nixon assertion, Harold Shapiro, a Hiss attorney at the first trial, said he and Edward C. McLean, another Hiss attorney who became a federal judge and is now dead, had gone to Washington and found a man who traced the trail of the typewriter to the junkyard man.

Hiss said he still had the Woodstock in a lockbox.

FBI Tapped Hiss Long Before Accusation

By RONALD J. OSTROW
Los Angeles Times Service

WASHINGTON — The FBI kept Alger Hiss under electronic surveillance for nearly two years while he was a State Department official, well before he was accused in 1948 House hearings of being a Communist, documents recently released disclose.

The electronic eavesdropping, combined with physical surveillance produced "no indication of any kind that Alger Hiss was acquainted with or had knowledge of Whittaker Chambers," his chief accuser, an FBI summary reported.

The FBI documents, which were released Tuesday, were the first official corroboration of Hiss' claim that he has been the subject of lengthy wiretapping. Hiss is trying to reverse his 1950 perjury conviction for denying that he had passed government documents to Chambers, an admitted Communist courier.

Allen Weinstein, a history professor at Smith College who brought suit to force the government to release the documents, said one could draw no "firm conclusions" about the case on the basis of the 350 pages of documents.

"There's no smoking gun here," Weinstein said. "Neither is there any exculpatory document. I want to see all the remaining material before I come to any firm conclusions."

Acknowledgement of the wiretapping came in an Aug. 31, 1948, internal FBI memorandum to Director J. Edgar Hoover. The memorandum sought to explain why the FBI had not established Hiss' association with Chambers, which was disclosed by the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Allegations Made

The memorandum noted that the FBI began one investigation of Hiss on Nov. 30, 1945, in response to allegations by Elizabeth Bentley, a former Communist informant for the FBI.

"The usual investigative techniques, including physical surveillance and technical surveillances, were pursued until Alger Hiss and his family left Washington, D. C., for New York City on Sept. 13, 1947," the memorandum stated.

(Hiss left his State Department post, where he directed the office responsible for proposing the United States' United Nations policies, to become president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.)

The term "technical surveillances" has long been used in FBI memorandums to refer to wiretaps or bugs.

Hiss explained his basis for believing that he had been wiretapped in his book "In the Court of Public Opinion," published after he served 44 months in prison.

One Conversation

He wrote that an FBI agent, seeking support for Chambers' charges, had told William Marbury, my Baltimore attorney, that the bureau had five drawers of transcripts of my telephone conversations for years.

taken without my knowledge. This disclosure carried the plain implication that the wiretapping failed to support Chambers.

Marbury, in an interview, said he could recall having only one conversation with an FBI agent regarding Hiss and that Hiss had been present. He said he had no independent recollection of the agent's discussing the wiretap, but noted that nearly 30 years had passed.

Weinstein said the FBI reference to the wiretapping dealt only with whether Hiss was acquainted with or had knowledge of Chambers from 1945 to 1947 -- several years after both men said they broke off contact.

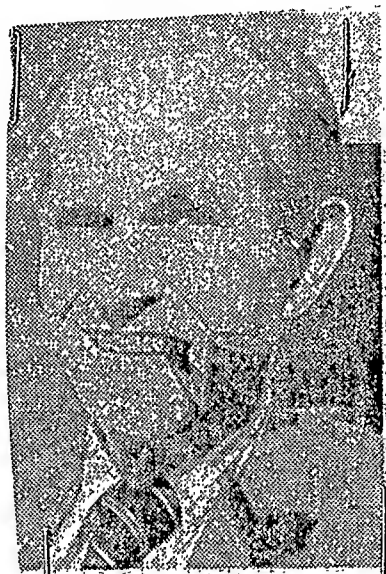

The documents released Tuesday did not indicate whether the FBI had conducted subsequent electronic surveillance of Hiss, wiretapping that could be claimed to have tainted his conviction.

Weinstein said the material included the first release of FBI interviews with admitted Communist spies who told of receiving documents from Chambers.

This provided strength for the validity of Chambers' statement that he was a major courier for the Communist underground, an assertion that some Hiss supporters have termed a fabrication, Weinstein said.

The documents also included "an enormous amount of material on the search for the (Hiss) typewriter," a key element in the prosecution's case, Weinstein said. If, as some critics have alleged, the typewriter evidence was concocted, "The FBI sure wasted a lot of time chasing around the country," he said.
